Cattle To Take The Place Of Cotton.

Mr. Fred Jones, Secretary of the Sumpter County, Alabama, Livestock Association, in a letter to his local paper, "Our Southern Home," shows that cattle may be made to take the place of cotton. He states that in 20 days $45,000 of cattle money had passed thru the banks of the town of Livingston, three-year-old steers selling for an average of $64 a head, two-year-olds for $52 per head, and calves under a year old for $40 each. One train load of eight cars consisted of high grade Hereford, Angus and Shorthorn steers weighing from 900 pound to 1,410 pounds.

He closes his article with the following pertinent question which all farmers in the sections recently infested with boll weevils should consider carefully before answering in their farming operations:

"Can we afford to attempt to grow one bale of cotton worth $50 on ten acres of land, when we can grow ten steers worth $500 on the same land? The farmers of Sumpter County have tried the first—now let them get pure-bred beef bulls and good native cows and try the latter."

As throwing light on the situation in Sumpter County, and the same applies to the other counties recently infested that are in the southern half of the Cotton Belt, the following ginning report, obtained by the Government is significant: "The Government ginning report shows 812 bales ginned in Sumpter County up to October 18, Up to the same date last year, 1915, the number was 2,816 bale"—The Progressive Farmer.

We take pleasure in announcing that any of our readers can secure a pretty 1917 pocket diary, free of charge by sending the postage therefore, two cents, in stamps to D. Swift & Co., Patent Lawyers, Washington, D. C. The diary is a gold mine of useful information, contains the popular and electoral vote received by Wilson and Hughes from each state in 1916, and also by Wilson, Roosevelt and Taft in 1912; states the amount of the principal crops produced in each state in 1916; gives the census population of each state in 1890, 1900 and 1910, the population of 600 of the largest cities in the United States, a synopsis of business laws, patent laws, household recipes and much other useful information. The diary would cost you 25c at a book store. For three cents in stamps we will send a nice wall calendar size 10x11 inches. Send five one cent stamps and get the diary and calendar.

STRAYED—From my farm four miles north of Franklinton, about May 15th, one light bay or mouse colored horse mule colt; one and one-half years old, and branded with letter P. on left shoulder; small to its age. Finder will be liberally rewarded.
