DIME FUND FOR CHARITY HOSPITAL.

Donations have been coming in for this fund, this week. Remember that only a dime is asked for, and no embarrassment need be felt in sending in that sum. "Mony a mickle makes a muckle" is a good old Scotch saying, demonstrated by many a big popular subscription. It is embodied in the Woolworth Building, the highest in the world, built by the dime stores.

MRS. J. L. TUCKER DEAD.

A telegram received in Baton Rouge Monday advised that the ashes of Mrs. Tucker, the mother of Rev. Louis Tucker, formerly rector of St. James Episcopal Church, will reach Baton Rouge Tuesday or Wednesday from Seattle, Washington. Rev. Louis Tucker himself will reach Baton Rouge Tuesday from Demopolis, Ala., where he is rector of Trinity Episcopal Church. The interment of the ashes of Mrs. Tucker will be made in Magnolia cemetery, beside the grave of Rev. Dr. J. L. Tucker, who was formerly rector of St. James Episcopal Church, Baton Rouge.—State Times.

The burning of a bridge on the L. R. & N. last Saturday stopped the morning train and delayed other trains. Without the newspapers, every one felt carried back thirty years.

People are talking favorably of the reasonable charges made by Mr. Norsworthy in his auto service.

The death of Louis A. Sandoz of Opelousas removes a veteran editor, a good man and citizen. He was an uncle of Mrs. J. M. Daniel of Star Hill.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

A wholesome school spirit prevails throughout the student body and all seem to be striving to excel.

Drop around occasionally and hear a class recite. This will get you in touch with the work and you will find out what the boy and girl are really doing.

The boys have ordered a new basketball. We have some good material and we hope to develop a team which will be a credit to the school.

Heretofore spelling in the high school was given during a part of the period devoted to English. This year a special 15-minute period will be given to spelling each day in order that this important branch may be more strongly emphasized.

One of our tenth-grade boys—Andrew Rettig—has given up his studies in order to take a position in the new bank. Andrew was making a good beginning in school this year and we regret that he will not complete his course. However, since he has decided to enter the business world so early, we can only hope, and we believe, that he will make good.

When your child brings his report card home at the end of the month, do not give it a hasty glance and toss it aside. Look over it carefully and notice especially whether any grades appear in red ink. A grade written in red means that the pupil is falling below the passing mark. Do your best to have him improve the month following, and the probability is that at the end of the year he will be promoted to the next grade.

Ladies, who wish to assist in sewing for the Soldiers' Home, are cordially invited to come to Mrs. Ben Leopold's, next Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 p.m. Donations of material, or money, to buy material, made to date are, in order of donation: Mrs. John F. Irvine Sr., 10 yds. outing; Mrs. J. B. McGehee, $1.00; Mrs. Thos. Butler and daughters, $1.00; Misses Lucy and Ida Matthews, $1.00; Mrs. Max Mann, 5 yds. outing; Mrs. W. H. Richardson, $1.00; Mrs. E. Robinson, 50c; Misses Bowman, $1.00; Mrs. S. H. Barrow, $1.00; Mrs. A. H. Mumford, $1.00.

This is nearly as much as was donated last fall, and will make a good showing, but if there are any others, desirous of contributing, their help will be all the more welcome, as it will make the completed offering all the greater. Those expecting to assist in the sewing, need not feel called upon to give anything else. Don't forget date, Wednesday, Oct. 27, 2:30 o'clock. A busy, useful and pleasant afternoon is in store for those able to attend.

Mr. Willis Daniel saved a little girl from serious injury and possible death at the Baton Rouge fair, Tuesday afternoon. The aviator who was giving exhibitions experienced some difficulty in landing his machine and was headed for the crowd, which became almost panic-stricken at the thought of impending disaster. In the rush to get away from danger, the crowd knocked a little girl down. Mr. Daniel picked her up and carried her away just an instant before the wrecked machine settled where she had lain.

The Louisiana State Fair desires to make the following announcement: Ruth Law, who was booked for the Fair, will not appear and in her place DeLoyd Thompson, the famous "loop-the-loop" aviator, will appear. Thompson was at the State Fair last year and his work in the air surpassed that of Lincoln Beachey. The State Fair secured Thompson after considerable expense, and trusts that the public will accept his appearance in place of Ruth Law. He will fly on Wednesday, Nov. 3, and Sunday, Nov. 7. Low rates will prevail during the entire time of the Fair, November 3rd to 8th.

Mayor A. B. Briant—commissioned G. L. Plettinger to represent St. Francisville in the appeal to the Railroad Commission, at its meeting on Wednesday, to prevent the increase of freight rates on gravel and other road-building material. As St. Francisville is going to take up permanent road construction, early next spring, the question of freight rates is very important, as it is everywhere in Louisiana, where road-making is growing in interest.

The Rebekah ladies postponed their sewing meet to next Wednesday afternoon, as the measurements for clothing were not received from the Home in time.

THE BATON ROUGE FAIR.

The Baton Rouge Free Fair opened on Wednesday and will continue through Sunday. This year's exhibition shows a marked improvement over that of last year and is one that does credit to the capital city. The live stock, poultry and agricultural exhibits are especially creditable.

The opening of the fair was marked by a street parade. This parade was the nicest and longest ever held in Baton Rouge. Many of the lodges took part, and there were a large number of decorated autos in line. The L.S.U. cadet battalion and band, and three other bands, participated in the parade.

The carnival company that is supplying the amusement features of the fair is said to be the cleanest one that has ever visited this section.

The Baton Rouge Fair, catering as it does to agricultural resources, will prove of exceptional interest to the people of this parish, and we strongly urge all who can do so to attend.

THE NATCHEZ TRACE.

At the meeting in Natchez, Tuesday, in regard to boosting the Natchez Trace for the proposed military road, one of the speakers, Judge McMartin, reviewed the exploits of General Jackson in the Indian wars, the war of 1812 and the battle of New Orleans. He pointed out how "Old Hickory" had chosen the Natchez Trace as the most feasible and logical way over which to conduct his troops both from Nashville to New Orleans and return. He spoke of the Natchez Indians and their tragic history, of how they had used the trace for tribal intercourse long before the country had been settled by the white men. The many other speakers concurred in the opinion that any other route but the Natchez Trace, would be an anomaly as a memorial to Jackson. The great general went over this route not once but many times.

C. H. Blewsee called attention to the fact that little if anything had been done to enlist the co-operation of the territory south of Natchez to New Orleans in the ght for the Trace. This is important, but the people along the Trace south of Natchez should not wait to be asked, but should push forward and work with the best until Nov. 10, when the route will be decided upon at Nashville.

It means much to the Felicianas, as was pointed out last week. Why don't our officials do something to aid the effort being made in Mississippi?

As the Natchez Democrat well says: "Natchez and her sister cities along the Natchez Trace route have gotten a late start but with right and justice on their side they should be able to overcome this handicap. If the highway is to be memorial to General Jackson, if it is to go over the route most appropriate, then the Natchez Trace will be sure to be selected. If the trace is to be built for a military purpose then the Natchez Trace route will be selected because it is the most easible route from this point of view."

CANDIDATES MUST QUALIFY BY OCTOBER 23.

At a meeting of the Parish Democratic Executive Committee held at the court house on Wednesday, Oct. 13, 1915, it was resolved that Tuesday, the 25th day of January, 1916, be fixed as the day for the primary election for all parochial and ward officers, and that all persons desiring to become candidates for parochial and ward offices and members of the Parish Democratic Executive Committee, must file their written notification with the Chairman or Secretary of the Parish Democratic Executive Committee within ten days from the date of this meeting, accompanied by a deposit as follows: For parochial offices, $2.50; for ward offices, $1.00.

..Two Kinds of Customers..

The customers of banks are divided into two classes: those to whom the bank owes money, or depositors, and those who owe the bank, or borrowers. It can be readily seen that depositors are the first essential to a banking business, for which reason, if for no other, their interests should be safely guarded. The officers and directors of this bank assure the people of West Feliciana that they appreciate this fact and that they will use every effort to so conduct the bank as to protect the depositors. In order to do this it is necessary that great care be taken in making loans. They will endeavor to use such care and to keep themselves in position at all times to meet the demands of the depositors. We invite you to do your banking with a home bank.

The lawn party and supper, given by the Methodist ladies, last Friday afternoon, including donations in money will net $51.50. This will be applied to stopping the caving of the bluff in the rear of the parsonage and church. The ladies as an Auxiliary wish to thank Sheriff J. H. Clack for the use of the court house, and other officials also for courtesies extended. The True Democrat's services at this and other times is appreciated. The assistance of the ladies of the other churches, and of every one who helped to make the affair successful is very gratifying, and to one and all hearty thanks are returned.

Mr. George H. Wilcox showed us a curiosity in the way of sweet potatoes dug on his place. One was 26 inches long, and was of fair size; the other joined to the same stem was nearly a yard long but a mere string, having been dug before it developed. The tubers are on exhibit at the Bank of Commerce.
