REGULATING OTHERS.

The desire to have other people live according to our ideas seems to be inherent in many of us. No one can explain why we are not willing to let other people live their lives as they see fit, but so radical do some of us become in regulating others that we try to force them by law to live as we think they should live. It may be that this is a survival in us of the old Puritan idea that each man is his brother's keeper. It is easy to see to what absurdities we would come if this idea was put into effect.

Each of us would try to regulate our neighbors' conduct, and they, in turn would try to regulate ours according to their ideas. The inevitable conflict would be productive of more evils than we originally tried to overcome. No man is good enough, or so certain in his virtue that he can force other men to be like him. The very fact that he does try to do so shows that, he is like the Pharisee who prayed at the front of the Temple and called all men to witness he was a good and just man. He was self-satisfied with his own virtue in egotism—not in virtue. To try to force other people to be virtuous as we think we are virtuous, is the height of egotism and pride which is one of the great sins. The rulers who persecuted the early Christians were trying by law to force their beliefs on an unwilling body of men who believed differently. The result was the martyrdom of thousands of good men and women. Christ suffered and died because he insisted on living His life as he chose and not as the Jewish rulers wished him to. The whole Christian world has been built on this determination. To try to enforce morality by law is diametrically opposed to the principles of every great Christian teacher.

The Iberia Poultry Association has a special committee out working on a draft of constitution and by laws for the Association. Messrs. Byron W. Eells, O. W. Ontwaite, and Joo. Buquor composed the committee. Sunday last the committee got together and practically finished their task. At this time it was arranged that another meeting would be held on Friday of this week, (last night), when the committee expected to tender to the members of the association the fruits of their labors. If approved and adopted, the association was expected to at once elect officers for 1916.

THE RED MEN AND THE POCAHONTAS.

The Red Men and Pocahontas Degree are making big preparations for the coming year. These truly American fraternal orders are deserving of the support of all good American citizens, and undoubtedly will make large gains in their membership.

On Thursday night January 20th, the Degree of Pocahontas will give a public installation at the Woodmen Hall on Iberia street, and will also have an entertaining program to present. The ladies of the Degree of Pocahontas are making great preparations to entertain the public, and we predict a good attendance.

PROFESSIONAL DISCRIMINATION.

The discrimination against women in professional opportunity is nowhere more clearly shown than in the admission to those Associations which men have found necessary to advance their personal and professional interests. The record of the admission of women physicians to the Medical Societies is a noteworthy example. It took years of persistent application on the part of a few progressive women physicians from without and a few liberal minded men within to finally let down the bars and admit equally equipped women physicians to membership.

The engineering profession has not yet been invaded very generally by "lady members", but the same persistent prejudices against women await the pioneers in that avenue of professional life.

Nora Stanton Blatch, granddaughter of Elizabeth Cady Stanton, the pioneer suffragist, a Cornell engineer of distinction has been refused admission to the American Society of Civil Engineers. Mrs. Blatch has filed a writ of mandamus before the Supreme Court of the United States to admit her to membership, on the ground "that her rejection was not because she was not professionally fitted, but because she is a woman."

Are You a Woman? Take Cardui The Woman's Tonic. This morning Ernest Morris drove his auto into a trolley car standing on the street. The trolley never moved, but the auto smashed its radiator. No one hurt. The French war pictures were exhibited at the Elks Theatre on last Wednesday evening. They were instructive to the extent of showing what the camera could encompass, and giving some idea how some things are done in the greatest war zone. They show to some extent the wreck wrought by modern warfare to some of the grand structures of the recent past, and confirming the most vivid dream, that war is hell.

NECROLOGICAL.

DIED: On Thursday morning, January 13th, 1916, at 6 o'clock, Harry Smedes, the plantation home of Smedes Bros., near Cade Station, parish of St. Martin, succumbed to the fourth attack of pneumonia. He is survived by his brother, Charles E., and his sister, Miss Nece. The funeral services were held on Oasis plantation on Friday morning, at 10 o'clock, Rev. R. R. Diggs officiating. Interment was made at Rose Hill Cemetery.

On Tuesday, about noon, the residence occupied by Joe Hayes, on East Main street below Ann street, was destroyed by fire. But a small part of the household effects were saved. The fire seemed to have its origin in the roof over the kitchen and was rapidly communicated to the main building. The second alarm, at night, was caused by the wind fanning the smouldering ruins back into a blaze.

We learn that Mr. A. R. Etie has recently engaged with Mr. Leon Dreyfus as manager of the latter's plantation, located on the East side of the Teche, about opposite the Nelson Canal. The new arrangements made it expedient for Mr. Etie to close out his merchandising establishment at the corner of Center and Dale streets—formerly the E. M. Honnet store—selling his entire stock to Victor Ashy, who will continue the store at the old stand.

Warnings were sent out to the farmers on Monday of the coming of a cold wave. On Wednesday morning further advice was received to the effect that the thermometer would fall to 23 or 22 degrees before Thursday. True to prediction the mercury went to 28 on Thursday morning and icicles were hanging from the eaves of houses. The weather man struts around now with, "I told you so" expression on his face.

AFTER FIVE YEARS

NEW IBERIA TESTIMONY REMAINS UNSHAKEN.

Time is the best test of truth. Here is a New Iberia story that has stood the test of time. It is a story with a point which will come straight home to many of us. Mrs. David Hayes, 910 E. Main St., New Iberia, says: "One of my family had hard work and received a strained back while lifting. It affected the kidneys and brought a constant, dull ache across them. The least strain made the trouble worse. The patient was restless and nervous and couldn't lie still long. Too frequent passages of the kidney secretions were annoying also. Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Taylor's Drug Store, did a world of good." (Statement given June 4, 1908).

MORE THAN FIVE YEARS LATER, Mrs. Hayes said: "Doan's Kidney Pills are still used occasionally in our family when there is trouble with the kidneys. They never fail to give quick relief." Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Hayes has twice publicly recommended. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

St. Louis, Mo.—"Hands up!" The command came from one of two robbers who entered a saloon recently. The crowd at the bar raised their hands, all except one-armed Michael McCarthy. Then a pistol spoke and McCarthy dropped dead. When the robbers saw McCarthy's empty sleeve, they fled panic stricken.
