Misses Estelle Cloutier and Viola Prudhomme entertained a number of their friends at the home of Miss Cloutier in East Natchitoches, at a reveillon on Thursday night to welcome the New Year when the hours were spent most delightfully in tripping the light fantastic until the bells and whistles announced the birth of 1915, when delicious refreshments were served after which all separated with hearty good wishes for the New Year.

A very serious conflagration occurred at Robeline early Tuesday morning which resulted in the entire destruction of the W. W. Page building, the Greer drug store, Cumberland Telephone Co., Woodmen of the World Lodge and the Harrison livery stable.

This was the fourth attempt of bold incendiaries made within the past four days and it is almost certain that their identity is known and no stone will be left unturned to discover and punish the guilty parties.

assisted by Mrs. Wm. Payne and Miss Ette Levy. The guests who enjoyed the evening with the club were Mes. J. C. DeBlieux, A. Watson, S. Caspari, E. Phillips, Sheppard, E. DeBlieux C. L. Breazeale, E. Suddath and J. D. Rusca.

Masters Carson and Joe Sullivan the little sons of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Sullivan of Goldonna, have made a record as "pig" farmers that might well be envied. These little lads just about a year and a half ago, decided to organize a pig club and go into the business for themselves and a simple statement of the amount of money they have put out and the clear profit therefrom, seems almost incredible. Each lad started with a fine breed pig apiece and gave them personal attention and up to date the actual amount paid out for the first and others and their feed has amounted to $42 in cash, while besides winning a number of prizes and blue ribbons at the State fair, the boys have $206 worth of fine hogs, have $50 from the amount of meat eaten and are the proud possessors besides of a pig bank account of $40. How is that for lads who have only now reached their eleventh and eighth milestone.

Mr. H. Harris an old former resident of Natchitoches will open a Jewelry store in Miss Lise Metzger's old stand.
