ECHOES FROM ABBEVILLE

ABBEVILLE HAPPENINGS ALWAYS INTEREST OUR READERS.

After reading of so many people in our town who have been cured by Doan's Kidney Pills, the question naturally arises: "Is this medicine equally successful in our neighboring towns?" The generous statement of this Abbeville resident leaves no room for doubt on this point.

W. Q. Ellis, justice of peace, State St., Abbeville, La., says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills off and on for the last five or six years. Whenever my back has caused me misery or my kidneys have needed toning up, I have always had quick relief. I can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to anyone in need of a good kidney medicine."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Ellis had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

The rains which followed the storm at New Orleans of last week seem to have caused great inconvenience in many homes and considerable damages in stores where roofs had not been fully repaired.

The two days rain here was accompanied by a drop in the temperature which drove linen suits to the shelf to hibernate for the winter. The mercury reached a reading of 54 degrees and the first fires of winter were lighted in many homes.

On the 19th instant, the marriage of Mr. Laurent Mestayer, of this city, and Miss Elmina Durand, of St. Martin parish, will take place at the bride's residence.

Yesterday morning the cold broke its record again. The mercury indicated a temperature of 50 degrees on Friday morning, and this, Saturday, morning another drop followed, the mercury resting at 46 degrees.

There seems to be some question about Dr. C. Pierson staying in the gubernatorial race, now starting.

The Committee of "One Hundred" who have undertaken the task of raising money for the Boys Catholic College have decided to have their "Tag Day" on next Thursday, Oct. 14.

The Patterson cottage, on West St. Peters street, was destroyed by fire one night the latter part of last week. The house was vacant at the time and the cause of the fire has not been determined. It was insured.

A few weeks ago a small town merchant stated to the writer that unless business improved materially during the winter of 1915 he would sell out and retire.

He had been in business "at the same stand" for over twenty years and "admitted" that he was thoroughly familiar with local conditions, having kept abreast the times in matters pertaining to merchandise embraced in his business.

In answer to my query as to the causes for the steady, and apparently permanent, decrease in his volume of business, he advanced the opinion that buyers expect too much for their money, "not only in quantity and quality of goods, but in service" as well.

A meeting of the board of directors of the Iberia Building Association was held on Wednesday evening, with all the members of the board present. There were several applications for loans presented and acted upon—two, favorably. After the transaction of all routine business then pending, the board adjourned.

Agnes Holleman was on Thursday of last week. Albert Elmer.

In substantiation of the contention he related how he had lost the patronage of one of his best customers because he refused to furnish an operator for a sewing machine bought from him.

He went on to say that the purchaser of the machine who "didn't have sense enough to properly care for and operate it," expected him to assume the service gratis.

A talk with the purchaser developed the fact that her request for information had been met with so much discourtesy that she had decided to trade elsewhere. She had influenced a friend to do likewise.

This incident contains a moral for merchants of the moss back class that they cannot afford to overlook.

It has been announced by Mr. Tamuly, the private secretary of President Woodrow Wilson, that the President and Mrs. Norman R. Galt are engaged. The date of the wedding has not been fixed yet, but it is said it will probably take place in December.

The ladies are invited to meet at the store, of Capt. E. J. Carstens, on Monday evening at 5 o'clock, to make arrangements for the coming banquet to be given in honor of the Confederate Veterans on the 25th instant.

RUNNING THE PAPER.

Everybody thinks he can run a newspaper better than the benighted souls who have been placed by Providence in that unenviable position. May be it's because the editor's faults are glaring, one-out in the open in black and white—or, possibly, it is just a queer quirk of human nature and the jobs so easy, anyway. Running the paper is a sort of a side line with lots of people. They offer advice in their spare moments with the same spirit as they play golf or pinocle. One would have the editor a militant suffragist, another demand that he rail against women voting. The prohibitionist can't see how any decent person can be for the regulated saloons and accuse him of selling out to the liquor interests if he is in opposition to the "drys" if he is in support of the saloon. The Democrat says the paper is a "dirty rag" if the editor is Republican in his sympathies, and the Republican stop their subscriptions if he comes out for a Democrat. If the editor is for anything the anti-condemn him, and vice versa. If he takes a stand he is trying to dictate to the community. If he doesn't take a stand, he is a mollycoddle and a jellyfish. He is a crank, a reformer, a fanatic, a flour-dasher, a crook, a disturber of the peace or just a plain idiot, according as he meets with the desires of his subscribers or goes against them. And there you are. The average man never thinks of the hours of toil, the sleepless nights, the soul-sweating to get out a paper. He never thinks of the worries, the trials, the tribulations every editor must undergo. Some of them are so unappreciative of his efforts to boost their town and make money for them, that they won't even contribute the price of a subscription. Just remember this. The editor, apart from the perfectly laudable desire to make a decent living for himself and his family, has only the good of the community at heart. If he disagrees with you on any subject political, moral or educational, you and he may be wrong.

IN MEMORIAM.

At the general meeting of the Louisiana demonstration agents, Sept. 20 to 25, 1915, the undersigned committee was appointed to draw a special resolution in memory of the late Agent A. A. Morrow. The said committee presented the following:

Whereas, an all-wise Providence has removed this year from our midst Agent A. A. Morrow, located in Terrebonne Parish, we consider his loss to the work and to the advancement of agriculture one of the greatest that has ever affected the State.

We all appreciated the long and loyal services he rendered to the cause, his congenial spirit and untiring efforts to be of use to each and all of us, and,

Therefore, we desire that his family, who has lost a loving father and devoted husband, be informed that we, as co-workers of the late agent, sympathize with their loss and tender this resolution as an expression of our sentiments and sorrow;

Further resolved, that a copy of the above resolution be sent, not only to the bereaved family, but to the Baton Rouge, Terrebonne, Iberia and St. Martin parish papers.

If the President of the U. S. could have seen his way clear to announce the administration's commitment to the policy of retaining the duty on sugar earlier in the game he might have had some chance of deserving the thanks of the planters of the sugar-district of this state; he might have saved many fortunes from being driven to the wall; he might have checked the wonderful growth of the Bull Moose party in this state. It is rather late, at this time, for planters to provide for the seed for next year's planting. Years of time have been squandered in experimenting with Free Sugar, to the great cost of Louisiana.

WHO LEADS?

A fact, worthy of note, is that Jno. M. Parker, candidate for governor of this state, preceded the President of the United States in a declaration for woman suffrage. Mr. Parker heads the party in this state, which is opposed to President Wilson's free sugar policy, which latter has staggered the great industry of this state. Again, that the President is reported willing to call off his free sugar legislation, which is in line with Mr. Parker's well known views, will some enthusiastic free sugar advocate declare that Mr. Parker is following Mr. Wilson's lead?

Dr. C. E. Mauldin, of the U. S. Experimental Stock Farm of this parish, at the upper limits of Hope Plantation, has recently received some 75 head of steers, which were purchased in Mississippi. These animals are to be fattened for beef, as a part of the demonstration work of the farm. It is hoped that results with this lot of cattle will demonstrate the practicability of bringing beves here for the winter and fattening them upon the feed from silos. The results will be interesting.

Dr. Mauldin's new residence on the farm is progressing nicely and will soon be ready for occupancy.

Dr. R. O. Young, of Lafayette, is throwing a new light, from a new angle, upon the sugar tariff.

"It will be recalled," says Dr. Young, "that when the last tariff bill reached the United States Senate, Democratic votes from Kentucky, Ohio, Illinois and Missouri, which were careful to look after the welfare of whisky, beef, and tobacco, did not hesitate to destroy the leading industry of Louisiana."

He urges that battle for prohibition be started. He says liquor interests have reared secure in the belief that Louisiana would not become a dry state, whereas he thinks the votes to make it dry can be mustered.

Dr. J. A. Goodwin, who some time ago established a hospital on the East side for domestic animals, has negotiated the purchase of the property occupied by the hospital. This hospital has grown by the Doctor's tireless energy until this city holds one of the first establishments of the State in its line. It is equipped throughout with modern appliances of the highest character and the Doctor takes the greatest pride in keeping the establishment in prime condition for the instant inspection, without notice, at any and all times. It gives pleasure to record the step being taken—to acquire the property—as it shows that the business end of his venture is developing substantial results. It also means that such an institution is filling the needs of this community.

On last Monday evening, notwithstanding the inclement weather, there was a very fair attendance of the members at a meeting of Aurora Lodge, No. 193, F. & A. M. Besides the usual routine business of the lodge, the Master Mason's degree was conferred. Upon the adjournment of the meeting the members proceeded in a body to the Hatch Restaurant where a splendid oyster gumbo was awaiting them, steaming hot. Other things followed, concluding with ice cream.

The Misses Melancon have recently purchased the entire property, formerly owned by Capt. Jno. A. French, on French street. The new owners occupy the store building as a grocery store, under the management of their brother Golden. The stand has proven one of good selection and their trade is growing to broader proportions all the time. The two-story residence, next to store, was rented. As the whole property was for sale they decided to become landlords rather than longer remain in the tenant class.

NOTICE.

Rev. Wood, of Abbeville, will hold services at the Presbyterian church on tomorrow, Sunday, at 11:00 A. M.

Thursday the news came from Washington, D. C., that the President would try to live with the tariff retained on sugar. This will avoid a further deficit of about $50,000,000 annually. Now watch the Sugar trust boost the price of sugar to consumers.

The U. S. wheat crop is for this year estimated at a billion bushels.
