

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

FOR SHERIFF.

I adopt this method of advising the voters of Iberia Parish, that I am a candidate for re-election to the office of Sheriff of the Parish, and would be very much pleased to receive the vote of every qualified voter. I promise if elected to conduct the office as I have in the past, and again submit my claims to the electorate. Yours respectfully,
GEORGE HENDERSON.

FOR CORONER

DR. J. W. K. SHAW

Hereby announces himself as a candidate for re-election to the office of Coroner of the Parish of Iberia, in the General Election to be held on April 18, 1916. He rests his candidacy upon the meritorious work of his office during his incumbency, believing that he has so discharged every duty as to bring credit to the office and favorable consideration of his aspirations to re-election.

FOR CITY MARSHAL.

To the Voters:

I have the honor to announce my candidacy for the office of City Marshal. I am elected to that office. I promise that my aim will at all times be to preserve the interest of my people, and that I will discharge the duties of my office impartially and efficiently. I further wish to say that I favor the platform of Hon. John M. Parker, Progressive nominee for Governor, to the letter.
GASTON DAUTERIVE

REALTY MEN IN NEW IBERIA.

On Wednesday afternoon, Mayor Sealy received a wire from New Orleans to the effect that to-day New Iberia and its vicinity would be visited by at least two hundred gentlemen from all over the United States that had been in attendance at the National Convention of Real Estate men held in New Orleans for several days this week. His Honor, Mr. Sealy immediately called the members of the Chamber of Commerce together and arrangements were made to escort the guests over the Parish, sight-seeing. It is also arranged to give them a fish banquet at Spanish Lake after they have seen our lands and the great possibilities of Iberia in more ways than one. Secretary Bernard of the Chamber of Commerce also distributed pamphlets showing the advantages of our section and the documents contain facts that should be of interest to many of them. The splendid roads that traverse our Parish will also be an eye opener to them and there is no doubt they will soon realize that Iberia Parish offers inducements to land seekers that no other part of the State can boast of, for more reasons than one. Committees on entertainment have been formed through the channels of the Board of Trade and we are convinced our guests will be delighted with the entertainment they receive from our hospitable people.

On Thursday morning, the Daily States contained the subjoined item among the visit here of these people which is as follows:

"One of the most delightful side features of the ninth annual convention of the National Association of Real Estate Exchanges will be the 'little journey' to the Teche country on Saturday of this week. The outing will be given via the Southern Pacific and will be under personal supervision of P. Sefton Schneidau, president of the New Orleans Real Estate Board.

"Approximately two hundred delegates have already signified their intention to make the journey to the picturesque section of Iberia Parish, the home of the Evangeline. The journey will be made on a special train which will leave the Union Station at 7 o'clock Saturday morning, returning to the city about 9 o'clock Saturday night.

"The Mayor and officials and the people of New Iberia are preparing a most cordial welcome for the visiting real estate men and their ladies on Saturday. Dinner will be served following which the visitors will be given an auto trip to the salt mines, the greatest in the world. Various other important interests in and around New Iberia will be shown to the national real estate men."

WEAK, AILING CHILD

Made Strong By Delicious Vinol
 Lakeport, N. H.—"Our little girl 8 years of age was in a debilitated, run-down condition and had a stubborn cough so she was weak and ailing all the time. Nothing helped her until we tried Vinol. Then her appetite increased and she is strong and well, and I wish other parents of weak, delicate children would try Vinol."—Geo. A. COLLINS.

This is because Vinol contains the tissue building, strengthening cod liver elements and the tonic iron which weak and run-down systems need.

IMPORTANT OFFICE.

The time is near at hand, when the voters of Iberia must again seriously consider the claims of aspirants for the various offices. The interest which each voter has in the matter should be unselfish and with a view to the best interests of the entire community. Every citizen is as much concerned with the election of public officers as is every stockholder in any corporation interested in having proper management of its affairs. It is painful to live in a day when some there are, who do not bring to the exercise of the right of suffrage the consideration which the best of citizenship demands. Selfish interests, if not more sordid motives, are made the arbiters.

Perhaps there is no officer whose election is so burdened with the claims of self-seekers as is that of the Sheriff. The fact that he must have several deputies forces upon him the necessity of contending with an army of claimants for these positions; and the question of capacity of a candidate for the Sheriff's office, is, too often counterbalanced by the question of what combination of deputies will place the man in the Sheriff's office.

However, valuable an officer one may have proven himself to be, amounts to nothing to those who consider public office a private prize bestowed upon the best manipulator of political activity.

In the present campaign, George Henderson offers himself for re-election to the office of Sheriff. If his opponents, who, in a greater degree combine to themselves the qualifications needed by a Sheriff, he should have the office. But be sure such is the condition to-day?

We concede Mr. Henderson's opponents is fully competent to attend to the collection of taxes and to perform other clerical or ministerial tasks which almost any honest man might perform without great show of unusual attainments. But there are other duties which require special qualifications and these have to do with the safeguarding of our properties. The detection of crime, the pursuit and punishment of the criminal, the preservation of peace, affects each citizen, and what sensible citizen should consider the question of selecting one for this particular office along any other lines of common reasoning?

No one questions the good citizenship of Mr. Henderson's opponents. They are excellent men and held in great esteem by a large circle of friends. But we each have special qualifications for some task in preference to another and the most excellent of men may make the poorest of Sheriffs. Let us suppose a mob were invading our City, in whose hands would you prefer to entrust its quelling? Is it not to the man, who upon numerous occasions, frustrated them by his bravery and coolness?

If there is a mysterious murder or other shocking crimes to be brought to light, to whom could it be entrusted than to the one whose aptitude has shown itself, so promptly and effectively in ferreting out crimes and apprehending criminals. We concede his opponent has virtues in common with him and vice versa. Human nature without faults would lose its identity; but taken all in all, when you consider what a Sheriff should be, and you see looming in sight, the big, fearless, keen-minded George Henderson, you are forced to admit to yourself that it is he, who best answers the need and we believe the voters of the Parish still believe him the best qualified man in the Parish to fill the office of Sheriff.

The question of whether you believe in a National Progressive or Republican party should not for once lead you to accept every candidate placed on a party ticket on the 18th day of April.

As we stated before the peculiar fitness for that office of Sheriff Henderson, at least justifies grave consideration upon the voter before casting his vote and we confidently look forward to the re-election by a nice majority despite the claims of his political enemies that they will be the victors.

THE PROGRESSIVE MEETING.

On Saturday night last the Progressive Party of this Parish held a mass meeting in the New Iberia Court House for the purpose of keeping up its rank and file, and a crowded house greeted the speakers, as they did at the Democratic meeting Saturday a week ago, which was addressed by Senator Ransdell. The meeting was called to order by Mr. Fritz Dietlein, our wholesale merchant and candidate for Police Juror of this ward. After a short address by Mr. Gordon A. Sandoz he introduced as the next speaker Mr. Will Howell, the District Judge of Lafourche parish and successor to that office of Congressman Martin. He was then followed by Hon. E. S. Broussard of this Parish, the candidate for Lieutenant Governor with Mr. John M. Parker. Mr. Broussard was not billed for a talk, but owing to the non-appearance of Mr. Gordy, responded to the invitation to address the audience, and we are told he delivered the best speech of the evening. Had it been known that Edwin was going to address our citizens, the attendance would have been much larger, as he is exceedingly popular in New Iberia and will poll a large complimentary vote from numerous Democrats as well as Progressives. Excursions were run into this City from both Loreauville and Jeanerette. The Frisco having brought in about seventy voters, and the Trolley something like one hundred and fifty ladies and gentlemen. While the meeting was an enthusiastic one, we can say without fear of contradiction that it was no larger than that of the Democratic party the Saturday previous. We are told a big District meeting will be held in New Iberia on the 11th of next month when John M. Parker will be on hand to address our citizens. Excursions will be run up and down the Southern Pacific and other railroads to swell the crowds and it goes without saying it will be a gala day in New Iberia.

A RARE TREAT.

Did you ever attend an entertainment where your satisfaction was so great that your mind seemed to expand, your soul to grow and the inspiration? And then you felt sorry for every one of your friends who were unfortunately absent. On Wednesday afternoon, as the shadows were lengthening on the lawn at Mount Carmel Convent, just such a condition of affairs occurred. A small but discriminating and intelligent audience were gathered, and under the grandest of the wide spreading oaks upon a rural throne, sat one of the most gifted readers, his noble head crowned by the glittering sunbeams as they played boop peep through the sheltering branches. The powers were all around, above and below him, but as soon as he began to read, you saw nothing but his expressive face, and heard nothing but his marvelous voice. Mr. Griffith's selection for this occasion were Longfellow's poems, Evangeline, in compliment to our Teche land, and a wonderful panorama he gave of the pathetic story, Hiawatha, who would have thought that in its singular rhythm it conveyed words of wisdom and high spiritual lessons. The Psalm of life, was never so beautiful as with Mr. Griffith's spiritual interpretation, and throughout the entire reading with beautiful cadences he would sing an Indian song or whisper a lullaby or a boatman's song, or the sighing of the wind, and when silence was described, that wonderful clear and distinct would seem like a dream of sound.

Mr. Griffith comes from Welsh ancestry, three generations back. The Britons held the oak tree sacred, and their religious services were often held under their branches. Their Bards, who were poets and musicians combined, sang their lessons of faith and courage with their harp accompaniment. Under the spreading branches of the oak, just as Mr. Griffith was seated then, and the thought pulsed through ones mind, what a famous Bard he would have been, how he would have spiritualized all the wisdom that he taught, and swaying the people always to the right.

Mount Carmel was a beautiful setting for that rare entertainment. The dear Sisters sitting on the balcony, and Father Lamy, the much beloved pastor just recovered from a rather serious illness, made a happy little address. The Convent orchestra played well for such very young girls. A picture of that scene would have been a souvenir of a charming occasion to all who were there. We are sorry for those who were not. Perhaps Mr. Griffith will come again, who knows.
