"Pape's Diapepsin" cures sick, sour stomachs in five minutes—Time It!

It's truly astonishing—almost marvelous, and the joy is its harmlessness.

IF HAIR IS TURNING GRAY, USE SAGE TEA

Don't Look Old! Try Grandmother's Recipe to Darken and Beautify Gray, Faded, Lifeless Hair.

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and abundant with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, ready to use, for about 50 cents. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is splendid for dandruff, dry, itchy scalp and falling hair.

A well-known druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and abundant.—Adv.

"CASCARETS" ACT ON LIVER; BOWELS

No sick headache, biliousness, bad taste or constipation by morning.

Get a 10-cent box. Are you keeping your bowels, liver, and stomach clean, pure and fresh with Cascarets, or merely forcing a passageway every few days with Salts, Cathartic Pills, Castor Oil or Purgative Waters?

Stop having a bowel wash-day. Let Cascarets thoroughly cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour and fermenting food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the constipated waste matter and poisons in the bowels.

A Cascaret to-night will make you feel great by morning. They work while you sleep—never gripe, sicken or cause any inconvenience, and cost only 10 cents a box from your store. Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then and never have Headache, Biliousness, Coated Tongue, Indigestion, Sour Stomach or Constipation. Adv.

POULTRY

HAVE CLEAN NEST MATERIAL

Percentage of Dirty or Soiled Eggs May Be Materially Reduced by Proper Management.

Poultry keepers may easily reduce the percentage of dirty or soiled eggs, and losses entailed to insignificant figures. First, an ample number of nests is, of course, necessary, but an ample number means no more, than, and probably not as many as, are usually directed by poultry writers. Laying houses are, as a rule, provided with a sufficient number, but where the keeper falls down is in failing to supply enough nesting material and floor litter.

Obviously the nesting material must be clean, or the eggs become soiled by contact, and it must be sufficient in quantity, or the eggs are often broken by dropping upon the hard floor of the nest.

In houses where the dropping-boards are above the nests, and the custom is to sand the boards, small stones often drop into the nest and breakage results when newly-laid eggs fall upon them. The condition of nests should be noticed daily, and the nesting material replenished when necessary. Plenty of nesting material prevents breakage and insures clean eggs.

An ample and clean litter on the floor is also very essential when an A-1 clean product is sought. Particularly is this true when the hens are allowed outdoors during wet weather. The litter acts as a food mat for the hens on their way to the nests.

Clean eggs bring better prices than dirty ones.

MAKING A CHEAP TRAP NEST

Simple and Satisfactory Device Can Be Constructed From Orange Box at Small Expense.

Here is a trap nest that can be made from an orange box for less than $1, writes Thomas Mayberry of Pennsylvania in Farm and Home. The box is 24 inches long, 12 inches wide and 12 inches high. It is shown ready for the hen to enter. When she treads on the platform, C, to go to the nest she closes the door, A, behind her and her weight will not let her out. It is made one by one-fourth inches, with two small screws to fasten it on each side to the platform, seven and one-half inches from screw to steel rod X. A is the door covered with one-half inch wire netting. The platform is held off the bottom by wire staples and rod X goes through it. A, the door, has staples for the rod to go through, as shown at the tip, and one inch from that is where the screws hold. D is a partition three inches high to keep the nesting material in place.

VENTILATION FOR HENHOUSE

Reason Given for So Many Apparently Healthy Fowls Dropping Dead Off Their Roosts.

It has been proved by experiments that impurities given off from the lungs of one animal are much more poisonous to another animal than they are to the animal giving them off.

You can prove this for your own satisfaction, if you care to. Put a mouse in a self-sealing fruit jar and make the cover tight. In a few minutes he will begin to show signs of suffocation. Then without admitting any more fresh air than you can help, introduce a second mouse into the jar. This second mouse will die before the first one, though he was fresh when the first one was nearly suffocated. The reason for this is that the second mouse did not die of suffocation, but was killed by the poison given off from the lungs of the first one.

It is entirely possible that this is the reason why so many hens in apparently good physical thrift drop dead off the roost. The ventilation is poor and the birds become poisoned by the gases from the lungs of their perchmates.

"Yes, mum," replied Dinah, gleefully. "Matrimony sure am the proper state ob life for folks, ain't it?"
"And your husband," went on the lady. "Is he a good provider?"
"Yes, mum, he sure am." Then she went on sadly: "He's a mighty good provider, right enough, but I'm powerful skeered that he's gwine to get ketch'd at it."—Pittsburgh Chronicle Telegraph.

Learned to Drink Coffee When a Boy.

If parents realized the fact that coffee contains a drug—caffeine—which is especially harmful to children, they would doubtless hesitate before giving them coffee to drink.

"When I was a child in my mother's arms and first began to nibble things at the table, mother used to give me sips of coffee. And so I contracted the coffee habit early.

"I continued to use coffee until I was 27, and when I got into office work I began to have nervous spells. Especially after breakfast I was so nervous I could scarcely attend to my correspondence.

"At night, after having had coffee for supper, I could hardly sleep, and on rising in the morning would feel weak and nervous.

"A friend persuaded me to try Postum.

"I can now get good sleep, am free from nervousness and headaches. I recommend Postum to all coffee drinkers."

Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Postum comes in two forms: Postum Cereal—the original form—must be well boiled, 15c and 25c packages.

ONLY ONE ROAD TO SUCCESS

Choose Your Work According to Your Qualifications and Have Confidence in Your Ability.

The woman who believes in herself can accomplish things that to her timid-minded sister would be impossible. Perhaps nowhere is confidence so essential as in the business world, and the girl or woman who aspires to a business career, yet has no confidence in her ability to succeed, had better seek some other means of livelihood.

A seemingly impossible task may confront one, but should the person to whom such a task falls lose confidence the result nine times out of ten is failure. Most difficulties are difficulties on the surface only. Confidence, grit and common sense are a trio that cannot be beaten. Why not apply a generous application of all three to the difficulty which looms up before you and make you faint-hearted and almost helpless?

The most successful people in all lines of human endeavor are, as a rule, people who believe in themselves. Many of these people have few advantages, but by sheer will power—confidence in their ability—they succeed. Confidence is needed more today than ever before.

It's an old saw, and a true one, that "you cannot fit a square peg into a round hole." Many women are doing, or trying to do, work for which they are not fitted. The girl who has an aptitude for sewing, can blend colors harmoniously and knows what good lines are, should never be advised to study stenography. Such a girl would develop into a first-class dressmaker, but as a stenographer she would never reach a very high standard.

Such women—the right women in the wrong work—always lack confidence; yet the wise person will study her qualifications, and if she finds herself not equal to the work she has accepted, will try to secure a position suited to her ability.

Most of us can do something fairly well, and if we find the work congenial, the only logical course to follow is to bring our very best efforts into that work, and we must believe in ourselves if the work is to be done smoothly and well.

Study your ability; improve; believe in yourself, and you will surely succeed. Women who have confidence are generally successful and happy women. We all want to be both. From past experience you know how doubt has retarded your ability. Then use will power—believe in yourself, and life will be worth while.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Punjab Forests.

The sand forests of the Punjab are spread over the arid, alluvial plains where, as a rule, the rainfall does not exceed ten inches. The area covered is 3,500 square miles. It is chiefly remarkable owing to the length of its tap-roots, specimens having been found with a tap-root as much as 84 feet in length, descending vertically to a depth of 64 feet. This tap-root enables the tree to obtain its water from the permanent water supply in the subsoil. Doubtless at one time the land lived in a region liable to floods, since it has been found that no natural regeneration occurs in the sand forests, though in irrigated or flooded districts the sand is reproduced readily from seed. It seems probable that the explanation of the long tap-roots is due to the effort on the part of the tree to keep pace with the gradual lowering of the water table of the soil, resulting from the lowering of the river beds by erosion.

To Reduce Number of Drugs.

It is practically impossible for the average physician to familiarize himself with the four thousand or five thousand drugs and drug preparations in everyday use in this country. The number of such substances also militates against their intelligent use by the practicing physician and their correct preparation and dispensing by pharmacists. In order to meet this situation, a committee of the American Medical association some time ago drew up a list of about four hundred and fifty drugs and preparations, selected on account of their wide use, with a view to concentrating the attention of everybody concerned upon these important medicines. According to the public health reports, a revision of this list has just been undertaken, and criticism of the list is now constituted is sought by the American Medical association.
