M. L. Prentice, F. C. Hart, W. H. Bridges, R. J. Barry, John and Claude Singelton, Roy Davis, C. W. Pridgen, Chas White, Hugh Craig, Jesse Buckingham, Theron Plumb and George Bower were in Lake Charles Sunday night to witness the performance of McFaddin's Row of Flats. The show was comical throughout, the boys say.

A greater quantity of rice is coming in now than at any period this season and the dry weather has made rice in good condition for milling. Monday the Gulf rice mill began running fifteen hours a day and Tuesday the Jennings mill commenced a fifteen hour run. Both mills are taxed to their utmost capacities and will be for some time to come.

A Jennings dispatch Tuesday says: A new rice concern has been formed in Jennings by some of its enterprising young men. It is termed the Producers Rice Co., and has for its slogan, "From the rice field to the consumer." The company is but a few days old but is already doing business. A car of rice was shipped that morning.

Mrs. Cora Robinson left Saturday night for her former home at Los Angeles, California. Mrs. W. H. Patterson, south of town, accompanied her and will remain some time in the Golden Gate state visiting her father, whom she had not seen for twenty years. Mr. Patterson will join his wife during the latter part of November and will accompany her home during the early part of the year.

City Engineer C. M. Boren, of Lake Charles, was suspended Saturday afternoon by Mayor Winterhalter, pending an investigation of charges alleging that the work of City Engineer Boren in connection with the laying of the Ryan street shells has not proven entirely satisfactory, and out of this has grown a charge of incompetency in office.

The week of prayer at the Methodist church began Monday night and will continue during the week. Next Monday will begin a revival to continue two or three weeks. The pastor, Rev. Corwin Taylor, will be assisted by Rev. J. W. LaGrone, of Crowley; Rev. O. E. Ryan, of Jennings, and Rev. R. L. Weldon, of Meadow Prairie. A large attendance is hoped for and a successful meeting anticipated.

Dr. L. G. Lewis, who left the first of the month to install a fifty-horse power gasoline engine in a cotton gin at Trent, Texas, arrived home yesterday morning. Doc says the water in that immediate section of Texas is such that steam cannot be made from it, and as a consequence gasoline engines are very much in demand and will be used almost exclusively in that portion of the cotton belt.

The New Orleans Board of Trade will send a committee of seven representative business men to Panama to investigate conditions there and look into the matter of business connections, with a view to building up the trade between Panama and that city. The action was decided upon at a meeting of the Panama Canal Trade Committee of the Board of Trade, and steps have been taken to enlist the interest of railroad and steamship lines throughout the country.

A southwestern preacher the other day delivered a brief but very beautiful funeral sermon. Here it is: "A word to tell you all. Post-mortem phrases and love are in the air. People kiss the dead when they never stop to kiss the living; they hover over the casket in hysterical sobs, but fail to throw their arms around the loved ones who are fighting the stern battle of life. A word of cheer to the struggling soul in life is worth more than all the roses in christendom piled high in the casket covers. The dead cannot smell the flowers, but the living can. Scatter them broadcast in their pathway, therefore pluck out the thorns, before it is too late."

WELSH, - - - LOUISIANA.

Up to the hour of going to press Thursday evening the car load of seats, blackboards and other fixtures for the new school building, which were shipped from Chicago October 8, had not arrived in Welsh, and there now seems to be doubt as to the opening of school next Monday as had been previously announced. If, however, the chairs arrive to-day, or even to-morrow, a sufficient force of men will be employed to have the school in readiness for Monday's opening.

What is the world going to do with the man over 50? asks the Kansas City World. The Carnegie Steel company has issued a circular letter to superintendents instructing them to employ no man over 35 years of age in certain departments. The order affects skilled men, experts in the business. The railroads of the country have a tacit rule that no man over 45 years of age shall be employed at clerical work. The churches everywhere are calling for young preachers, the schools for young teachers. In every line of work the dead line appears to be drawn at 50 or thereabouts. While our science is lengthening the tenure of human life our economic system is driving men out of business in there prime.

The State of Louisiana and particularly this portion embracing the rice belt, is peculiarly interested in the coming visit of Sen. Manuel Diaz, Secretary of State for the Cuban Republic. Minister Diaz sailed from Havana Tuesday and will reach New Orleans Friday, when he will be met by a delegation from the Rice Association of America, and the Louisiana and Texas Rice Millers Association, who will escort him over the rice belt. There is strong reason to believe that the Cuban duty on American grown rice will be reduced so as to admit competition with Asiatic markets. Minister Diaz and his suite also will visit the World's fair at St. Louis.

Sunday a tramp, whose ravenous appetite was exceeded only by his unadulterated and monumental gall, called at J. A. Costley's restaurant and asked if he could be served with dinner. Having been giving an affirmative answer the man of leisure gave in his order which consisted of six eggs, a large steak, two cups of coffee, half of a large plate pie and a loaf of bread. The meal finished the man with the appetite, gall—and dinner proceeded to make his exit without even thanking the landlord for his trouble. He was accosted, however, and when informed of the fact that he had forgotten to settle for the small morsel he had eaten, declared his surplus funds had become exhausted. Mr. Costley called in Marshal Hall, who landed the big eater in the calaboose. A short time afterward some pals of the tramp paid the sixty cents charged for the dinner and the charge of over-eating was withdrawn. The prisoner was released and he went his way rejoicing.

Stolen or strayed.

From my place at Thornwell, La., Oct. 5, one bay mare, weight 900 pounds, with white stripe on nose and scar on right hind ankle. Also one bay horse weighing 1,100 pounds, with wire cut on left front foot. A suitable reward will be paid for their return to my place or to H. M. West at Welsh.
