Died, at her residence in St. Martinsville, on Tuesday, November 8th, 1904, at 4:30 p. m., Eugenie M. Olivier, wife of Ed. E. Soulier, aged 42 years. Deceased was a native of Iberia Parish being the daughter of Capt. E. B. Olivier and sister of Hon. Robt. A. Olivier, Assistant Appraiser, New Orleans U. S. Custom service, also sister of Mrs. S. E. Sorrell and Mrs. Winchester of St. Mary. The family is one of the oldest in our State and were prominent in all that makes for progress and good society. Mrs. Soulier had reached the prime of life and was the mother of nine children, seven girls and two boys, all of whom have been raised in the only way a devoted christian mother would lead her family, her life work is done, but she still beckons her loved ones to the better land, released from cares and sorrows. The interment took place at St. Peter's Catholic Cemetery from the home of Mrs. E. Soulier, when the large number of sorrowing friends attested their love and esteem for their friend. The Enterprise offers sincere sympathy.

The gathering together of a company of actors and actresses competent to properly portray a Shakespearean play is a far greater task than most people imagine. This is particularly true of "Twelfth Night" surely the cleverest and most entertaining of all the thirty-seven plays written by the immortal Bard. Mr. Joseph Shipman the New York Manager, who is this season giving a stupendous revival of this play, congratulates himself on having what is everywhere conceded to be the finest theatrical organization ever offered for the approval of the critical American public. Each play has been selected for his or her peculiar fitness for the various roles, thus making a performance which for smoothness and attention to detail has not been surpassed in the memory of the proverbial "oldest inhabitant." Our representative the theatre-goers will assemble a force to witness this artistic production when it comes to the Vendome Opera House, Tuesday night, Nov. 15th.

This community was greatly shocked to learn of the death of Mrs. Mathilda Lord, widow of William Lord, at the residence of Mr. J. B. Hood, East Side. She had been ill but a short time and the end came suddenly of heart failure. Mrs. Lord had been long and favorably known to our community and esteemed for her many good traits and virtues. She leaves two children a son, Mr. Wm. Lord, Jr., and the popular and much loved Bessie Lord. The interment was private.

The James Boys in Missouri, which will be seen in this city next Monday night, is the best drawing attraction of its kind on the road this year and has met with unbounded success wherever presented. This company carries every stick of its own scenery and presents some of the most wonderful stage effects ever produced on a stage. The famous Blue Cut train robbery is staged with accuracy in every detail, a full train of cars being shown on the stage with the famous outlaws in the act looting the express car. The play is altogether moral and abounds in climaxes most thrilling.

W. E. Patton, who has established such an enviable reputation in the title role of "The Minister's Son," is a student and a scholar having graduated from the University of Rochester, N. Y., with the highest honors. While attending college he developed a talent for play-writing "The Minister's Son" being his first real bit. He has since written many well known successes, among them being "The Little Homestead," "A Sly Old Fox," "Royal Rags," etc. His latest effort is "The Last Rose of Summer" which he is now appearing in and critics have seen fit to pronounce this one of the cleanest, brightest and prettiest comedies of recent years. He has been termed the "peculiar comedian" and his plays have that peculiar style of originality that are only found in the work of a true genius. Will exhibit at the Vendome Opera House, Wednesday, November 16th.

The Iberia Building Association will on Wednesday evening, November 16th, 1904, at 7:30 o'clock, again offer for sale money to its stockholders for the purpose of improving or building homes, or buying those already established. It is an occasion that all the poor rent paying, struggling denizens of tenement houses should witness. It then will be seen how easy it is for any one able to pay rent to own their own home and be independent. Scores of people in this town are now living in their own homes whose freeways are never invaded with that specter "rent gatherer" but are happy in their possession, under their own vine and fig tree. Don't forget the date and hour.

A wholesome drama with a moral to teach and with the home as its center is a healthful form of entertainment. In "The Little Homestead" is found such a one—play abounding in heart interest, thrilling in dramatic force and beautiful in its sweet surroundings of New England life. Will appear at the Vendome Opera House, on Friday, December 9th.

A Halloween party was given by the Little Women's Sewing Club, on Halloween night, October 31st, at the home of Miss Rita Barrow. The ghosts all came in about seven o'clock and it was a very scary looking scene to see ghosts running all around the yard. After spending some time in frightening people we played ring games until tired of that, then we all went to see if we would get an apple from the ducking tub. Many attempts were made, but without success, until Miss Letitia Devenir's turn came, then she won the prize for she had succeeded in getting an apple. Then fortune telling time was at hand and many were told the beautiful prospects ahead of them. Refreshments were then served which every one enjoyed. Then all the lights were put out except the jack-o-lanterns and every one told a ghost story in their turns. It was then quite late so every one went home after saying they had spent a very delightful evening and wishing that Halloween would come more than once a year.

HERRICK'S VIEW. Albany, N. Y., Nov. 10.—Judge D. Cady Herrick, the defeated candidate for Governor on the Democratic ticket, will leave to-morrow for an extended visit to Havana. Upon his return he will resume the practice of law.

In discussing the result of the election, Judge Herrick said: "Perhaps the Republican Party would have won this election in any event. But the magnitude of their vote is due to the personality of President Roosevelt, and it is his victory and not that of the Party. Ever since he entered public life he has had a picturesque career, and his personality has been an exceedingly attractive one to the people. Accordingly my recollection I said practically this in a speech at Elmira. More than a year ago I said that I thought him the most skillful politician who had occupied the White House in my time. Recent events have strengthened my opinion in that respect. I take off my hat to him."

"This is not time for Democrats to weep and moan. Those who are Democrats in principle will continue to fight. Any one can fight when he is a winner. Let the Democratic Party show that it can keep it up when it is beaten, and eventually turn defeat into victory."

REASONS

Why our Vinol is the Greatest Health Restorer and Strength Creator Known to Medicine.

Because Vinol contains in a concentrated form ALL of the medicinal curative elements found in cod liver oil, but without a drop of oil to nauseate and upset the stomach; therefore, wherever old-fashioned cod liver oil or emulsions will do good, Vinol will do far more good.

Because we have never sold anything in our store equal to Vinol to restore health and create strength for old people, weak, sickly women and children, nursing mothers, and after a severe sickness.

Vinol cures hacking coughs, chronic colds, bronchitis, and all throat and lung troubles.

A prominent physician writes: "Vinol is the most palatable and valuable preparation of cod liver oil ever compounded. I now use it entirely in all cases where I formerly depended upon old-fashioned cod liver oil and emulsions."

WHAT THE WORLD WANTS.

Men who can not be bought. Men whose word is their bond. Men who put characters above wealth.

Men who possess opinions and a will. Men who see the divine in the common.

Men who would rather be right than be president. Men who will not lose their individuality in a crowd.

Men who will not think anything profitable that is dishonest. Men who will be as honest in small things as in great things.

Men who will make no compromise with questionable things. Men whose ambitions are not confined to their own self-interests.

Men who are willing to sacrifice private interests for the public good. Men who are not afraid to take chances, who are not afraid of failure.

Men of courage, who are not cowards in any part of their natures. Men who are larger than their business, who overtop their vantage.

Men who will give thirty-six inches for a yard and thirty-two quarts for a bushel. Philanthropists who will not let their right hand know what their left hand is doing.

Men who will not have one brand of honesty for business purposes and another for private life. Young men who will be true to their highest ideals in spite of the sneers and laughter of their companions.

Clergymen who can hear a louder call than that of public applause, larger salary, or a fashionable church. Statesmen who will not back caucus, pull wires, or be influenced in their policy by personal motives.

Magnanimous souls who do not look upon everybody they meet for the possible use they may be to them. Men who are true to their friends through good report and evil report, in adversity as well as in prosperity.

Single-hearted people who do not look at every proposition from the point of view of "What is there in it for me?" Journalists who will not write scurrilous, scandalous articles merely because their editor in chief wishes them to do so.

Young men and women who can stand erect and independent while others bow and fawn and cringe for place and power. Men who do not believe that shrewdness, sharpness, cunning and long-headedness are the best qualities for winning success.

Merchants who will not offer for sale "English woolsens" manufactured in American mills, or "Irish lineens" made in New York. Lawyers who will not persuade clients to bring suits merely to squeeze fees out of them, when they know very well that they have no chance of winning.

Men who have the courage to do their duty in silence and obscurity while others about them win.

I will make the statement, and will endeavor to prove it, that I can save you from thirty to forty per cent as against goods purchased from an agent, or sample book man.

Buy your paper yourself, and pay some one to hang it, and save the sample book man's large commission, and the loss in having to order too much to have enough, as well as the excessive freight, or express charges, and risks of delays on small shipments.

I can show you headings of bills from the factories whose names are on the margin of the paper delivered, and so can any one who really buys from the makers.

I solicit direct business from the consumer, and don't want your business if I cannot save you money.
