F. L. LEWIS.

Fed on Rice.
Felix Laurents butchered a nice fat shoat last week that weighed 300 pounds at eight months old. It had been fed on rice polish, of course, and is unimpeachable evidence that it will pay farmers to raise more hogs. Rice marketed in the form of fat porkers will bring better returns than when sold in the rough. The most successful farmers are those who drive their grain to market instead of hauling it; and this will prove equally true throughout the rice belt of Louisiana as it has in the corn section of the north. Feed rice instead of selling it in the rough and feed straw instead of burning it and the prospects of Southwest Louisiana will soon brighten.—Lake Arthur Herald.

Iowa News Notes.

Messrs. C. H. McLean, L. W. DeLaplain and E. L. Hauck are down on the sea marsh on a hunting expedition.

Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Read came over from Welsh Friday evening and visited with friends until Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. H. I. Longenbach left Monday for a visit to relatives in Illinois. They will stop a few days in St. Louis.

S. E. Carroll, of Welsh, has a photograph gallery in the building just north of the hotel. Now is the time to have your picture taken.

The oyster supper given Saturday night by Olive Lodge I. O. O. F., was a success socially. The members demonstrated their ability to show their wives, sisters, sweethearts and friends a good time. Rev. J. M. Johnson's lecture was interesting and instructive.

A serious accident occurred at the home of Mr. Thomas Cook Saturday afternoon. One of the sons had been shooting at chicken hawks. He went into the house to reload the gun and it was accidentally discharged and the full load struck Mrs. Cook, who was in another room, in the back. It was a light load, but inflicted a painful wound.

The Y. P. S. C. E.'s officers elected for the coming year are: President, Jos. E. Each; Vice-President, N. I. Longenbach; Recording Secretary, W. A. Melinda; Treasurer, Miss Jessie V. Findlay; Organist, Mrs. E. L. Hauck; Assistant Organist, Miss Myrtle Cook; Chorister, Jos. E. Each; Librarian, Clara Cook; Ushers, Arthur Melinda and Jessie Findlay.

"Blaze Away Gridley Whenever You Are Ready."

Was the noted command to the famous gunner who fired the first shot in the battle of Manila. It was followed by the greatest naval victory ever won for our flag.

A pity but every young person with now an opportunity to secure a practical education and prepare to win in the battle of life could read this command and appropriate its meaning.

He who is ready ought to "blaze away" now. Why wait until Xmas, when you can start now?

The most skillful general that ever maneuvered an army on an American battle field achieved his success by getting there before the enemy expected him and making things happen when he got there. The same is true of the great captains of industry, they don't wait for Xmas to come, or the moon to full or something to turn up. They "blaze away" and turn something up—a fery lesson to young people. Wait till after Xmas and the opportunity may be gone forever. This paper urges that every young person who expects to go to school later write to-day to Tyler Commercial College of Tyler, Texas, for catalogue, and not wait till after Xmas. This school is a live wire and takes no vacation. It and the business world are big enough that you can enter any time and get equal advantages.
