

City Barber Shop, A. HERBERT, Prop. Hot and Cold BATHS

J. D. KIMBALL, Blacks nithing AND Horseshoeing

All Kinds of Repairing a Specialty. Shop located on North Adams Street.

PHONE NO. 7. The Welsh Livery, Feed and Sale Stables. Rigs of All Kinds, With or Without Drivers. GIVE ME A CALL. CHAS. DAUTEL.

HOLLISTER'S Rocky Mountain Tea Nuggets. A Busy Medicine for Busy People. Brings Golden Health and Renewed Vigor.

Iowa Items.

Mrs. Harris of Welsh, was the guest of her sons, Archie and Herbert, Sunday.

Another effort is being made to get an oil well on Bayou Serpent north of Iowa.

A. F. Roach was in town Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. I. Longenbach went to Lake Charles Sunday to hear the eloquent Dean Bovard.

A social party was given Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. Uhrine, south of town. The young people as usual, spent a pleasant evening and are looking forward to more such gatherings.

Rev. R. C. McCoy left Saturday for Vinton, where he was joined Sunday evening by Mrs. McCoy. Monday they went to Dallas, Texas, where they will attend the association of the Congregational church.

Rev. Louis May and wife returned Wednesday from Lake Charles where they had attended the Ministers' Institute of the M. E. church. They report a most spiritual and profitable time. No more able man could have been secured to conduct the Institute than Rev. Bovard.

The Philistines, i. e.: the mosquitoes are upon us. Not only the warriors, armed with their fiery darts, but the squaws and papooses also, each one presenting its bill with the merciless promptness of a tax collector.

Roanoke News.

J. M. Booze transacted business in Lake Charles Tuesday.

Miss Hudson, of Vinton, is the guest of Mr. Narrens and family.

Miss Gussie Robinson and W. Fowler spent Sunday with Miss Carrie Neely, near Welsh.

Harvey Minnix had the misfortune of losing another cow, by the train striking it Wednesday noon.

Mrs. Murray of Jennings, came over Saturday to spend several days with her daughter, Mrs. A. A. Sutter.

Jud. Harris, former chief of police of Jennings, but now of Black Bros, of Jennings, was here Monday.

W. B. Flower, who has been in Lafayette the past four months, spent Sunday here with his brother, L. G. Flower.

The Misses Williams delightfully entertained a number of their young friends last Saturday evening at their home northeast of town.

Miss J. C. Minnix left Tuesday evening for San Francisco, California to visit relatives and friends. Mrs. Minnix will return in July.

Miss Jessie Findley went to Jennings Friday and returned Saturday, accompanied by Miss Leila Meeks, who spent Saturday and Sunday the guest of Miss Findley.

Hayes Notes

Mrs. Ed Klock was shopping in Hayes Monday.

Wm. Cox made a business trip to Lake Charles Saturday.

C. M. Ulrich was transacting business in this village Monday.

A. P. Braekney is in San Antonio, Texas, on business for a few days.

Rev. A. A. Bernard filled his regular appointment at Hayes Sunday.

Gabe Lacombe of Lake Arthur, was in Hayes Sunday visiting his brother, Zac. Lacombe.

The Hayes Cypress Lumber Co. started up this morning after being shut down six or eight days on account of a shortage of logs.

Dave Moore, while helping W. G. Dewhig load a piano on a car, got his hand in a jam which nearly mashed one finger off. He was taken at once to Dr. Niles, who attended his injuries and he is reported as resting easy at this writing.

Rice Bran at Jones Bros.

P. W. Daniels has added a fresh meat department to his store, and solicits a share of your patronage.

Don't Pay Alimony.

To be divorced from your appendix. There will be no occasion for it if you keep your bowels regular with Dr. King's New Life Pills.

Report of the 23rd Annual Convention W. C. T. U. Held at Zwolle May Third, Fourth and Fifth.

The 23rd annual convention of the Louisiana W. C. T. U. met at Zwolle, La., May 3, 4 and 5. In the absence of our state officers, president, vice-president and secretary, Mrs. Mary Armor, president of the Georgia W. C. T. U., presided as chairman of the convention.

We were accorded a hearty welcome by the people of Zwolle and royally entertained while there. Three addresses of welcome were delivered; one in behalf of the churches, by Rev. Weems, of the M. E. Church, South, one in behalf of the local Union, by Mrs. Olla Williams and one in behalf of the town by the mayor, Mr. Porter.

Rev. Gonzales of Jennings, gave a splendid talk on "Who wants the Saloon?" More than fifty years ago Abraham Lincoln made the statement that "Saloons were like cancers: All attempts to regulate, only aggravate them, and in order to be rid of them, they must be taken out by the roots."

Rev. Vaughn of Bon Ami, gave a lecture on "Alcohol, the greatest evil of our nation." He brought up facts to show that alcohol in all forms and at all times works for evil—never for good, and made an earnest appeal to young men and women to "leave it alone."

Mrs. Armor of Georgia, who is very earnest in the temperance work, gave a fine address. She tells us that no wine is served in the dining cars on the Queen and Crescent road. One of the colored waiters, when asked why they did not have wine, replied: "De president and all of us on dis road has got religion." May the time soon come when "de president and all of us" on all the roads may have religion too.

Miss Louise Hollister, national lecturer and organizer of the W. C. T. U., who lectured here a few months ago, gave a thrilling talk, full of good advice to the young people, as well as the parents and older ones.

Two medal contests were held, the winner of the silver medal being Grace Jackson, of Ft. Jessup and the winner of the gold medal, Mrs. Mae Berrian, of Lake Charles.

During the convention the people of Zwolle subscribed two hundred dollars to the W. C. T. U. work in this state.

Out of five hundred members, only twenty-four delegates were present, ten unions were represented, but although small in numbers, it was considered one of the best conventions that Louisiana has ever held and we are starting into another year determined to do better work and accomplish greater things than we have ever done in the past.

Clothing of the latest cut and guaranteed quality at Daniels.

Short Foreign Crops.

Herr Phil. Winter, of Hamburg, Germany, importer and dealer in rice feed stuffs, is in America in the interest of his house, which for years has imported large quantities of rice bran and polish for feed.

"So far as Europe is concerned," says Herr Winter, "the price of rice is expected to hold up to its present high level through the coming year. The Indian rice crop has been a very satisfactory one, but China has had a disastrous rice crop failure and is demanding enormous supplies. The Japanese crop is smaller than usual and the Japanese demands are large in consequence. These crop shortages will more than absorb any possible surplus that might occur from an unusually good Indian crop, and the European market cannot possibly be glutted in consequence."

"When I see your wonderful New Orleans, with its noble river, and compare it with what Hamburg has done as a commercial port, I realize here will be, in a few years, one of the greatest ports in the world. I am glad I came South on this trip, for it has opened my eyes to the infinite possibilities of this marvelous country." —Rice Journal and Southern Farmer.

A Narrow Escape.

G. W. Cloyd, a merchant of Plunk, Mo., had a narrow escape four years ago, when he ran a jimson burr into his thumb. He says: "The doctor wanted to amputate it, but I would not consent. I bought a box of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and that cured the dangerous wound." 25 cents at all druggists.

Our fresh meat department, like the store, will not be kept open on Sunday. P. W. Daniels.

We can save you money on fertilizer. A. R. Arceneaux.

Don't burn your old clothes. Have them made into carpet by Lydia Petersein.

A Card.

To the Democratic voters of Calcasieu Parish: With profound gratitude for the very kind recognition given me heretofore by my fellow citizens, I most respectfully announce myself as a candidate for the office of sheriff, soliciting the support of the Democracy at the ensuing General Primary, and agreeing to abide by the result of said Democratic Primary.

Very Respectfully, LEONEL C. DEES.

We call the attention of our readers to the card of Leon C. Dees, announcing himself as a candidate for the nomination for sheriff of Calcasieu parish, subject to the action of the democratic primary, and to his letter setting forth his views and his promises to the voters, should he receive the nomination. Mr. Dees is a southern gentleman of the old school, and although he was born in Alabama, he has resided in Louisiana for thirty-nine years, most of which time he has lived in Calcasieu parish. He demonstrated the fact that he is a man of more than ordinary executive ability during his six years of service as chief of police in Lake Charles, during which time his name became a terror to evil doers. Mr. Dees' popularity in Lake Charles, where he is best known, is demonstrated by the fact that in the recent election held there this spring, he ran further ahead of his ticket than any other man on the ticket, being elected marshal by a majority of 447 out of a total of 763 votes cast. Mr. Dees has no fight to make on the present occupant of the office to which he seeks to be elected, but he believes that his service in the past to the parish and especially to the chief city of the parish, justly entitles him to a share in the confidence and patronage of the voters of Calcasieu parish.

Immigrants.

Persons able to offer employment after arrival, on farms, plantations, etc., to a number of European peasant families to be brought to Louisiana by the State Department of Immigration within the next few months, are requested to communicate with Reginald Dykers, Immigrant Distributing Agent of this Department, 339 Carondelet St., New Orleans, La.

Artists have no trouble in securing models. The famous beauties have discarded corsets and have become models in face and form since taking Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea. 35 cents, Tea or Tablets. Cooper Drug Co.

Wall Paper The Finest Line in town at the JOURNAL BOOK STORE. Prices Right.

Corks For Bottle Stoppers.

The application of cork as a bottle stopper for liquid vessels is said to be of great antiquity. The earliest record extant of its use in Europe is that mentioned by Horace, who asserts that the Romans had cork as stoppers for their wine amphorae. Certain of the uses of cork were known to the ancient Greeks and Egyptians, but whether they used cork for stopping the mouths of their liquid vessels history does not say. It was not, however, until the year 1760 that the Spaniards first commenced to work their cork woods with some degree of regularity for the making of corks. Although perhaps corks were more or less in use from the time glass bottles were first invented, which Beckmann asserts to have been in the fifteenth century, yet it was not until two and a half centuries later that the Spaniards began to prepare cork for bottle stoppers, which they did in a forest situated at the northeast of the Tignesas, on the Muge. The cork industry has since gradually risen to be one of the first magnitude, its chief center in Spain being in Catalonia.

What the Teacher Must Do.

Knowledge is good, but wisdom is better. The college valedictorian, trained to take knowledge in rather than to impart it, may have much of it with but little wisdom. He may be able, as a teacher, to drill boys and girls in Greek and Latin declensions and cram them with facts, useful or valueless, but if he cannot produce in them what Spencer calls "pleasurable excitement" and interest he is a failure. His would be the sort of teaching that harps upon obedience and discipline and endeavors by force of rule and rod to oblige the pupil to study and learn. The will cannot be forced, but the real teacher knows well that it can be led. He remembers the remark of Rousseau that "the teacher's province is less to instruct than to guide;" that "he must not lay down precepts, but teach his pupils to discover them." This was the way of that great teacher, Agassiz, certainly.—Arthur Gilman in Atlantic.

Summer is here and so are we, with plenty of ice for everybody. We are better prepared to serve the public than ever before, and shall be glad to have your orders. Phone No. 5. Welsh Ice Factory, O. S. Carr & Sons, proprietors.

Just received a supply of 1907 base ball guides at the Journal Book Store

The Churches.

Rev. H. M. CRAIN, Editor.

THEY WED.

There is a peculiar thrill of gladness in every community occasioned by the union of lives in marriage of two who are highly esteemed in the community. Welsh experienced that thrill of joy last week, when it was known that Rev. Paul Leeds, pastor of the Congregational church, had arrived with his bride, to make their home among us.

It is not necessary for the writer to pronounce an eulogy on the groom or bride. They both have been known to many of our readers for a number of years. Bro. Leeds' ministry has been fruitful both here and in other charges and he is universally esteemed for his christian integrity and strong, manly character. By-the-way, Leeds is a good preacher too, and his words are the more powerful, because his life conforms to his preaching.

The bride, Miss Sarah Elizabeth Allen, "Miss Bessie," as we all knew her, is a young lady of those graces and charms, too much can not be said. She won her way easily into the hearts of the people of Welsh, when she came to take charge of one of the grades in the school. The children became easy captives to her, as she won her way to their hearts by her sympathy and love. Besides her charming christian character, "Miss Bessie" is endowed with many accomplishments which will render her a most excellent helpmate for her consecrated husband. As a minister's wife, she will occupy trying places now and then, but His grace will be sufficient for her no doubt.

Brother Leeds has done well and he is now entitled to a place among the bishops, according to Paul's first letter to Timothy. We extend our hand and welcome him to the rank, and wish for him and his bride a most prosperous and happy life.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH.

All our services last Sunday were good. At the close of the morning service a special collection was taken for the famth sufferers in China which amounted to $26. This makes the second gift from our church, the Endea-ers having sent a gift some weeks ago.

Rev. James Ellis will preach for us next Sunday morning at the usual hour.

Rev. and Mrs. Paul Leeds departed Monday morning for Dallas, Texas, to attend the Southern Congress of Congregational Ministers. They will be gone about ten days.

Word comes from Miss Fannie Robinson that her mother is improving in health rapidly and she hopes to be with us about the middle of May.

Mr. Calkins writes that they reached their destination, had a fine trip and all were well.

BAPTIST CHURCH.

The promotion of Master Starr Montgomery from the cradle roll to the primary department was a very pretty exercise. Starr took his stand by Superintendent Day on the platform, and while a well chosen song was sung the primaries passed by and extended to the manly little fellow the hand of fellowship and welcome, after which the superintendent delivered a certificate of promotion to the primary. Master Starr is a beautiful child and as bright as he is pretty, and no doubt will make a very fine scholar, and, we trust, will early learn to love and trust in the Lord, Jesus. There were others to whom promotion was due, but were not able to be present. These will receive their certificates later.

The pastor has under preparation a series of sermons on the book of Revelation. This is a book of considerable mystery, but full of interest. The series of sermons will be announced later.

The Ladies' Auxiliary spent a profitable and pleasant afternoon one day last week at the home of Mrs. J. H. Cooper. There were a number of excellent papers read and several bright talks were made on missions in Africa. Mrs. Cooper served light refreshments.

METHODIST CHURCH.

In the absence of the pastor, Rev. Jas. Ellis preached an interesting and profitable sermon at the morning serv-

Bro. Carruth was absent attending the Ministerial Institute at Lake Charles.

There was no preaching service Sunday night.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

Pastor R. T. Price was again present to supply his pulpit after an absence attending the Presbytery. There were two good services. The pastor gave a brief account of the meeting of the Presbytery.

An offering was made to ministerial education, which resulted in quite a sum for that cause.

The Ladies' Guild held a missionary meeting Tuesday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. W. E. Faught and made a special offering for the famine sufferers of China. They realized quite a sum.

You are invited to examine our work in weaving. Lydia Petersein.

Franklin Watchman: Some things are out of joint in Louisiana, when the superintendent of public education draws a measly two thousand a year, while the sheriff of the poorest parish in Louisiana gets about four times that amount. Just think of the qualifications necessary to fill this place, and the lack of them in the other case. One must be possessed of the highest scholarly attainments, educated in all the arts and sciences in one instance while any old pistol toter can slash around and occasionally holler, "O, O, yea, yea," and that is all.

Mansfield Journal: The Journal paid three bills to local merchants the other day, and not one of the bill heads was printed in Mansfield. All the work was done in cities which have no claims on our people. Yet merchants complain of people patronizing mail order houses. The Journal stands for Mansfield and home interests every time, but it thinks it is a mighty poor rule that will not work both ways. Consistency, it is said, is a jewel. Reciprocity ought to be a twin sister.

Full line of novelties, in collars, belts, bags, purses, lace purses, combs, at Paul W. Daniels.

Conclusive Evidence.

The following letter is self explanatory, and shows conclusively the opinion the Vice-President and General Manager of the Cotton Belt Railway has of the Telegraphy department of the Tyler Commercial College, the leading school of Telegraphy in America.

Tyler Texas, Feb. 5, 1907. Tyler Commercial College, Tyler, Texas.

Gentlemen:—This letter is given you in order to avoid having to answer so many letters of inquiry relative to this Company's connection with your college, and I beg to state for the information of attending students, that we have placed a loop of our train line wire through your college for the benefit of your students, and are furnishing you our telegraph and station blanks. We have also agreed to employ your telegraphy graduates who can pass our regular examination to fill vacancies coming up on this line, and will pay them the standard rate of wages for the position they are employed to fill.

The minimum salary paid operators is $55 per month, 12 hours work constituting one day, all time in excess of 12 hours will be paid on basis of pro rata of regular rate. Operators called for special service after being excused by the dispatcher will be allowed fifty cents for the first hour and pro rata of the regular rate thereafter.

Yours truly, W. E. Green, 1st Vice-President St. Louis South-Western Railway Co. of Texas.

Tired Women.

What numbers of women drag their way in pain through the endless duties that crowd brain and hand and heart. But life's work must still go on. Panol is a priceless boon and blessing to suffering women. It gives strength and quiet to the tired nerves, tones the digestion, improves the appetite, brings restful, refreshing sleep, regulates every function, rids the system of malaria, puts roses on the cheeks, and joy in the heart. And it does it in a way so different from that of ordinary medicines that it calls forth the loudest praises. Pleasant to take as lemonade. Try it now. 50 cents, six for $2.50. For sale by Cooper Drug Co., and Cooper Drug Store.

A correspondent of the Springfield Republican, in a recent issue, commenting upon the statements that "good teachers are getting scarcer" and that thousands of efficient teachers leave school work every year for more remunerative labor" and that "low wages necessarily restrict one's opportunities for self-development", draws striking comparisons and contrasts, and offers practical suggestions, as follows:

If a trained nurse can get $700 or $800 a year for 40 weeks' work, with her board and room thrown in; if a private secretary can earn from $800 to $1800 yearly; if an expert stenographer can get from $750 to $1500 a year—is it much wonder that "good teachers are getting scarce," and that "thousands of efficient teachers leave school work every year for more remunerative labor"? I am persuaded that now the conditions are such that we must, in self-defense, make our teachers attractive offers to offset those being made by the other professions. All sorts of industries are in the field for the best minds, and what is more, they are willing to pay handsomely for those who can "deliver the goods."

Suppose Wanamaker were operating our school system, would he be satisfied with small mediocre minds for his lieutenants? No, a thousand times, no; and how do we feel, those of us who have children to be educated? Do we want them to come under the influence of strong characters, or will weak, ramby-pamby ones do just as well? How many parents are there who wouldn't gladly pay a few pennies more a day to have their children under a teacher of masterly mind and sterling worth, one who stands for the highest ideals, one who would be likely to influence the whole life of the child for good?

My plead is simply this—hold out inducements strong enough to influence many of our best young men and women to choose the noble profession of teaching and make the inducements such that they will stick to it. It's a purely business problem, and easily solved if you will.

Arcadia Argus: Good Roads and good schools are the country's greatest civilizers and builders. Rapid progress has been made in schools in the last few years, but little has been done for the roads of Louisiana. It is time the work was being inaugurated. That town first putting the roads leading to it in good condition and keeping them good, will be the first to