Everybody knows what an expert and successful fisherman Mr. P. C. Rogers is, but the editor can testify that he is the best ever, as a bunch of magnificent trout that he presented her with Monday, clearly proves.

Quite an innovation in calendars is the one issued by the Home Insurance Co., of New York, Mr. U. P. Breazeale local representative, which starts with July 1, 1921, and runs for 18 months, instead of the usual 12, ending December 31, 1922, and was presented the editor with a very handy little tray issued by the same company, for both of which she is most appreciatively grateful.

The High School has started on its last lap of a four-session term a year with the one that began Thursday, as from now on it will go back to two-session of four and a half months each like all the other high schools in the state. The attendance is unusually large for the summer term and promises to be a successful one under the direction of the same faculty that has been in charge since last fall. Under the direction of Principal Taylor and his fine corps of assistants, splendid work has been done in the high school this year. Mr. Taylor being not only an unusually fine disciplinarian but he has the rare knack of being able to gain the confidence and cooperation of boys and stimulate an interest in athletics as well as studies, and being ably supported by his faculty, much has been accomplished, to the general satisfaction.

Dr. Z. T. Gallion is in receipt of news that has made him very proud for which he has every reason, as it announces that his son John, Ensign J. H. Gallion recently passed such a brilliant examination that he won a commission of high rank as an officer in the regular U. S. Navy. Officer John wishes to express thru this medium his grateful appreciation to his Natchitoches friends who wrote such fine letters of recommendation and congratulations.

Captain O. W. Deslattes of the administrative staff of the adjutant general's office, has just returned from Natchitoches, where he completed the organization of an infantry company. This company completed its organization within ten days, which it is believed, is the record for the organization of a National Guard unit since the World War.—States

Dr. Dorothy Scarborough, who fills the chair of English at Columbia University, has been a distinguished and most interesting visitor to Natchitoches the past week, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Scarborough. She is spending this week with Mrs. J. H. Henry at Melrose and, armed with a dictograph, is gaining from the "lilies of the field" many local plantation songs.

The revival that has been going on at the Baptist Church since May 29th and which will continue until Sunday, 12th, grows in interest each day. Services at 4 and 7:40 p. m. daily attract large crowds of all denominations and much good is being effected. The music is unusually good, Mr. E. O. Sellers of New Orleans, a singer of international reputation, who was overseas with Torrey, who ranks highest in the land in his particular line, is the soloist, and his singing is being enjoyed by the huge congregations that crowd the church at each service, and he is being ably assisted by a picked choir of 40 voices under the direction of Mrs. Courtright. Everybody is cordially invited to come out to any and all of the services for which people from many miles away motor in daily.
