

IF THE FRAME IS BUILT with sound, well seasoned lumber the building will be good for years and years of service or occupancy. A good solid frame can be re-covered with new siding again and again as the old becomes weathered and time worn. Our heavy timber for framing and sills is selected from the very finest lumber cut. It is thoroughly seasoned. It is the kind of timber that spells durability.

BOUTTE & COURREGE, CHOICE LUMBER.

Office and Yards: Corner Chestnut and Washington Avenue.

PERSONALS.

Miss Marie Cage enjoyed a few days here visiting Mrs. J. W. K. Shaw.

Mr. Charles Laborde was a business visitor in New Orleans for several days.

Miss Dorothy Hall spent the week-end visiting in Lafayette. Miss Lucy Crochet of Lafayette spent last Saturday here, the guest of friends.

Mr. A. Daigre and daughter, Mrs. George George were visitors in Alexandria for a few days this week.

Mrs. Clarence Duperier, Mrs. Sidney Laughlin, Mr. Albert Berry and Mr. Gus Lamperez attended the Fair in Lafayette last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Alphonse Hitter spent a week visiting relatives in Opelousas.

Mrs. E. A. McIlhenny entertained at lunch in honor of Mrs. Walter Burke, Mrs. Chas. L. Provost and Mrs. Fritz Dietlein.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Walter Villerman on Sunday, Oct. 16th, a girl.

Mrs. Worthy Quereau has returned from a visit to Gueydan. Mr. Louis Romero of Lafayette was a visitor here on Monday.

Mrs. Edgar Landry is visiting her daughter, Miss Agnes in Baton Rouge.

Mrs. Jules Dupuy and baby David left Wednesday for a visit to Weeks Island.

Miss Nina Barnard left Monday for Princeton, N. J., where she will spend some time.

Prof. Teekel was a week-end visitor in New Orleans.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Daigre and baby and Mrs. A. Daigre attended the Fair in Lafayette on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Ochs left Tuesday for a few days visit with relatives in New Orleans.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Compton and daughter, Miss Marion of Shreveport are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Courtland Compton.

Mr. I. T. Raud has returned from a visit to Meridian, Miss. and New Orleans.

Little Miss Inez Veazey entertained the Sewing Circle last Saturday afternoon.

Mr. Willard Briggs is enjoying a few days visiting friends in Lafayette.

The Methodist Missionary Society met Tuesday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. Tom Burnham.

Mrs. Jesse Oppenheimer and baby of Kansas City are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Kling.

Little Miss Mildred Minvielle entertained her many little girl friends last Saturday in honor of her birthday.

Mr. Wolfard and wife of Jeanette were visitors in New Orleans last Tuesday.

Mr. Herman Bauer has accepted a position in Mansfield for the...

Mr. Pat Legier of Abbeville visited friends here last Sunday.

Master Robert Lewald entertained his little friends Wednesday afternoon in honor of his birthday at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Lewald.

Mrs. Tom Conrad is the guest of relatives in Waco, Texas.

Miss Edna Lyles of Cheneyville spent the week-end here, the guest of Miss Ruth Rand.

Messrs. Julian and Francis Perry and Miss Edna Milam returned Wednesday to Houston, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. John M. Perry who will spend a few weeks with them.

Mr. Alex Perry returned Wednesday to New Orleans, having attended the funeral here of his brother, John L. Perry.

Mrs. Alfred Gonsoulin of Jeanerette, the venerable mother of our esteemed Clerk of Court, J. A. Gonsoulin is spending the week in New Iberia.

Miss Francis Miller left for Lake Charles where she will attend a business college.

Mr. Cleve French returned Wednesday to Houston, having attended the funeral of John L. Perry.

We had a pleasant visit on Thursday from Mr. L. L. James, the Agricultural Statistician of the Bureau of Market and Crops for Louisiana. Mr. James' headquarters are at New Orleans and he is making the rounds of the State in search of data for the enlightenment of our agriculturists.

Among the visitors to Lafayette Parish Fair were Messrs. Jim Colgin, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Haase and daughter, Miss Marjorie, Mrs. James Conrad, Mr. and Mrs. Fisher Koch, Miss Rita Soulier, Mr. and Mrs. R. V. St. Dizier.

Mrs. Jules Dupuy entertained the Bridge Club at the residence of Mrs. Jacob Davis on Wednesday. The prize was won by Mrs. Havert Sealy.

Those who participated in the games were Misses Lillian Soulier, Irma LeBlanc, Jessie Fisher, Mesdames Alfred Lewald, H. S. Sealy, Robert Haase, Edmund Landry, John Gebert, R. R. Diggs, Walter Carstens, Leon Minvielle, Jacob Davis, Carroll Dupuy and Miss Pearl Davis.

Mr. Robert Colly of Kentwood and Mr. John Holland of Lake Charles were visitors here on Wednesday at the home of Mr. Clarence Duperier.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Turner on Sunday, Oct. 16th, a boy.

Mrs. Walter Carstens and little daughter left Friday for a few days visit to New Orleans.

Mrs. Wilts of New Orleans is the guest of Dr. and Mrs. Edmund Landry.

Mrs. Albert Estorge entertained the "As You Like It" club on Wednesday afternoon at her residence on East Main Street. After a few days visit here, Mr. Leo LeMaire left Thursday for Lake Charles.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Laurent Dauterive on Thursday, a girl.

Mr. Neff has bought the Jacob property on Marie and Pollard Ave. and removed his family into it.

Mrs. Leon Bagarry and little grand-daughter, Gloria Junca returned Wednesday from a short visit to New Orleans.

Mr. Will Baumann is visiting his mother and sisters in Beaumont this week.

The friends of Mrs. Courtland M. Compton will be pleased to learn that she is steadily improving from her illness.

Mr. John O'Bryan editor of the Abbeville Progress spent several hours here on Monday.

Hon. Edward L. Estorge and wife returned last Saturday from Atlantic City, N. J., after an absence of several weeks.

While East they also spent several days in New York and other cities. During their sojourn East they attended the National Convention of Wholesale Druggists.

Sheriff Landry is contemplating visiting Washington, D. C. on the return trip to the Capital of Mr. Courtland M. Compton which will be in about fifteen days. Mr. Landry will also visit New York and possibly Atlantic City while in the East.

Misses Pauline and Ellen Suberbielle entertained the Thursday's Bridge Club. The club prize was won by Mrs. Carroll Dupuy. Guest prize by Mrs. St. Dizier and consolation by Mrs. Albert Hill. Those who enjoyed the afternoon were Misses Lily Emmer, Pearl Davis, Ethel Carver, Jack Webster, Mildred Weeks, Yvonne Dreyfus, Nina Burke, Muriel Kling, Marie Renouet, Mesdames Edgar Dupre, Carroll Dupuy, R. V. St. Dizier, Albert Hill, Tom Jones, Perry Burke and Jesse Oppenheimer.

We have in stock a full line of Dressed Furs ready to wear. All descriptions. Call on Steinberg Co.

LOCAL NEWS.

—We learned yesterday morning that on Thursday night Dr. U. S. Perret of Patoutville had the misfortune of losing by fire, his large barn and silo on his property near Patoutville. His dwelling also had a narrow escape from the flames. How the fire originated has not as yet been ascertained. Both the barn and silo were brim full of food products and the loss financially is quite heavy.

—Invitations have been issued of the wedding of Miss Yvonne Dreyfus, the talented young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Dreyfus and Mr. Maurice N. Dannenbaum on Thursday evening, November 3d, 1921 at eight o'clock in the Temple Gates of Prayer in this City.

—Mother Augustin of the Sisters of Our Lady of Mt. Carmel of Rayne, well and favorably known to our New Iberians request us to mention that the Institution, of which she is in charge, in our sister town will hold a two-day benefit fair on Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 29th and 30th. All her former friends and the public in general are invited to attend.

—We are in receipt of an announcement from the Kahn Pharmacy of the celebration of its First Anniversary during the early part of the week. About a year ago this establishment, which was founded by Mr. Harold A. Kahn, a graduate pharmacist opened its doors for business in the Knights of Pythias building on Main Street and in that short duration received a wonderful patronage. The secret of Mr. Kahn's success is due to the slogan which he adopted when he opened the store "courteousness, efficiency and good service." The proprietor is a native son of New Iberia and has the best wishes of our citizens. He is a true believer in printer's ink and offers every opportunity to give the best help his name bears.

—Biff! Bang! Biff! and the war on game birds began last Sunday morning. As early as five o'clock in the morning slumberers were awakened by shooting in every vicinity. The fusillade sounded like every gun that could be fired had been brought out at one time. Hunters dressed in every conceivable garb were seen flying out to some pasture in search of doves, quails, prairie hens and other birds that it is permissible to slaughter. With but few exceptions everybody had a nice mess of birds for their dinner and supper, due to the generosity of their hunter friends. The editor, however, was probably one of the few that was overlooked and had to console himself by devouring parts of a barn yard fowl, as usual. Well, we are thankful after all that we were fortunate enough to get even that. While on this line of thought, we were informed that Game Commissioner A. G. Barrow took into the coils of the law several New Iberians who could not resist the temptation of hunting before the season opened and started out on Saturday afternoon rather than Sunday. The quartette were promptly arrested and from what we could ascertain all plead guilty to the offense and were fined $25.00 and costs of Court by Judge Power. Mr. Barrow means to enforce the law and those who overstep themselves by killing more than the law permits must expect to be arrested. Let all take warning.

—Biff! Bang! Biff! and the war on game birds began last Sunday morning. As early as five o'clock in the morning slumberers were awakened by shooting in every vicinity. The fusillade sounded like every gun that could be fired had been brought out at one time. Hunters dressed in every conceivable garb were seen flying out to some pasture in search of doves, quails, prairie hens and other birds that it is permissible to slaughter. With but few exceptions everybody had a nice mess of birds for their dinner and supper, due to the generosity of their hunter friends. The editor, however, was probably one of the few that was overlooked and had to console himself by devouring parts of a barn yard fowl, as usual. Well, we are thankful after all that we were fortunate enough to get even that. While on this line of thought, we were informed that Game Commissioner A. G. Barrow took into the coils of the law several New Iberians who could not resist the temptation of hunting before the season opened and started out on Saturday afternoon rather than Sunday. The quartette were promptly arrested and from what we could ascertain all plead guilty to the offense and were fined $25.00 and costs of Court by Judge Power. Mr. Barrow means to enforce the law and those who overstep themselves by killing more than the law permits must expect to be arrested. Let all take warning.

—Biff! Bang! Biff! and the war on game birds began last Sunday morning. As early as five o'clock in the morning slumberers were awakened by shooting in every vicinity. The fusillade sounded like every gun that could be fired had been brought out at one time. Hunters dressed in every conceivable garb were seen flying out to some pasture in search of doves, quails, prairie hens and other birds that it is permissible to slaughter. With but few exceptions everybody had a nice mess of birds for their dinner and supper, due to the generosity of their hunter friends. The editor, however, was probably one of the few that was overlooked and had to console himself by devouring parts of a barn yard fowl, as usual. Well, we are thankful after all that we were fortunate enough to get even that. While on this line of thought, we were informed that Game Commissioner A. G. Barrow took into the coils of the law several New Iberians who could not resist the temptation of hunting before the season opened and started out on Saturday afternoon rather than Sunday. The quartette were promptly arrested and from what we could ascertain all plead guilty to the offense and were fined $25.00 and costs of Court by Judge Power. Mr. Barrow means to enforce the law and those who overstep themselves by killing more than the law permits must expect to be arrested. Let all take warning.

—Biff! Bang! Biff! and the war on game birds began last Sunday morning. As early as five o'clock in the morning slumberers were awakened by shooting in every vicinity. The fusillade sounded like every gun that could be fired had been brought out at one time. Hunters dressed in every conceivable garb were seen flying out to some pasture in search of doves, quails, prairie hens and other birds that it is permissible to slaughter. With but few exceptions everybody had a nice mess of birds for their dinner and supper, due to the generosity of their hunter friends. The editor, however, was probably one of the few that was overlooked and had to console himself by devouring parts of a barn yard fowl, as usual. Well, we are thankful after all that we were fortunate enough to get even that. While on this line of thought, we were informed that Game Commissioner A. G. Barrow took into the coils of the law several New Iberians who could not resist the temptation of hunting before the season opened and started out on Saturday afternoon rather than Sunday. The quartette were promptly arrested and from what we could ascertain all plead guilty to the offense and were fined $25.00 and costs of Court by Judge Power. Mr. Barrow means to enforce the law and those who overstep themselves by killing more than the law permits must expect to be arrested. Let all take warning.

—Biff! Bang! Biff! and the war on game birds began last Sunday morning. As early as five o'clock in the morning slumberers were awakened by shooting in every vicinity. The fusillade sounded like every gun that could be fired had been brought out at one time. Hunters dressed in every conceivable garb were seen flying out to some pasture in search of doves, quails, prairie hens and other birds that it is permissible to slaughter. With but few exceptions everybody had a nice mess of birds for their dinner and supper, due to the generosity of their hunter friends. The editor, however, was probably one of the few that was overlooked and had to console himself by devouring parts of a barn yard fowl, as usual. Well, we are thankful after all that we were fortunate enough to get even that. While on this line of thought, we were informed that Game Commissioner A. G. Barrow took into the coils of the law several New Iberians who could not resist the temptation of hunting before the season opened and started out on Saturday afternoon rather than Sunday. The quartette were promptly arrested and from what we could ascertain all plead guilty to the offense and were fined $25.00 and costs of Court by Judge Power. Mr. Barrow means to enforce the law and those who overstep themselves by killing more than the law permits must expect to be arrested. Let all take warning.

—Biff! Bang! Biff! and the war on game birds began last Sunday morning. As early as five o'clock in the morning slumberers were awakened by shooting in every vicinity. The fusillade sounded like every gun that could be fired had been brought out at one time. Hunters dressed in every conceivable garb were seen flying out to some pasture in search of doves, quails, prairie hens and other birds that it is permissible to slaughter. With but few exceptions everybody had a nice mess of birds for their dinner and supper, due to the generosity of their hunter friends. The editor, however, was probably one of the few that was overlooked and had to console himself by devouring parts of a barn yard fowl, as usual. Well, we are thankful after all that we were fortunate enough to get even that. While on this line of thought, we were informed that Game Commissioner A. G. Barrow took into the coils of the law several New Iberians who could not resist the temptation of hunting before the season opened and started out on Saturday afternoon rather than Sunday. The quartette were promptly arrested and from what we could ascertain all plead guilty to the offense and were fined $25.00 and costs of Court by Judge Power. Mr. Barrow means to enforce the law and those who overstep themselves by killing more than the law permits must expect to be arrested. Let all take warning.

—Biff! Bang! Biff! and the war on game birds began last Sunday morning. As early as five o'clock in the morning slumberers were awakened by shooting in every vicinity. The fusillade sounded like every gun that could be fired had been brought out at one time. Hunters dressed in every conceivable garb were seen flying out to some pasture in search of doves, quails, prairie hens and other birds that it is permissible to slaughter. With but few exceptions everybody had a nice mess of birds for their dinner and supper, due to the generosity of their hunter friends. The editor, however, was probably one of the few that was overlooked and had to console himself by devouring parts of a barn yard fowl, as usual. Well, we are thankful after all that we were fortunate enough to get even that. While on this line of thought, we were informed that Game Commissioner A. G. Barrow took into the coils of the law several New Iberians who could not resist the temptation of hunting before the season opened and started out on Saturday afternoon rather than Sunday. The quartette were promptly arrested and from what we could ascertain all plead guilty to the offense and were fined $25.00 and costs of Court by Judge Power. Mr. Barrow means to enforce the law and those who overstep themselves by killing more than the law permits must expect to be arrested. Let all take warning.

—Biff! Bang! Biff! and the war on game birds began last Sunday morning. As early as five o'clock in the morning slumberers were awakened by shooting in every vicinity. The fusillade sounded like every gun that could be fired had been brought out at one time. Hunters dressed in every conceivable garb were seen flying out to some pasture in search of doves, quails, prairie hens and other birds that it is permissible to slaughter. With but few exceptions everybody had a nice mess of birds for their dinner and supper, due to the generosity of their hunter friends. The editor, however, was probably one of the few that was overlooked and had to console himself by devouring parts of a barn yard fowl, as usual. Well, we are thankful after all that we were fortunate enough to get even that. While on this line of thought, we were informed that Game Commissioner A. G. Barrow took into the coils of the law several New Iberians who could not resist the temptation of hunting before the season opened and started out on Saturday afternoon rather than Sunday. The quartette were promptly arrested and from what we could ascertain all plead guilty to the offense and were fined $25.00 and costs of Court by Judge Power. Mr. Barrow means to enforce the law and those who overstep themselves by killing more than the law permits must expect to be arrested. Let all take warning.

—Biff! Bang! Biff! and the war on game birds began last Sunday morning. As early as five o'clock in the morning slumberers were awakened by shooting in every vicinity. The fusillade sounded like every gun that could be fired had been brought out at one time. Hunters dressed in every conceivable garb were seen flying out to some pasture in search of doves, quails, prairie hens and other birds that it is permissible to slaughter. With but few exceptions everybody had a nice mess of birds for their dinner and supper, due to the generosity of their hunter friends. The editor, however, was probably one of the few that was overlooked and had to console himself by devouring parts of a barn yard fowl, as usual. Well, we are thankful after all that we were fortunate enough to get even that. While on this line of thought, we were informed that Game Commissioner A. G. Barrow took into the coils of the law several New Iberians who could not resist the temptation of hunting before the season opened and started out on Saturday afternoon rather than Sunday. The quartette were promptly arrested and from what we could ascertain all plead guilty to the offense and were fined $25.00 and costs of Court by Judge Power. Mr. Barrow means to enforce the law and those who overstep themselves by killing more than the law permits must expect to be arrested. Let all take warning.

—Biff! Bang! Biff! and the war on game birds began last Sunday morning. As early as five o'clock in the morning slumberers were awakened by shooting in every vicinity. The fusillade sounded like every gun that could be fired had been brought out at one time. Hunters dressed in every conceivable garb were seen flying out to some pasture in search of doves, quails, prairie hens and other birds that it is permissible to slaughter. With but few exceptions everybody had a nice mess of birds for their dinner and supper, due to the generosity of their hunter friends. The editor, however, was probably one of the few that was overlooked and had to console himself by devouring parts of a barn yard fowl, as usual. Well, we are thankful after all that we were fortunate enough to get even that. While on this line of thought, we were informed that Game Commissioner A. G. Barrow took into the coils of the law several New Iberians who could not resist the temptation of hunting before the season opened and started out on Saturday afternoon rather than Sunday. The quartette were promptly arrested and from what we could ascertain all plead guilty to the offense and were fined $25.00 and costs of Court by Judge Power. Mr. Barrow means to enforce the law and those who overstep themselves by killing more than the law permits must expect to be arrested. Let all take warning.

—Biff! Bang! Biff! and the war on game birds began last Sunday morning. As early as five o'clock in the morning slumberers were awakened by shooting in every vicinity. The fusillade sounded like every gun that could be fired had been brought out at one time. Hunters dressed in every conceivable garb were seen flying out to some pasture in search of doves, quails, prairie hens and other birds that it is permissible to slaughter. With but few exceptions everybody had a nice mess of birds for their dinner and supper, due to the generosity of their hunter friends. The editor, however, was probably one of the few that was overlooked and had to console himself by devouring parts of a barn yard fowl, as usual. Well, we are thankful after all that we were fortunate enough to get even that. While on this line of thought, we were informed that Game Commissioner A. G. Barrow took into the coils of the law several New Iberians who could not resist the temptation of hunting before the season opened and started out on Saturday afternoon rather than Sunday. The quartette were promptly arrested and from what we could ascertain all plead guilty to the offense and were fined $25.00 and costs of Court by Judge Power. Mr. Barrow means to enforce the law and those who overstep themselves by killing more than the law permits must expect to be arrested. Let all take warning.

—Biff! Bang! Biff! and the war on game birds began last Sunday morning. As early as five o'clock in the morning slumberers were awakened by shooting in every vicinity. The fusillade sounded like every gun that could be fired had been brought out at one time. Hunters dressed in every conceivable garb were seen flying out to some pasture in search of doves, quails, prairie hens and other birds that it is permissible to slaughter. With but few exceptions everybody had a nice mess of birds for their dinner and supper, due to the generosity of their hunter friends. The editor, however, was probably one of the few that was overlooked and had to console himself by devouring parts of a barn yard fowl, as usual. Well, we are thankful after all that we were fortunate enough to get even that. While on this line of thought, we were informed that Game Commissioner A. G. Barrow took into the coils of the law several New Iberians who could not resist the temptation of hunting before the season opened and started out on Saturday afternoon rather than Sunday. The quartette were promptly arrested and from what we could ascertain all plead guilty to the offense and were fined $25.00 and costs of Court by Judge Power. Mr. Barrow means to enforce the law and those who overstep themselves by killing more than the law permits must expect to be arrested. Let all take warning.

—Biff! Bang! Biff! and the war on game birds began last Sunday morning. As early as five o'clock in the morning slumberers were awakened by shooting in every vicinity. The fusillade sounded like every gun that could be fired had been brought out at one time. Hunters dressed in every conceivable garb were seen flying out to some pasture in search of doves, quails, prairie hens and other birds that it is permissible to slaughter. With but few exceptions everybody had a nice mess of birds for their dinner and supper, due to the generosity of their hunter friends. The editor, however, was probably one of the few that was overlooked and had to console himself by devouring parts of a barn yard fowl, as usual. Well, we are thankful after all that we were fortunate enough to get even that. While on this line of thought, we were informed that Game Commissioner A. G. Barrow took into the coils of the law several New Iberians who could not resist the temptation of hunting before the season opened and started out on Saturday afternoon rather than Sunday. The quartette were promptly arrested and from what we could ascertain all plead guilty to the offense and were fined $25.00 and costs of Court by Judge Power. Mr. Barrow means to enforce the law and those who overstep themselves by killing more than the law permits must expect to be arrested. Let all take warning.

—Biff! Bang! Biff! and the war on game birds began last Sunday morning. As early as five o'clock in the morning slumberers were awakened by shooting in every vicinity. The fusillade sounded like every gun that could be fired had been brought out at one time. Hunters dressed in every conceivable garb were seen flying out to some pasture in search of doves, quails, prairie hens and other birds that it is permissible to slaughter. With but few exceptions everybody had a nice mess of birds for their dinner and supper, due to the generosity of their hunter friends. The editor, however, was probably one of the few that was overlooked and had to console himself by devouring parts of a barn yard fowl, as usual. Well, we are thankful after all that we were fortunate enough to get even that. While on this line of thought, we were informed that Game Commissioner A. G. Barrow took into the coils of the law several New Iberians who could not resist the temptation of hunting before the season opened and started out on Saturday afternoon rather than Sunday. The quartette were promptly arrested and from what we could ascertain all plead guilty to the offense and were fined $25.00 and costs of Court by Judge Power. Mr. Barrow means to enforce the law and those who overstep themselves by killing more than the law permits must expect to be arrested. Let all take warning.

—Biff! Bang! Biff! and the war on game birds began last Sunday morning. As early as five o'clock in the morning slumberers were awakened by shooting in every vicinity. The fusillade sounded like every gun that could be fired had been brought out at one time. Hunters dressed in every conceivable garb were seen flying out to some pasture in search of doves, quails, prairie hens and other birds that it is permissible to slaughter. With but few exceptions everybody had a nice mess of birds for their dinner and supper, due to the generosity of their hunter friends. The editor, however, was probably one of the few that was overlooked and had to console himself by devouring parts of a barn yard fowl, as usual. Well, we are thankful after all that we were fortunate enough to get even that. While on this line of thought, we were informed that Game Commissioner A. G. Barrow took into the coils of the law several New Iberians who could not resist the temptation of hunting before the season opened and started out on Saturday afternoon rather than Sunday. The quartette were promptly arrested and from what we could ascertain all plead guilty to the offense and were fined $25.00 and costs of Court by Judge Power. Mr. Barrow means to enforce the law and those who overstep themselves by killing more than the law permits must expect to be arrested. Let all take warning.

—Biff! Bang! Biff! and the war on game birds began last Sunday morning. As early as five o'clock in the morning slumberers were awakened by shooting in every vicinity. The fusillade sounded like every gun that could be fired had been brought out at one time. Hunters dressed in every conceivable garb were seen flying out to some pasture in search of doves, quails, prairie hens and other birds that it is permissible to slaughter. With but few exceptions everybody had a nice mess of birds for their dinner and supper, due to the generosity of their hunter friends. The editor, however, was probably one of the few that was overlooked and had to console himself by devouring parts of a barn yard fowl, as usual. Well, we are thankful after all that we were fortunate enough to get even that. While on this line of thought, we were informed that Game Commissioner A. G. Barrow took into the coils of the law several New Iberians who could not resist the temptation of hunting before the season opened and started out on Saturday afternoon rather than Sunday. The quartette were promptly arrested and from what we could ascertain all plead guilty to the offense and were fined $25.00 and costs of Court by Judge Power. Mr. Barrow means to enforce the law and those who overstep themselves by killing more than the law permits must expect to be arrested. Let all take warning.

—Biff! Bang! Biff! and the war on game birds began last Sunday morning. As early as five o'clock in the morning slumberers were awakened by shooting in every vicinity. The fusillade sounded like every gun that could be fired had been brought out at one time. Hunters dressed in every conceivable garb were seen flying out to some pasture in search of doves, quails, prairie hens and other birds that it is permissible to slaughter. With but few exceptions everybody had a nice mess of birds for their dinner and supper, due to the generosity of their hunter friends. The editor, however, was probably one of the few that was overlooked and had to console himself by devouring parts of a barn yard fowl, as usual. Well, we are thankful after all that we were fortunate enough to get even that. While on this line of thought, we were informed that Game Commissioner A. G. Barrow took into the coils of the law several New Iberians who could not resist the temptation of hunting before the season opened and started out on Saturday afternoon rather than Sunday. The quartette were promptly arrested and from what we could ascertain all plead guilty to the offense and were fined $25.00 and costs of Court by Judge Power. Mr. Barrow means to enforce the law and those who overstep themselves by killing more than the law permits must expect to be arrested. Let all take warning.

—Biff! Bang! Biff! and the war on game birds began last Sunday morning. As early as five o'clock in the morning slumberers were awakened by shooting in every vicinity. The fusillade sounded like every gun that could be fired had been brought out at one time. Hunters dressed in every conceivable garb were seen flying out to some pasture in search of doves, quails, prairie hens and other birds that it is permissible to slaughter. With but few exceptions everybody had a nice mess of birds for their dinner and supper, due to the generosity of their hunter friends. The editor, however, was probably one of the few that was overlooked and had to console himself by devouring parts of a barn yard fowl, as usual. Well, we are thankful after all that we were fortunate enough to get even that. While on this line of thought, we were informed that Game Commissioner A. G. Barrow took into the coils of the law several New Iberians who could not resist the temptation of hunting before the season opened and started out on Saturday afternoon rather than Sunday. The quartette were promptly arrested and from what we could ascertain all plead guilty to the offense and were fined $25.00 and costs of Court by Judge Power. Mr. Barrow means to enforce the law and those who overstep themselves by killing more than the law permits must expect to be arrested. Let all take warning.

—Biff! Bang! Biff! and the war on game birds began last Sunday morning. As early as five o'clock in the morning slumberers were awakened by shooting in every vicinity. The fusillade sounded like every gun that could be fired had been brought out at one time. Hunters dressed in every conceivable garb were seen flying out to some pasture in search of doves, quails, prairie hens and other birds that it is permissible to slaughter. With but few exceptions everybody had a nice mess of birds for their dinner and supper, due to the generosity of their hunter friends. The editor, however, was probably one of the few that was overlooked and had to console himself by devouring parts of a barn yard fowl, as usual. Well, we are thankful after all that we were fortunate enough to get even that. While on this line of thought, we were informed that Game Commissioner A. G. Barrow took into the coils of the law several New Iberians who could not resist the temptation of hunting before the season opened and started out on Saturday afternoon rather than Sunday. The quartette were promptly arrested and from what we could ascertain all plead guilty to the offense and were fined $25.00 and costs of Court by Judge Power. Mr. Barrow means to enforce the law and those who overstep themselves by killing more than the law permits must expect to be arrested. Let all take warning.

—Biff! Bang! Biff! and the war on game birds began last Sunday morning. As early as five o'clock in the morning slumberers were awakened by shooting in every vicinity. The fusillade sounded like every gun that could be fired had been brought out at one time. Hunters dressed in every conceivable garb were seen flying out to some pasture in search of doves, quails, prairie hens and other birds that it is permissible to slaughter. With but few exceptions everybody had a nice mess of birds for their dinner and supper, due to the generosity of their hunter friends. The editor, however, was probably one of the few that was overlooked and had to console himself by devouring parts of a barn yard fowl, as usual. Well, we are thankful after all that we were fortunate enough to get even that. While on this line of thought, we were informed that Game Commissioner A. G. Barrow took into the coils of the law several New Iberians who could not resist the temptation of hunting before the season opened and started out on Saturday afternoon rather than Sunday. The quartette were promptly arrested and from what we could ascertain all plead guilty to the offense and were fined $25.00 and costs of Court by Judge Power. Mr. Barrow means to enforce the law and those who overstep themselves by killing more than the law permits must expect to be arrested. Let all take warning.

—Biff! Bang! Biff! and the war on game birds began last Sunday morning. As early as five o'clock in the morning slumberers were awakened by shooting in every vicinity. The fusillade sounded like every gun that could be fired had been brought out at one time. Hunters dressed in every conceivable garb were seen flying out to some pasture in search of doves, quails, prairie hens and other birds that it is permissible to slaughter. With but few exceptions everybody had a nice mess of birds for their dinner and supper, due to the generosity of their hunter friends. The editor, however, was probably one of the few that was overlooked and had to console himself by devouring parts of a barn yard fowl, as usual. Well, we are thankful after all that we were fortunate enough to get even that. While on this line of thought, we were informed that Game Commissioner A. G. Barrow took into the coils of the law several New Iberians who could not resist the temptation of hunting before the season opened and started out on Saturday afternoon rather than Sunday. The quartette were promptly arrested and from what we could ascertain all plead guilty to the offense and were fined $25.00 and costs of Court by Judge Power. Mr. Barrow means to enforce the law and those who overstep themselves by killing more than the law permits must expect to be arrested. Let all take warning.

—Biff! Bang! Biff! and the war on game birds began last Sunday morning. As early as five o'clock in the morning slumberers were awakened by shooting in every vicinity. The fusillade sounded like every gun that could be fired had been brought out at one time. Hunters dressed in every conceivable garb were seen flying out to some pasture in search of doves, quails, prairie hens and other birds that it is permissible to slaughter. With but few exceptions everybody had a nice mess of birds for their dinner and supper, due to the generosity of their hunter friends. The editor, however, was probably one of the few that was overlooked and had to console himself by devouring parts of a barn yard fowl, as usual. Well, we are thankful after all that we were fortunate enough to get even that. While on this line of thought, we were informed that Game Commissioner A. G. Barrow took into the coils of the law several New Iberians who could not resist the temptation of hunting before the season opened and started out on Saturday afternoon rather than Sunday. The quartette were promptly arrested and from what we could ascertain all plead guilty to the offense and were fined $25.00 and costs of Court by Judge Power. Mr. Barrow means to enforce the law and those who overstep themselves by killing more than the law permits must expect to be arrested. Let all take warning.

—Biff! Bang! Biff! and the war on game birds began last Sunday morning. As early as five o'clock in the morning slumberers were awakened by shooting in every vicinity. The fusillade sounded like every gun that could be fired had been brought out at one time. Hunters dressed in every conceivable garb were seen flying out to some pasture in search of doves, quails, prairie hens and other birds that it is permissible to slaughter. With but few exceptions everybody had a nice mess of birds for their dinner and supper, due to the generosity of their hunter friends. The editor, however, was probably one of the few that was overlooked and had to console himself by devouring parts of a barn yard fowl, as usual. Well, we are thankful after all that we were fortunate enough to get even that. While on this line of thought, we were informed that Game Commissioner A. G. Barrow took into the coils of the law several New Iberians who could not resist the temptation of hunting before the season opened and started out on Saturday afternoon rather than Sunday. The quartette were promptly arrested and from what we could ascertain all plead guilty to the offense and were fined $25.00 and costs of Court by Judge Power. Mr. Barrow means to enforce the law and those who overstep themselves by killing more than the law permits must expect to be arrested. Let all take warning.

—Biff! Bang! Biff! and the war on game birds began last Sunday morning. As early as five o'clock in the morning slumberers were awakened by shooting in every vicinity. The fusillade sounded like every gun that could be fired had been brought out at one time. Hunters dressed in every conceivable garb were seen flying out to some pasture in search of doves, quails, prairie hens and other birds that it is permissible to slaughter. With but few exceptions everybody had a nice mess of birds for their dinner and supper, due to the generosity of their hunter friends. The editor, however, was probably one of the few that was overlooked and had to console himself by devouring parts of a barn yard fowl, as usual. Well, we are thankful after all that we were fortunate enough to get even that. While on this line of thought, we were informed that Game Commissioner A. G. Barrow took into the coils of the law several New Iberians who could not resist the temptation of hunting before the season opened and started out on Saturday afternoon rather than Sunday. The quartette were promptly arrested and from what we could ascertain all plead guilty to the offense and were fined $25.00 and costs of Court by Judge Power. Mr. Barrow means to enforce the law and those who overstep themselves by killing more than the law permits must expect to be arrested. Let all take warning.

—Biff! Bang! Biff! and the war on game birds began last Sunday morning. As early as five o'clock in the morning slumberers were awakened by shooting in every vicinity. The fusillade sounded like every gun that could be fired had been brought out at one time. Hunters dressed in every conceivable garb were seen flying out to some pasture in search of doves, quails, prairie hens and other birds that it is permissible to slaughter. With but few exceptions everybody had a nice mess of birds for their dinner and supper, due to the generosity of their hunter friends. The editor, however, was probably one of the few