DEATH OF HON. ANDREW THORPE.

After only a few weeks illness, Hon. Andrew Thorpe, a resident of New Iberia for about fifteen years passed to the great Beyond on Monday morning last at 8:40 o'clock, at his home on Washington Avenue. Few in New Iberia were aware that the distinguished gentleman was confined to his room with an attack of pneumonia before it was reported that he had breathed his last, which came as a shock to his large circle of friends who were endeared to him since a resident of this City and as a practitioner at the bar. Deceased came to New Iberia from Alexandria where he had resided for a number of years, coming to this State from Kentucky where he was born. He was aged respectively 68 years, and leaves to mourn his loss besides his widow, a step-daughter and grand-child.

The funeral services were held at his late residence in the presence of a large number of sympathizing friends, the interment being held at Rose Hill Cemetery on Tuesday morning. His widow has the deep sympathy of the entire community in the hour of her grief.

The man who has to buy seed corn, we wish here to make just two suggestions: The first is that he should not expect to get really good seed corn for price or twice the price of feeding corn. Good seed corn costs money to produce and must be paid for. The second suggestion, is that all seed corn be bought on the ear. There is no other way for the buyer to know what he is getting. It is an invariable rule that seed corn on the ear costs a little more than that shelled off, and this is simply because it requires a better grade of corn to pass muster on the ear than when it is shelled. Assurance of quality in the corn on the ear more than makes up for the difference in cost. Of course, express or freight charges will be a little higher on a bushel of ear corn than on a bushel or shell corn, but this is a small matter compared to the difference between good seed corn and poor.—Progressive Farmer.

PUT YOUR MONEY IN A BANK

It is a good advice which a Colleton County, S. C. exchange gives in urging farmers to start bank accounts this fall, no matter how small the amount left over after the year's debts are paid. We quote:

"If one keeps money in his pocket, it is likely to go and he will never know how it goes; so though you have only ten dollars in your pocket, go to one of our banks and start a bank account. To have money in a bank will give one a feeling of independence nothing else can give. Do not think that because you have only five or ten dollars to start an account the cashier will not want your deposit. Any cashier will gladly welcome you as a depositor if you have but one dollar."

We hope thousands of our readers will follow this excellent counsel. Having a bank account (1) encourages the saving habit, (2) dignifies the farmer by making him more of a "business man" (3) provides a better system of paying out money than specie payments, (4) helps the community in which one lives, and (5) makes it easier for the depositor to borrow in case borrowing instead of depositing sometimes becomes advisable.

Put your money in a bank—Progressive Farmer.

GOV. NICHOLS DEAD.

Francis Tilton Nichols, twice Governor of Louisiana, justice of the Supreme Court, one of the bravest soldiers of the Confederacy, and one of the most striking figures in the State's history, died last night at 10:20 o'clock at his old plantation home at Thibodaux.

His death had been expected for several days. Judge Nichols was seventy-seven years of age and had been retired from active life since his resignation from the bench of the Supreme Court about a year ago. The body will be interred in the little churchyard of St. John's Episcopal Church in Thibodaux, following services there, to-morrow morning at 11 o'clock.

Judge Nichols went to Ridgefield, the family residence at Thibodaux, last May. Last Saturday he became ill and took to his bed. His condition caused some uneasiness, but Tuesday he was better. Wednesday he had a sinking spell, thought to be due to a bad cold, and pneumonia was feared. Early yesterday morning it was expected that the end would occur at any minute, but he rallied, and during the day his condition was such that the family became encouraged. Last night, however, he took a turn for the worse and death came quickly.

Judge Nichols' wife and his children and other relatives were at the bedside. The patient was conscious to the last.

Pallbearers were not selected when he was elected Governor, but it was announced that the funeral services will be conducted by Rev. Dr. Mackenza, the rector of St. John's Episcopal Church at Thibodaux.

Sketch of Career.

Francis T. Nichols was descended of an old English family, the head of which, Edward C. Nichols, came to America and settled in Prince George County, Md. His son, T. C. Nichols, was a close friend of E. D. White, father of the present chief justice of the United States. Gov. White appointed him chief justice of the Court of Errors and Appeals when he was Governor of Louisiana. Francis T. Nichols when he was elected Governor, appointed E. D. White an associate justice of his Supreme Court in 1878.

Francis T. Nichols was born Aug. 20, 1834, at Donaldsonville.

Elected Governor.

After the close of the civil war he enlisted in the Eighth Louisiana Regiment as captain of Company K, and shortly after hostilities had commenced he was promoted to Lieutenant Colonel. He was wounded at the battle of Winchester, losing his left arm; was captured by the Federal soldiers and later exchanged. After this he was made Colonel, and later Brigadier General of the Second Division of the Louisiana Brigade. He participated in the bloody battle of Chancellorsville, under Jackson, and had his horse shot from under him, losing his left leg himself.

As Chief Justice.

The next honor conferred upon Gov. Nichols was when he was appointed chief justice of the Supreme Court, served in this capacity for twelve years and served as associate justice until he was retired under the service clause.

Gov. Nichols leaves a large number of relatives, among them being five daughters and a son. The son, Frank W. Nichols, resides in Memphis, Tenn. The daughters are Mrs. G. K. Bradford, Rayne, La.; Mrs. Van P. Garrett of Virginia; Mrs. W. R. Young, Raleigh, N. C.; Mrs. R. A. Nunn Newbern, N. C.; and Miss Sophie Hamilton Nichols, who is well known as a writer. He has two nephews, W. P. Nichols and T. C. Nichols, are prominent residents of this city. He also leaves four nephews, Edw. N., Thos. B., Judge P. S. and L. H. Pugh, sons of his sister, Mrs. W. W. Pugh.

He declined to run again in 1879, when the constitutional convention was called, and this resulted in the election of Louis F. Wiltz by the Democratic party of the State.

After retiring from the Governorship, he took up the practice of law in New Orleans, but again embarked in politics when the anti-lottery crusade came on, and was elected Governor again. When the Lottery Company attempted to have its charter renewed at the famous session of the State Legislature, he vetoed the bill in a stirring message. After the expiration of his term, Murphy J. Foster was elected Governor on the anti-lottery ticket.

Brilliant War Record.

Early in his youth, Gov. Nichols entered West Point, and was graduated with high honors. He was stationed as a brevet lieutenant in Florida, and later saw active service in the campaign against the Seminoles. He afterwards was stationed at Fort Yuma, Ariz. After leaving the army, he took up his residence in Napoleonville, La., and engaged in the practice of law, having previously taken his degree at the Louisiana State University.

At the outbreak of the civil war he enlisted in the Eighth Louisiana Regiment as captain of Company K, and shortly after hostilities had commenced he was promoted to Lieutenant Colonel. He was wounded at the battle of Winchester, losing his left arm; was captured by the Federal soldiers and later exchanged. After this he was made Colonel, and later Brigadier General of the Second Division of the Louisiana Brigade.
