Hines delivered two excellent sermons at the Methodist church Sunday, which were appreciated by large and interested audiences.

The past irrigating season has been the most expensive irrigating season that this locality has ever had, and it is doubtful if the farmers have yet paid off the fine exacted by the Texas courts from the branch of the Standard Oil Co. operating in that state. We have it to pay and it seems as if we might as well be good natured about it; but we pray the courts to imprison instead of fining and feed that class of prisoners on rice screenings.—Rev. Jas. Ellis in Rice Journal and Southern Farmer.

New Rice Coming in Rapidly.

New rice is beginning to come into town rapidly, there being hardly an hour of the day but what loads of rice can be seen on the streets. The dry weather of the past several weeks has given the farmers a splendid chance to harvest and thresh their early rice and they are taking advantage of it to the utmost. The mills are getting a stock on hand and will start the season's run within a very short time. The rice so far, is said to be of excellent quality and is bringing fine prices, ranging from $3.65 down.

Another Negro "Gun Toter."

Monday night Deputy Sheriff Jno. Singleton arrested a negro who is commonly known here as Jim Lawrence, for carrying a revolver. The offender was taken to Lake Charles Tuesday morning and lodged in jail to await trial. It would seem that the negroes of this parish would learn better than to carry a gun as it is almost sure to result in spending six months in the turpentine camps.
