FARMERS INVITED TO ORGANIZE ASSOCIATION.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE TO HOLD MEETING ON SATURDAY AFTERNOON, JULY 12th.

As mentioned in our columns last week the Chamber of Commerce has taken steps to organize the farmers of the Parish into an organization to raise hogs on a wholesale scale, with the object in view of finding profitable markets for the porkers, as fast as they are ready to ship to the outside world. On Thursday the Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce received a communication from Mr. J. B. Francioni, Jr. of the Live Stock Extension Service of the Louisiana State University, announcing his willingness to address our people as requested at the last meeting of that body. Mr. Francioni is an experienced swine breeder and he is familiar with every detail of hog breeding. The meeting will take place at the Court House at four o'clock in the afternoon on Saturday, July 12th, 1919, and all who are interested are urged to attend. In the organization of hog clubs, this Parish will soon become known as the hog market of Louisiana and as soon as the Chamber of Commerce lands the right experienced man as manager, whatever time necessary to be given that way our farmers will soon become independent and progressive. It is the intention to organize a Club in every Ward if we have the attendance at the meeting on the 12th and it behooves one and all to show their interest by being present at the meeting next Saturday afternoon.

TAX DODGERS BEWARE.

"Tax dodgers may take warning by the eighteen months prison sentence imposed on William A. English and John H. O'Brien, Boston wool merchants who pleaded guilty of conspiracy to defraud the Government of Federal income taxes," said Commissioner of Internal Revenue Daniel C. Roper today.

"It is and will be the policy of the Bureau to pursue tax frauds relentlessly. This is the only course possible in justice to the man who honestly pays his share of the common levy.

"In the checking up of returns, evidence to show fraud will be followed by a thorough and complete investigation which, though it may require years, will be continued until the persons involved are brought to justice. In every case warranted by the facts the Bureau will urge the imposition of the extreme penalty.

"Taxpayers who have not met their full tax requirements should not wait until discovery is made by a revenue officer. There is great difference between the self-

German Kaiser will be Tried in England

Will be Banished for Life on Isolated Isle as was Bonaparte.

London, July 3d.—The note to Holland requesting the extradition of the former German emperor it is understood will be signed by twenty-three of the powers.

Well informed circles in The Hague, the Daily Mail's correspondent says, do not believe that Holland will give him up to the allies. They are of the opinion he will remain in Holland for the rest of his life.

The death penalty will not be sought, the newspaper points out; but the allies will ask his banishment for life to a remote island, following the precedent of Napoleon's exile to St. Helena.

The international trial court had intended to try the former emperor alone, but it is possible the crown prince Frederick William, will also meet the same fate.

Paris, July 3d.—The officers corps of the Prussian army and German navy, according to a Berne dispatch have sent a lengthy appeal to the queen of Holland not to permit the extradition of the former kaiser-emperor.

discovered tax dodger or tax delinquent and the one discovered by our office. The time for compromise is before discovery by a Government official.

"It is our determined policy that wealth shall not influence to prevent wilful tax dodgers from going to jail. The big and financially able must be treated in the same way as the small wilful violator and hence compromises through money will be rejected."

The Boston wool merchants, who it was alleged attempted to defraud the Government out of about 10 per cent of tax due, started business in 1913 under the firm name of English and O'Brien. The business increased rapidly, largely on account of war conditions.

As charged by the Court, in 1917 English and O'Brien filed returns showing a total partnership and individual tax of the two partners of $109,000. Upon investigation, it was found that the true tax of the partnership and the two individuals was $1,379,817.49. The defendants attempted to conceal their earnings by keeping two sets of books, and by making false entries in the books which they planned would be checked by revenue agents. They also falsified their inventory at the end of 1917 by approximately $1,000,000.

When arrested English and O'Brien employed an able array of counsels, and endeavored by every device to escape punishment. Offers in compromise of more than $1,000,000 were suggested to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue and refused.

When arraigned the defendants pleaded guilty to a charge of conspiracy to defraud the United States, and represented to the Court that the highest possible amount they could raise by borrowing and otherwise was $1,500,000, which, in addition to the amount already paid, they offered to pay if not sent to prison. They declared they would be able to raise but a small part of this amount if a prison sentence were imposed.

A fine of $10,000 in addition to the prison sentence, was imposed upon each of the defendants. Civil proceedings will be begun to collect the income and excess as he attempted, only gives the game a black eye and tends to ruin it for others who are putting their time into making it a success.

The game lacked excitement generally speaking, and only two plays are worthy of comment. They are: C. Billeaud's one hand stab of Knight's long fly to center in the fourth; and Koch's perfect peg to the plate from left field in the third inning, which stopped Lafayette's best chance to score.

Called at end of ninth on account of darkness.

At Death's Door.

"I was talking with my neighbor, Mr. Webb, the other day, regarding the great trouble his stomach had given him. He said he suffered 7 or 8 years, and had been almost at death's door a number of times from acute indigestion and bloating of gas, which seemed to shut off his heart action. He said he wouldn't have lived much longer if he hadn't taken Mayr's Wonderful Remedy when he did, which made a well man of him." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including gappenicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Estorge Drug Co. and all druggists.

Whistling when a vessel was at sea was regarded as a crime in olden times. Only the commanding officer was permitted to indulge in it and then only when the ship was becalmed or an increase in the wind was desired. For anyone else to whistle was supposed to bring on gales and stormy weather. Any recruit who so far forgot himself as to whistle received quick and severe punishment.
