Prohibition Items.

EDITED BY WOMAN'S ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE

The following, read at the "Woman's Anti-Saloon League," should be known by every citizen in our parish. Both items are taken from the "Shreveport Journal," Jan. 14:

We, the undersigned citizens of Minden, La., submit the following facts as an evidence that Prohibition does not "kill" a town:

Property assessment last year Minden had saloons, about.....	$295,000
Property assessment for 1907, with no saloon, about.....	765,000
Daily industrial pay rolls 1906, less than Daily industrial pay rolls 1907, with no saloons more than.....	25
Population, 1906, Minden had saloons about.....	1,000
Population for 1907, with no saloons, about.....	1,100
Value of church property 1906 Minden had saloons, about.....	3,500
Value of church property 1907, with no saloons, about.....	10,000
Bank deposits 1906, Minden had saloons about.....	50,000
Bank deposits in 1907, with no saloons about.....	45,000
Bank deposits in 1907, with no saloons about.....	500,000

These are only a few of the many facts that might be cited to show the great prosperity that Minden has had with prohibition, but we believe they are sufficient to convince any reasonable man of the fallacy of the argument that prohibition kills a town, financially."

The liquor traffic is the most degrading and ruinous of all human pursuits. By legalizing this traffic we agree to share with the liquor seller the responsibilities and evils of his business. Every man who votes for license becomes of necessity a partner to the liquor traffic and all its consequences.—WILLIAM MCKINLEY.

Mrs. E. L. Newsham entertained at dinner on Sunday the lady teachers of the Freyhan High School, Misses May and Elvire Huey, Frank Scales, Nathaniel Prunett and Oriana Pillet. Despite the rain without, all was bright and cheery within, and a delightful day was the portion of guests and guests. The table was pretty with ferns and roses.

The Greensburg Echo says:

"We claim to be a Democrat. To us democracy is as a religion. It would be impossible to change our belief in the fundamental principles of democracy as they were taught and practiced by Jefferson and Jackson, nor could we be honest with ourself and to our children to teach and advocate any other doctrine; but Jefferson and Jackson are not in control of the party in this State, and we do not feel that we can be honest with ourself and quietly submit to being bucked and gagged and made to serve a party that has become as corrupt as hell itself."

This evidences strong feeling and conviction, but in all candor, it should be said that a party does not become corrupt in a day. When, may we ask our brother of the Echo, did this corruption begin, or rather when did he discover it? In the late campaign, our brother was absolutely blind—for none is so blind as he who will not see—as to the state of affairs. He would not see. He refused to hear. He declined to investigate. It is a pity that his change of feeling should come too late to assist in the crusade so fruitlessly waged in the campaign.

The house occupied by Jas. Vinci near the R. R. V. station is undergoing repairs.

Our first Philippine money order comes from our young friend, Bert Levy, who wants to have the home paper sent to him across the seas. May it ever bring him good tidings from the folks at home.

THE TRUE DEMOCRAT building is now going up. The brick used is the Bayou Sara Brick Co's. product, and will make an attractive building say all who have seen ours, the very first built from this brick. Mr. Wm. Schneibelen, manager of the company, was on the ground, Saturday, and was much gratified with the effect. We hope next week to be able to announce when the building will be completed.

In striking contrast to a recent flowery argosy from Rosedown sent us by its chatelaine two weeks ago, showing the rich blossoms of late winter, now comes a tray from Mrs. J. P. Newsham heaped with flowers of the early spring, but lavishly abundant and fine as her skill and taste seem able to produce. Roses, looking like they never knew a chilling wind; lilacs, pale flower-children of far New England, in great clusters; early verbenas, all perfect with delightful some beauty and fragrance.

The regular quarterly muster of Co. A. will be held Monday, March 30, 6 p. m. at the armory. Annual inspection by a United States Army officer will take place at the same time. Coffee and lunch will be served at Pythian Hall after inspection. A full attendance of members is ordered.

There are a few more empty houses in town than we like to see. Stir up, every body, and originate new industries to fill those houses. At one time empty houses were scarce. Now there are several. One is too many. These things should be looked after, and property-holders, tenants of the soil, should make it their personal concern to keep up the average of growth and progression lest their own holdings depreciate in value. These towns need more small industries to attract and hold working people.

The Art Exhibit at the school house has been very well patronized this week. The collection is composed of nearly 300 large carbon photographs and engravings of some of the most celebrated pictures and statues, and affords both pleasure and instruction. A few pictures are in color, but these are hardly so good as the black and white and brown and white. The excellence of the exhibit was surprising as nothing so fine was expected.

The Woman's Anti-Saloon League is growing in membership with each meeting. The secretary informs us that it numbers 140.

Pa, what's the difference between the man who is free. white and twenty one, who has paid his poll tax, registered and voted, and a squaw-man?

Just one dollar my son. The squaw-man is one dollar ahead.—The Iberian.
