Bogalusa's Bonds Issue Is Furthered.

Bogalusa, La., June 25.—At a meeting of the city council Wednesday afternoon, with representative business men, ten were appointed as a committee to meet with council and submit about August 1st, at a mass meeting, the proposition of voting $200,000 bonds for the purchase of the waterworks and sewerage system, at present owned and operated by the Great Southern Lumber Company. The bonds also are for the building of new schools, purchase of present schools, and erection of a modern city hall and jail, and the graveling of the streets.

The business men's committee is composed of: E. L. Middleton, M. Marx, W. G. Dorsey, J. A. Spekenheir, H. E. Baumgarten, John McNeese, E. Berenson, G. H. Wilcox, Prof. Peters and Z. A. Davis.

The committee will meet at the school at 4 p. m., July 9, and at 5 p. m., the same day, they will meet the committee council.

A meeting of the women of Bogalusa will be held at the Y. M. C. A. tomorrow to formulate plans for the baby show of the annual Fourth of July celebration.

Great Northern employes left for their annual excursion for Mandeville Friday. A special train was chartered and between 800 and 1000 people made the trip.

Ed Cassidy who served the people of Bogalusa so efficiently as their first chief of Police, resigned his office last week to give his attention to other work, and was succeeded by Otto Stratman who was duly appointed Wednesday. Mr. Stratman is at present a candidate for sheriff of Washington Parish and it is not known here whether he will withdraw from the race now or whether his appointment as chief of Police of the City of Bogalusa is just to fill the unexpired term of the present chief.

To The Voters of Washington Parish.

Prompted by my own desires and the expressed wishes of a number of my friends, who have kindly tendered me their support, I now announce to the voters of Washington Parish my candidacy for delegate to the Constitutional Convention. In making this announcement I realize that I aspire to a high office and one of great responsibility. Framing the constitution, for a great state, is a serious matter, as in it are embedded the basic principles that secure to a people personal freedom and the right to enjoy the fruits of their labor in security, and is the mud-sill upon which our happiness, prosperity, and protection is built. I feel that my experience in legal and business affairs will enable me to safeguard the interests of the people of the Parish and State.

There is certain to be a number of subjects considered by this convention, the correct solution of which is of vital interest to the people of the state. The question of taxation will, in all probability, over-shadow them all. I shall consistently oppose increasing the burden of taxation and favor such laws as will distribute this burden among all classes of people according to their wealth. I also believe in eliminating every unnecessary office. I have always believed and now believe that there are too many political parasites who enriched themselves at the expense of the taxpayer and whose work—if we may call it such—is utterly useless to the State. I am deeply interested in the welfare of our public schools, I have for several years been identified with school work, and believe that their efficiency should be constantly improved upon.

I have never sought an office before, and I do so now with no thought of personal gain as the remuneration is too small to admit of any financial consideration.

I earnestly solicit the support of every voter in the Parish, and if elected, pledge my very best effort to serve the people of the Parish and State faithfully and honestly.

Respectfully,
Magee W. Ott.

Boy Shot In Melon Patch Trap, Is Dying.

With the sight of both eyes completely gone, Sylvester Fernandez 14-year-old Bay St. Louis, Miss., boy, continues his almost hopeless fight against death in the Charity Hospital. At a late hour Saturday night, Fernandez was said to be resting easy. The hospital physicians are making a valiant effort to save his life. He is in a comatose condition the greater part of the time.

The boy was a victim of a trap-gun set by John W. Watts in his water-melon patch just outside of Bay St. Louis. The trap was arranged, so Watts figured, to send the load of shot into the legs of the thieves. The boy entered the melon patch at eleven o'clock Friday night and brushed against a wire stretched on the field. The explosion awakened Watts, who believed that the report of the gun merely frightened off the intruder.

It was only after a search that Watts found the boy.

Watts has not been arrested. Before buying, your next flower see Burris Bros. Ltd. and get advantage of the war time price.

Waverley Notes.

The spacious east porch of the Cottage Hotel last Saturday evening was the scene of the gayest meeting the Waverley Club has ever held.

The beautiful decorations of bright pink crepe myrtle and ferns, the shaded secluded corner of the hotel and the charming hostess, Mrs. J. D. Kerr, all lent an atmosphere of perfect peace and happiness to the occasion.

Before the formal opening of the meeting Mr. Minckler played some old time songs on the zither.

In the absence of the president the meeting was called to order by the vice-president, Mrs. Ada Babington. Just the briefest possible business session followed, when the evening was turned over to the hostess, who required each one present to relate the most amusing experience of her life. All told something that brought forth peals of laughter but especial mention might be made of Mrs. Dunn's and Mrs. Kerr's, the latter received the highest number of votes, but preferred to let the girls draw for prizes. Claudie Hood received first prize a lovely pair of white silk hose and Bessie Burris second, a bottle of blackberry nectar of the hostess' own make which fact will make it highly commendable from the delicious refreshments that followed: A variety of sandwiches, chicken, pimentof tongue and olives, with delicious pink and white mints and salted almonds, all served from a table beautifully decorated in pink and white the color scheme. All the members except four were present, and there were seven guests: Mesdames J. N. Magee, W. P. Minckler, O. E. Simmons, H. D. Bickham and Misses Nelia Dobson, Bessie Burris and Claudie Hood, the three latter becoming members of the Club.

The Club will meet next Saturday with Mrs. W. F. Simmons.

Frank Out Of Mob Reach As Fate Is Decided.

Atlanta, Ga., June 21.—Leo M. Frank's death sentence was commuted to life imprisonment today by Gov. Slaton.

Announcement of the Governor's decision came several hours after Frank had been secretly taken from the jail here and hurried to the State prison farm at Milledgeville. Frank was sentenced to be hanged here tomorrow for the murder of Mary Phagan in April 1913.

Gov. Slaton still was at his country home when he announced his decision on the case over the telephone to the Associated Press. In making this announcement the Governor dictated the following brief statement.

"All that I ask is that the people of Georgia read my statement of the reasons why I commuted Leo M. Frank's death sentence to life imprisonment before they pass judgement.

"Feeling, as I do about this case I would be a murderer if I allowed this man to hang. It may mean that I must live in obscurity the rest of my days, but I would rather be plowing in the field than to feel for the rest of my life that I had that man's blood on my hands."

Gov. Slaton was completing a long statement giving his reasons for his action, and this, he said, would be made public later.

Although crowds on the streets discussing the Frank case did not appear so excited, as the day wore on, the police ordered all near-beer saloons closed shortly before 11 o'clock and an extra 100 policemen were put on duty. Orders were issued to immediately arrest anyone attempting to incite violence.

Frank was dressed in stripes when he reached the State farm. He was numbered "965." Frank said the day was not distant when he would be exonerated.

Right Filling of Prescriptions

Not Honesty Alone—Not Skill Alone—

But both of these, and two more—PURE, FRESH, FULL STRENGTH DRUGS, and INFINITE, PATIENT, EXACT CARE—these are the four essential things that enter into right compounding prescriptions. Every ingredient he specified must be measured and checked with conscientious painstaking care—to provide against possible error—Must be of full purity, freshness and strength, and must put in their proper order by the proper method—which also often requires no small amount of skill.

The Giving of Prescriptions

Requires care and accuracy, either in overdose or an underdose frequently does great harm. You can't be too careful in giving medicine.

We want the prescriptions your doctor writes to be measured by you as exactly as they were filled by us. Therefore, all during this month to every person for whom we fill prescriptions we are going to give a silver-plated

Ligget's Medicine Spoon Free

You will find splendid use for it, insures that accuracy in giving medicine that may sometimes mean the difference between life and death. It is the only spoon that measures either a half-teaspoonful or a spoonful—that can't slip out of the hand—that can be held firm while pouring into it—that will set level and firm on a flat surface.

Don't forget to ask for one of these handsome, useful, medicine spoons—one entirely free to every person who has a prescription filled here this month.
