Hello, dear editor and Enterprise! Here I am once more.

How are you all this gloomy weather, which certainly is bad out in this section of the world. Cotton has been nearly all picked out but that crop as well as everything else is sure short out this way, this year.

But I hope the good Lord will be with us and we will have better luck in the future. With best wishes to all, I am still the same.

A very attractive home wedding was that of Miss Ruth Williams and Mr. G. M. Pierson last night (Wednesday) when Rev. C. C. Carroll performed most impressively the beautiful ceremony. To the strains of Mendlesohn's Wedding March played by Miss Marcia Scarborough the bridal party entered led by Miss Odelle Milling and Mr. Sidney Kaffie followed by Miss Jean Brown and Mr. R. J. Phillips, Miss Henri D. Williams and Mr. Tracy Edgerton Mrs. T. H. McNealey, matron of honor, little Dorothy Carroll and Cora Turpin ring bearers; then the bride on the arm of her father and they were met at the foot of the improvised altar by the groom and his best man Mr. J. L. Weaver.

The bridesmaids wore white shadow lace dresses touched with green and green girdles and carried bouquets of white carnations, while the matron of honor similarly attired carried bride's roses, and the lovely little ring bearers wore dainty white lace slips and ribbons.

The bride who is a petite brunette, was radiantly beautiful in her elegant gown of white champagne trimmed in real lace; the tulle veil was held in place by orange blossoms and she carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and valley lilies. The groom and his attendants wore the conventional full dress suits.

It was a white and green wedding the decorations of white roses, crocus and smilax being used most effectively throughout the reception hall, parlor, library and dining room where light refreshments were served.

Shortly after the ceremony the happy pair drove to Campiti and caught the L. R. & N. for New Orleans where the honeymoon will be spent.

The bride is the fourth daughter of Mr. J. H. Williams and is a lovely and accomplished young woman, while the groom is the son of the late Joseph and Mrs. Maggie Pierson and is the senior member of the well known firm of Pierson & Duncelman and president of the Police Jury, a progressive, enterprising young citizen who has many friends.

The esteem in which Mr. and Mrs. Pierson are held was testified to by the many handsome and valuable presents which included everything from furniture, silver, cut glass to the minutest household furnishings and on their return they will go to housekeeping in the pretty little cottage on Second Street which will be complete in every detail.

The Enterprise extends congratulations and best wishes for a full realization of the fondest hopes.

The doors of the spacious mansion of Mrs. Selmo Trichel were thrown open Thursday night Sept. 25 to a crowd of young folks when she was hostess at a grand reception in honor of Misses Darlie Perot and Helen Lowe. The reception room and dining hall were magnificently decorated in golden red, golden glow and roses, exquisite ferns were also a part of the decoration. At 12 o'clock sharp a delicious turkey luncheon was served and the health of the two fair debutantes was drank in sparkling wine and champagne.

The guests that enjoyed this swell affair were: Mr. Locke Trigg, Miss Will Seabaugh, Mr. John Guy, Miss Kate Keator, Mr. Jim Gregg, Miss Julie McKnight, Mr. Jules Perot, Miss Ruth Prudhomme, Mr. Earle Perot, Miss Helen Lowe, Mr. George McCroeklin, Miss Bama Gregg, Mr. Albert Raphael, Miss Veva Chaplin, Mr. Remy Perot, Miss Darlie Perot.

The charming young debutants looked lovely in their evening dresses both are beautiful young ladies. The light fantastic was tripped until silver streaks appeared in the Orient.

A Card of Thanks.

Natchitoches, La., Oct. 7, 1913. To the Honorable President and Members of the Police Jury, Gentlemen:—

At a regular meeting of the Lesche Club, held October 6th, 1913, a vote of thanks was given your honorable body for the generous way in which you have cooperated with it, in donating the five hundred dollars, to be used in putting the old grammar school in repair, so that it can be made a rest room for the rural shoppers and visitors. This has been a long cherished plan of the Lesche Club, which can now, through your liberal contribution, be carried into effect. The Lesche will take great pride in making this rest room, not only a source of comfort to the visitors, but a credit to the Parish.

Very respectfully,
MAY PHILLIPS,
Secretary.
