P. engineer, 302 Lincoln Ave., Lafayette, La., says: "Whenever I have any trouble with my kidneys, or my back feels stiff and lame, a few doses of Doan's Kidney Pills to a great many of my friends who have complained of the same trouble and they have had just as good results."

The fact is undisputed that the man who farms and farms as a farmer should does not have to worry much over the high cost of living. Why? Because he produces about eighty per cent. of what he consumes, and with the exception of a few staple articles, he seldom purchases any food supplies in the grocery store.—Vinton Booster.

The best part of it is she knows that he couldn't have sent her anything better

ANENT THE PENSION AMENDMENT.

In reply to the query propounded by Mr. J. B. Merchant, the author of a communication, published in another column, he is assured that the parties with whom he has conversed on the subject, have misconceived the effect of the rejection of the present amendment. While it frequently happens that legislative acts have been built upon such shaky and tottering foundations, as to be unable to stand the test of judicial scrutiny, the rejection of the amendment now before the people for consideration, will be attended with no such disastrous result as predicted.

On the contrary, its defeat at the polls in November will have absolutely no effect on the amendment adopted in November 1914, but it will remain in full force and legal operation, just as if no ineffective and abortive attempt had been made by the Legislature to amend and supersede it, wherever any of its provisions were in conflict with the amending act.

But if the amendment now before the people is rejected at the approaching November election, the effect will be disastrous upon a certain class of pensioners, as was shown in "An Appeal For Ratification of The Pension Amendment," to which reference is made by our correspondent. In the happening of such an unlooked for and unexpected contingency, as the rejection of the present amendment, there will still be the sum of $550,000.00, collected annually from the one mill tax, for the benefit of pensioners, under the amendment of 1914, which as has been shown, will still be operative.

But such amount, as was shown in the article referred to, is inadequate, even for the payment of a monthly pension of $8.00, to 5842 pensioners. There are also 365 on the "waiting list," whose claims have been approved, but who cannot be paid, because of the insufficiency of funds. It is natural to assume that this "waiting list" will be increased from time to time, by the approval of more claims, at each quarterly meeting of the Board of Pension Commissioners.

The present amendment has been submitted to rectify this unfortunate condition of pension affairs, by the appropriation of the entire proceeds of the one mill tax for such purpose, and its rejection at the November election would in the nature of a dire calamity to all pensioners, not only to those who are now the recipients of its imited bounty, but also to those who are waiting patiently and resignedly in the hope and expectation that it will come to them later on.

Hence, it is easily inferable, that an adverse vote against the pension amendment in November, will leave pension matters in statu quo. Those now drawing pensions will continue to receive the same amounts. But those now on the "waiting list," and others yet to come after them, will be entirely bereft of all hope for relief.—Alexandria Democrat.

Drives Out Malaria, Builds Up System
The Old Standard general strengthening tonic, GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC, drives out malaria, enriches the blood, and builds up the system. A true tonic. For adults and children. See advertisement.

WHAT ARE YOU DOING?

Are you of any benefit to your state, parish, town and society in general? Do you contribute to their improvement anything more than the taxes, about which you continually complain? Do you exert an influence for good among your neighbors and friends, for their advancement materially, intellectually, socially, morally and religiously, and the cultivation of a spirit of friendship among them?

If not, then what benefit to the world are you? To what end do you exist? You are of less value than the domestic animals by which you are surrounded. They are of financial value to their owners and add their share to the prosperity of the country; contribute to the support of the people and wealth of the state.

If what you contribute to the common good consists only of the taxes extorted from you—they are extorted if you pay them unwillingly—you are a cumbered of the ground, an exercise on the body politic and a social burden.

You may not be able financially to contribute to the public weal and the necessities of the indigent—may be very poor yourself—but you can be rich in the graces which make character lovable and influence valuable in the community. You may assist in elevating its standard of all the social virtues and contribute very much to its material progress and prosperity. You do not have to be wealthy to discharge some of the most important duties you owe to society and fulfill your mission in life. You have influence—there is no one who has not. Exert that for good and you will have earned the comforting and cheering plaudit, "Well done, good and faithful servant," though you may be unable to contribute but very little money for the relief of the needy. A cup of water, given in the right spirit and according to one's ability, has its reward.—Ruston Leader.

THE "TEN COMMANDMENTS"

Abig business firm in western Canada has hung, in a conspicuous place in its works, the following "Ten Commandments" for the benefit of its employees. They are surely worth repeating. Every business concern might well print them and post them. For the benefit of the young men and young women who are looking forward to a business career, they are here printed. Character and business are closely united in them.

1. Don't lie. It wastes my time and yours. I am sure to catch you in the end and that is the wrong end.

2. Watch your work, not the clock. Wate h your work, not the clock. A long day's work makes a long day short, and a short day's work makes my face long.

3. Give me more than I expect, and I will give you more than you expect. I can afford to increase your pay, if you increase my profits.

4. You owe so much to yourself you can not afford to owe anybody else. Keep out of debt or keep out of my shop.

5. Dishonesty is never an accident. Good men, like good women, never see temptation when they meet it.

6. Mind your own business, and in time you'll have a business of your own to mind.

7. Don't do anything here which hurts yourself respect. An employee who is willing to steal for me is willing to steal from me.

8. It is none of my business what you do at night. But if dissipation affects what you do the next day, and you do half as much as I demand, you'll last half as long as you hoped.

9. Don't tell me what I'd like to hear, but what I ought to hear. I don't want a valet to my vanity, but one for my dollars.

10. Don't kick if I kick. If you're worth while correcting, you're worth while keeping. I don't waste time cutting spees out of rotten apples.—Wellspring.

DESPONDENCY.

When you feel discouraged and despondent do not give up but take a dose of Chamberlain's Tablets and you are almost certain to feel all right within a day or two. Despondency is very often due to indigestion and biliousness, for which these tablets are especially valuable. Obtainable everywhere.

Secretary Buffinton of the New Iberia Chamber of Commerce says the establishment of a paper mill using bagasse is assured for New Iberia. It is announced that the factory which has procured a site, will employ at the start 150 white laborers the first year and the second year, considering the visible supply of raw material, the mill is expected to increase its force to 300.—St. Martin Banner.

An interesting fight has developed in this State over the United States judgeship vacancy caused by the death of Judge Boardman. Senator Ransdell is supporting his brother, who is a prominent jurist from North Louisiana, and there are a number of other candidates, all prominent lawyers who are out for the position. Senator Broussard, whose vote is needed for confirmation of the appointment after it's made, has not committed himself.—Assumption Pioneer.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by systematic treatment. Deafness is caused by an inflamed membrane of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; this cannot be done unless the tube is treated by the method of Dr. J. J. Cheney & Co., Buffalo, N. Y. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness caused by catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for booklet, free. Sold by Druggists. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation. (Advertisement.)

The discovery of a big pocket of gas, has started a stir among the citizens of Northeast Louisiana in the neighborhood of Ouchit and Morehouse parishes. The richest oil fields in the country are now in the northwest part of the State and has made that section of the State prosperous. If the Northeast is also found to be an oil territory, all of North Louisiana will be rolling in wealth.

Pine-Tar Relieves A Cold.

Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey contains all the soothing elements of the pine forest. It heals the irritated membrane, and by its anesthetic properties loosens the phlegm, you breathe easier, and what promised to be a severe cold has been broken up. For that stuffed-up feeling, tight chest or sore throat take a dose of Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey and prevent a wearing, hacking cough dragging through the winter. Sophie, the world's champion dairy cow, owned by F. I. Hood, of Lowell, Mass., will likely be on exhibition at the New Orleans Live Stock Show, to be held in that city November 11 to 19. This cow has a record of producing 75,000 pounds of milk and nearly 6,000 pounds of commercial butter in the past six years. This cow will be exhibited for educational purposes, just to show the value of good stock.—La. Democrat.
