

Saved Girl's Life

"I want to tell you what wonderful benefit I have received from the use of Thedford's Black-Draught," writes Mrs. Sylvania Woods, of Clifton Mills, Ky.

"It certainly has no equal for la grippe, bad colds, liver and stomach troubles. I firmly believe Black-Draught saved my little girl's life. When she had the measles, they went in on her, but one good dose of Thedford's Black-Draught made them break out, and she has had no more trouble. I shall never be without

PREVENTING HOUSE FLIES.

Last summer I visited a community, and one of the first things I noticed was the small number of house flies. With the first fly there were fly-paper, fly-traps and fly swatters waiting to get him. The folks said they saved the battle by getting the early flies.

I found all doors and windows screened, traps about the kitchen doors and near the stables, all rags and rubbish kept burned, and no flies. The neighbors kept the manure in fly-proof closets and the manure sprinkled with a small shovelful of chloride of lime. The manure closets were screened where there were windows left for ventilation purposes.

Since the flies breed in the stable more than elsewhere, those progressive farmers cleaned the stable every day and sprinkled lime on the floors.

The results of these clean conditions about the homes had been a reduction in the typhoid fever in the community, as well as lessening other worries occasioned by the pest. The physicians are authority for this statement.

Moral: Get the first fly when he arrives, and maybe you'll save having to bother with the second one.—Chas. W. Castner, Layon, Texas.

You can get prompt delivery by parcel post on all furnishing goods bought from E. A. Laboye, Baton Rouge. (Advt)

CUT DOWN WEEDS.

The man who plants a garden in the spring and does not follow up the early crops at once with succession crops, but leaves his garden in the late summer and fall with a rank growth of weeds, dead tomato vines and dry corn stalks, will have weeds in abundance, nut-grass included, and will have his early plants next spring eaten down by cut-worms, for the eggs that produce these are laid in the grass and weeds and hatch out in the spring as the crops are planted.

Five years ago when I bought the land on which my garden is, it had been lying out and growing weeds for years, and the first spring I attempted to make a garden. I had a regular battle with cut-worms and the nut-grass. But that summer the garden was kept absolutely clean, and the next spring there were few cut-worms and nut-grass was more scanty. Again the nut-grass was chopped off daily and the whole garden kept constantly at work growing something useful, and since then I have hardly found a cut-worm, and nut-grass is the scarcest weed in the garden.

FLORIDA GENEROUS TO VETERANS

Pays Out More Money to Sustain Old Soldiers

Than Any Other Southern State and Builds Monuments to Memory—Confederate Reunion May 6, 7, 8, at Jacksonville.

Jacksonville, Fla.—The State of Florida pays out more money per capita for the support of dependent ex-Confederate soldiers than any other Southern State. This fact should be sufficient to convince ex-Confederates everywhere that when they and their descendants visit Jacksonville on the occasion of the 24th annual reunion of the United Confederate Veteran's Association that they will be in the hands of their friends. The reunion will be held May 6, 7, 8.

The handsome total of $600,000 per annum is being paid by the state for support of ex-Confederate pensioners. The average yearly amount paid to each person on the pension list, according to the latest report of the State Board of Pensions, is $121.25, while the average paid to old soldiers is $122.30. Widows of Confederate soldiers draw an average of $120 per annum. Since the report from which these figures are taken was made, the legislature has passed a still more liberal pension law, which will authorize additional payments of approximately $150,000 a year, making the total $750,000 per annum paid to Confederate pensioners by the state.

There are 2,633 soldier pensioners on the rolls of the state and 2,227 widows of Confederates, making a total of 4,860. The fund to support this pension roll is raised by a tax of four mills on the assessed property of the taxpayer.

Florida is not only caring for the living but the memory of the dead is also kept green. Throughout the state handsome Confederate monuments have been erected by both public and private means. All told there are twenty, or possibly more, handsome

Gen. W. H. Sebring Jacksonville, Fla., Adjutant General Florida Division United Confederate Veterans.

Confederate monuments in the state, and others are yet to be erected. A home for ex-Confederate soldiers is maintained at Jacksonville. Last year the state appropriated $5,000 to the Confederate soldiers' home in this city. Two Confederate monuments have been erected here, and a monument may be dedicated to the Women of the Confederacy during the coming reunion.

This brief exposition of the work that Florida is doing for the ex-Confederate soldiers, living and dead, is proof that the people of the state will extend a warm and generous welcome to the old soldiers and their friends on the occasion of the Jacksonville reunion Florida, while situated far South of the great theater of war of 1861-'65, felt the shock of the conflict. Jacksonville was occupied four different times by the federals. The purposes of this occupancy, according to official reports on file in archives of the War Department, were to keep the St. Johns river open from its mouth to the head of navigation and to arm the negroes for service in the Union Army. The small Confederate force in East Florida in 1863 was commanded by Gen. Joseph Finegan. On March 13, 1863, Gen. Finegan issued a proclamation here in which he said:

"I feel it my duty as brigadier-general commanding this district to inform the people of the district and of the state that our unscrupulous enemy has landed a large force of negroes, under command of white officers, at Jacksonville, under cover of gunboats. He is attempting to fortify the place so as to make it secure against attacks. The purpose of this movement is obvious and need not be mentioned in direct terms. It is sufficient to inspire the whole body of people with a renewed and sterner purpose of resistance. I therefore call on such of the citizens as can possibly leave their homes to arm and organize themselves into companies without delay and report to me."

Gen. R. Saxton (U. S. A.) in a report to the War Department dated March 14, 1863, says: "The object of this expedition was to occupy Jacksonville and make it the base of operations for the arming of negroes and securing in this way possession of the entire State of Florida."
