HOME LIFE.

We wish we could sufficiently impress upon every woman the importance of the home, and that a woman can have no higher work in life than making a home for her husband and growing children. This truth is in great danger of being lost sight of in these modern times, when women will leave their little children to be cared for by hiredlings, while they take up outside work, which might just as well be done by others. Of course, if the mother is obliged to earn her living, that is a good excuse, but if not, she has none. If all good people who deprecate divorces would be more careful about making marriages; if the churches would not give their sanction to bargains for titles; and then deplore the outcome, there would not be so many mistakes to rectify. The first thing for any human being to learn is that life is law and any transgression will bring trouble.—Democrat.

Women of Sedentary Habits:

Women who get but little exercise are likely to be troubled with constipation and indigestion and will find Chamberlain's Tablets highly beneficial. Not so good as a three or four mile walk every day, but very much better than to allow the bowels to remain in a constipated condition. They are easy and pleasant to take and most agreeable in effect. Obtainable everywhere.

Who wouldn't be a farmer? There is just one trouble, only the farmers know how to farm. There are thousands who would like to quit the towns and cities and emigrate to the country, and possess themselves of broad, fertile fields, and proceed to make two blades of this, that or the other of grass grow where one or none grew before, but this proposition presents that it takes from two to twenty years to learn how to farm (some folks never learn), and within such a period bankruptcy might occur several times over. But if all of us cannot be farmers, all can admire the horny-handed sons of toil and rejoice with him in his present great prosperity. He is the bulwark of the nation and the salt of the earth.—Alexandria Democrat.

CALOMEL DYNAMITES YOUR LIVER!
MAKES YOU SICK AND SALVATES

"Dodson's Liver Tone" Starts Your Liver Better Than Calomel and You Don't Lose a Day's Work

Live up your sluggish liver! Feel fine and cheerful; make your work a pleasure; be vigorous and full of ambition. But take no nasty, dangerous calomel because it makes you sick and you may lose a day's work. Calomel is mercury or quicksilver which causes necrosis of the bones. Calomel crashes into sour bile like dynamite, breaking it up. That's when you feel that awful nausea and cramping. Listen to me! If you want to enjoy the nicest, gentlest liver and bowel cleansing you ever experienced just take a spoonful of harmless Dodson's Liver

RAISE HORSES.

While progressive ideas are dominating our farmers and business men we fail to see why they do not take more to the growing of horses and mules. Recent statistics made public show that this state is spending an enormous amount of money each year for mules. To the average North Louisiana farmer a mare will do the work required, as well as a mule, and will not only answer in the mule's place as a work animal, but will raise a colt as well, that at three years old will bring one hundred and fifty dollars or more. When you buy a foreign raised mule, you send that much money out of the country that does no further good here, and provided the mule lives, he will wear out in seven or eight years while the mare will double her value a number of times. The advice to grow live stock at home is not only sensible, but profitable to those who try it.—Alexandria Town Talk.

This country needs more and better farming and less politics and politicians. If the people on the farms stick to their own affairs and keep a wise and intelligent eye on the country through the newspapers there will be less cry about a rotten government. The politicians are only interested in their own welfare, and it is part of their game to talk of that business in which they alone are interested—the securing of office.—Opelousas Enterprise.

THE AUSTRIAN MARVEL.

One of the marvels of the European war is the strength Austria is showing. During the first year Russia entered her territory with conquering armies. It seemed as if Austria's armies were annihilated and that she would be overwhelmed. Then came a change. The Russian advance stopped, a retreat began and soon the Russians were driven off. Austrian territory back to their own where ever since they have been on the defensive.

The front of war changes to Serbia and with German help they drive the Serbian army into Montenegro and now possess nearly all of that country, together with the important seaport of Cattaro.

Italy after much hesitation finally entered the war and started her armies across the Austrian border. Its march seemed unopposed and Austria helpless to check the Italian advance. Then a change came apparently from nowhere. Austrians were facing the Italians, their progress stopped, and they are still there. With the capture of Cattaro Austria now has a splendid naval base that gives her command of the Adriatic. No longer retreating and disorganized, but quiet and effective Austria is achieving successes. The cause of the difference—perhaps patriotism—perhaps Germans—likely both.—Ex

EXPERIENCE IN PUBLIC DUTIES.

One of the imperfections of a democratic form of government grows out of the mistaken idea that public office is a sort of gift which ought to be passed around among the people for the benefit of those who hold office. The correct view of public office is that there are certain public duties to be performed and the men among the citizens best qualified to perform these duties ought to be chosen for that purpose. The remark is frequently heard that a man has held an office long enough to retire or be retired and let someone else have the place. In most lines of private business length of service of an employe or an officer is the basis upon which promotion and higher wages are awarded. Accumulated experience, severe tests in emergencies, skill and deftness in dealing with hard problems are attributes which come from long service and which are considered very valuable in all employes and officers, except when that officer happens to be employed by the public. In politics the cry is to throw a man out of office after he has served two or three terms and just when he becomes qualified to give the most valued service.

Beaumont people are fortunate to escaping this common blunder.—Beaumont Enterprise.
