The 500 Club

Bright red saliva was most effectively used in the attractive living room of Mrs. Joe Caspari's when she entertained the 500 club on Thursday afternoon.

After a number of spirited games several members out for the first prize, a lovely satin and lace corsage, Miss Myrtle Sompayrac being the fortunate winner. Mrs. L. E. Kaffie was the guest prize, a hand-painted cream set, and Mrs. J. H. Kaffie, the booby, a box of correspondence cards.

Mrs. Caspari was assisted by Mrs. Sam Caspari in serving a delicious luncheon of creamed chicken, roast, asparagus and mushrooms, macaroni, tea and divinity fudge to the club members and guests, who were Misses L. E. Kaffie, H. Kaffie, J. D. Kaffie and G. Caspari and Miss G. Kaffie.

The Round Table Club

Hallow'en was much in evidence, from the attractive little witch who greeted the guests at the door Thursday afternoon when her mother, Mrs. Poleman, entertained, to the great Jack-o-lanterns and other devices in decorations and score cards and beautiful autumn leaves and brilliant yellow daisies, at one of the prettiest parties of the season. Mrs. Lawton, who tied with several, finally drew the lovely first prize, a silver cake basket; Mrs. Bishop the guest's, a handsome damask table cloth, and Mrs. E. O. Payne, the consolation, a pretty handmade buffet scarf, which she won in a most unique manner; the lights were turned off and each table in turn was invited to pull a ribbon from the great illuminated Jack-o-lantern that held place of honor in dining room, and found a dainty Hallow'en box full of delicious pralines attached to ribbon, then a number was called by the hostess and Mrs. Payne was the lucky one to have it on her souvenir and was presented with the prize.

Miss Dorothy Lawton kept the score and with Miss Kathleen Breazeale assisted the hostess and her daughter, Miss Marcia, in serving a delicious luncheon of roast goose, dressing, jelly, potato salad, hot biscuits and tea, ice cream and cake to the guests, who, besides club members, included Mmes. Bell, Carr, Bishop, L. DeBlieux, Chaplin, H. Kaffie, P. Keyser, E. Levy, Payne, H. Hughes, Henry, D. W. and Desire Breazeale, Van Hoose of Shreveport; Misses Dreyfus, Marie and Katherine Breazeale.

Les Jeunes Femmes

The pretty home of Mrs. Lestau DeBlieux that has just been remodeled looked very attractive with roses and dahlias used artistically Wednesday afternoon, when she entertained her club and a number of guests most delightfully.

Mrs. J. C. DeBlieux won the handsome first prize, a buffet set; Mrs. Payne, second, a handsome tea set; Mrs. Poleman, the guest's a lovely handmade luncheon set, and Mrs. Hicks, the consolation, a great iced Angel food cake.

Miss Myrtle Sompayrac kept score and with Misses Gratia DeBlieux, Mildred Hill and Geddes Kelsoe assisted the charming hostess in serving a delicious luncheon of chicken salad, sliced tomatoes on lettuce hearts with asparagus tips and mayonnaise, ice tea, followed by brick cream, Angel food and Sunshine cake.

The guests who enjoyed this lovely party with the club included Mmes. Porter, Phillips, Poleman, C. L. Breazeale, Wemo, J. Caspari, H. Keyser, Alice and J. DeBlieux, E. Levy, Gates, Bath, Chaplain, A. Freeman, H. Kaffie; Miss Carmen Breazeale and Mmes. Van Hoose and Crain of Shreveport.

500 Club

Miss Nita Caspari was the gracious hostess of the 500 Club at a lovely Hallow'en party on last Thursday afternoon.

Pumpkin heads, black cats, witches and other decorations suggestive of the season were most artistically used thruout the reception rooms and were repeated in the score cards and table service.

At the conclusion of the games, the first prize, a bottle of imported perfume, was awarded Miss Carmen Breazeale; the guest prize, an applique fudge apron, to Miss Meazie Breazeale, and the booby, a handmade handkerchief, to Miss Suzette Uter.

The hostess was assisted by Mmes. A. F. Ortmeier and J. Caspari and Misses Kathleen Levy and Gretchen Ortmeier in serving fruit salad, sandwiches, oatmeal cookies, chocolate, whipped cream and homemade candies to the club members, and the guests who enjoyed the games with the club and a number who came in for tea.

The guests were Miss M. Breazeale, Kelsoe, Davis, J. Greene, E. Levy, L. Pearson, Mmes. Bonn, G. Caspari, E. L. Kaffie, Maller, Ross, Planche, and Fullheart.

Lesche

It seemed like one of the "fore de war" meetings Monday night, when Mrs. Scarborough, leader of the evening, entertained Lesche at her hospitable home, which was beautifully decorated with chrysanthemums and autumn leaves, and everybody was in gala attire.

After the routine business, the name of Mrs. Harmanson for membership was voted upon and Mrs. Paul Weiss submitted; plans made for cooperating with League of Woman Voters for the meeting of the distinguished members of the National Woman's Party who are to be in Natchitoches November 17th; for the financing of the additional tax for the Federation's Endowment Fund, and for the float for Armistice Day, after which the chair was turned over to Mrs. Scarborough who called upon each in turn for Current Events, then three well known women of today, Mmes. Winter, Storm and Catt, were discussed by Mrs. Clark, Misses Carmen Breazeale and Varnado, respectively, with many interesting incidents being given by all present.

At the close of this feast of reason, the members were ushered into the dining room, where at a handsomely appointed table a delicious chicken gumbo, saltines, bread and butter, pimolas, celery and hot coffee, followed by fruit and candy, were thoroughly discussed and enjoyed, the place card puzzles, the answers to which were some form of food, adding to the merriment, and it was long beyond the allotted hour when the Club adjourned, due to the charming hospitality of Mrs. Scarborough, assisted by her genial husband.
