Written for the Enterprise

The pupils and teachers of the Madison Street School wish to thank Marjorie Lyle, Ethel May Frame and Olga Indest for their happy inspiration, which prompted their Penny Fair last Saturday afternoon, given for the benefit of the Madison Street School soup kitchen. All their little friends and school-mates were invited to come to a Penny Fair and bring all the pennies that they could. Delicious sandwiches, candy and cake were sold. There was a wonderful and mysterious "grab-bag," which delighted all the little hearts. A penny a chance on a tiny fruit-cake, won by Barbara Porter, added to the many thrills of the "Fair." With happy smiling faces the three little hosts presented five dollars, the result of their efforts, to the pupils of the Madison Street School for their soup kitchen.

LOCAL NEWS.

The ladies of Mount Carmel Convent Social Club are arranging to give a card party next Monday evening at three o'clock. Light delicious refreshments will be served all who attend. A small admission fee of 35c will be charged.

New Iberia was represented at the President-elect's luncheon in New Orleans last Thursday by Mr. Philip Conrad of the Conrad Rice Mills. Mr. Conrad being a member of the Association of Commerce of Louisiana received a pressing invitation and naturally responded to sit with the distinguished President-elect Harding.

We had an appreciated call last Wednesday from Rev. S. D. Roberts who came to New Iberia as a successor to Rev. H. N. Brown of the Methodist Episcopal church. Mr. Roberts has been occupying the pulpit at Abiers for a number of years and we have reasons to believe he will be quite popular with his congregation here.

The Elks Dancing Club have issued invitations to its members to attend a Thanksgiving Eve Dance at the home on Wednesday evening. The services of one of the leading bands has been engaged and the affair promises to eclipse anything ever given since the organization of the Lodge.

One of New Iberia's talented sons, Mr. Wm. Weeks Hall paid a recent visit to his ancestral home "Shadows on the Teche" prior to sailing for Europe, in December, where he expects to remain a year studying and traveling in France, Spain and Italy. Mr. Hall received several prizes for foreign travel from the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts, one of the leading art institutions of America. On his return he expects to occupy his home retaining its beautiful color and dignity mellowed by time—a delight to architects and painters many of whom he hopes to bring as his guests to the old Southland.

Mr. Luke L. Bertrand, president of the Bertrand Lumber Co. made the round of the business houses in person this week and left on each desk a very handy and neat brass desk calendar. In the class was also a nice perforated note book that is very valuable to the user.

Messrs. Overton Cade, Jr., Fitzhugh Murray and Oliver Burke left last Thursday for the Island of Cuba. They will take off a large cane crop on the Central Sorrocoera Plantation. They intend to spend several days in New Orleans before making the journey across the Gulf. Harold Aubry and Claude Greignon and Claude Lassalle left yesterday morning for Hershby, Cuba.

Every year for more than a quarter of a century the Unsectarian Aid Society of New Iberia has undertaken to assist the poor and needy, as appeals for succor have been made known to them. This Society is now asking our generous citizens, who can afford to make donations, either in money, or the equivalent in discarded clothing, or eatables, so that they can distribute the same among the distressed people while they are badly in need of it. It is useless for us to undertake to recall some of the work of this noble band of women who have devoted the greater part of their lives to this Society. All of our people are familiar with the charitable work done in New Iberia by its members. At no time have they ever put over a house to house canvass for funds, preferring to leave this matter solely to the generous-hearted citizens themselves. It is the intention to distribute baskets of edibles to the poor in the shape of provisions, clothing and toys for the children during the Yuletide season, if the citizens will voluntarily send in subscriptions in the very near future. It behooves those who can afford to send in money to do so as early as possible so that the committee who has the distribution in charge will be guided accordingly.

The extreme cold weather last Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday completely killed the bud of the sugar cane crop and it means that unless the planters and farmers immediately windrow, they will suffer some heavy losses. If warm weather sets in and the remaining crop is not windrowed it will more than likely mean sour cane. The farmers generally have not made much headway in getting the crop to the mills and unless they bestir themselves some are going to be losers.

Owing to the opposition in the Belle Place Drainage District recently formed to build a drainage canal in the Third Ward, it was deemed advisable to call off the proposed election, scheduled to take the sense of the voters last Wednesday. This is regretted by many of the advocates and it is hoped that sentiment will yet be crystallized to vote a small tax for that purpose in that Ward. For many years a number of the property holders in that section have been advocating drainage canal in order to save the products of their labor. The route selected was one easily drained and had the land holders of that section looked upon the proposition more favorably, and endorsed the acreage tax, it was the intention of the people of New Iberia to build a commercial canal through Petite Bayou that would have not only drained thousands of acres of valuable land now almost unfit for use, but reclaimed many acres that would have enriched that entire section. A canal reaching the hard wood timber of the swamps in the region of Fausse Pointe has been a dream of many of our citizens for several years and with the assistance of the people of the Third Ward, who in fact would be the greatest beneficiaries from such a waterway, the canal would have been assured. This project, however, will never be undertaken unless all pull together. The indifference displayed, necessitating calling off the election simply means not only a delay, but heavy losses to many land owners who would have been assured sure crops in the future.

Died, in New Iberia on Monday, November 15th, 1920, after a prolonged illness, Mrs. Mae Hogan, a sister of Mrs. L. L. Mathews. The remains were in charge of the Dauterive Undertaking parlors until the following day when they were shipped to Jennings for burial in the family tomb. Deceased leaves two young children to mourn her demise.

A civil case of a great deal of interest was that which appeared before the 19th Judicial District Court this week entitled Leon Dreyfus versus the City of New Iberia. Hon. Walter J. Burke appeared before the Court in behalf of Mr. Dreyfus, the plaintiff, while the City's interest was represented by Porteus R. Burke, Esq. The question at issue was whether or not the City authorities had a right to stop Mr. Dreyfus in the work of paving sidewalks on several avenues in New Iberia after he had been granted a contract. Mr. Dreyfus it will be remembered had been awarded a contract to build several thousand feet of walk and a contention was raised that he was not complying with all of the specifications. Mayor Sealy ordered him to discontinue the work, or remove one of his main employees and this Mr. Dreyfus refused to do. He continued the paving, and later made a demand on the City authorities for a settlement. This was refused and the matter was brought before Judge Simon for a decision. Court was convened on Thursday of last week and on Monday evening, the case argued by the attorneys interested. A decision is expected to be handed down by His Honor, James Simon, this afternoon. A number of the property owners whose property had been paved were called as witnesses and from what we learn, nearly all of them testified that they were perfectly satisfied with the work as it had been performed by the contractor, and were perfectly willing that the work be continued by the contractor.
