Fort Worth is now burning natural gas. One of the unique uses to which it is to be put is the illumination of the city during the Feeders and Breeders' Fine Stock Show, March 14th to 19th. A standpipe is to be erected seventy-two feet high, into which the gas will be turned and lighted. This gas will make a blaze twenty feet wide. It will be visible for twenty miles, and will light up the whole country around the show grounds.

"This is the man that bound me and my wife and burned our feet until we told where we had hidden our money," said John Wagner, 80 years old, as he picked Frank Donahoe out of a line of eight men at Etna police station, Pittsburg, Pa., Friday.

Consequently, the prosperity is reciproeal, and, from a purely monetary standpoint, it should behoove our business citizens to encourage to the utmost those on whom they so largely depend | hibit. for their own business successes.

"From personal experiences, over a considerable number of years, we have found that it is absolutely impossible to keep up to date in one's sphere of activity without access to the most authentic literature bearing upon one's life work, and which is applicable to and encourage the reading habit among some of the farmers of the parish, will donate, right away, a year's subscription of the Breeder's Gazette to each of ten white bona fide farmers of the parish of East Baton Rouge. This journal, although not a general agricultural paper, is considered the leading live stock journal of America, if not of the world, and along that particular line is an education in itself.

"Mr. Wax has chosen corn as his favorite product to nurture. He has selected wisely. But the farmer needs some good live stock to enhance the value of Mr. Wax's corn, by converting it into a higher-priced finished prodnet in the shape of beef, pork, mutton, poultry, etc. Hence the object of our donation is to give to ten of our farmers the very best and most reliable current literature obtainable on this important subject, which is engaging the attention of so many of them at the present time. If those of our farmers in the parish who care to avail themselves in this way of the Breeder's Gazette, which is published weekly in Chicago, will signify their desire by addressing the undersigned, Postoffice Box 483, Baton Rouge, we will make our decision upon the ten individuals from whom we first hear, unless some other method of determining who shall receive the subscriptions should be decided upon in the interim.

"It is to be hoped that all of our business people in Baton Rouge will get the foundation secure, and let the take their clew from Mr. Wax's timely structure grow gradually and of its own suggestion. If the proper earnestness is manifested in the endeavor, the ultimate results cannot be other than mutually beneficial to both our city and "In the third place, the agricultural exhibition attracts buyers to a community, and when once the buyer finds out where he can procure the class of product he is after, the farmer's market is practically assured, provided he keeps up, or, better still, improves the quality, which he is very likely to do in order to successfully compete at the annual exhibition. Consequently, under such circumstances, instead of the farmer having to hunt a market for his product, the buyer will hunt him to try to purchase it. The market is usually out for the best material, which is always salable. It is the inferior stuff of all kinds that goes a begging.

"In the fourth place, it advertises, etc. In the opinion of the writer, it has been our hitherto lack of the necessary patience to gradually build up that has resulted in failure to accomplish some of the objects we started to attain. The tendency has been to put the roof on before the foundation was built,' which is exceedingly poor policy when it comes to institutions such as that under consideration. It would not be very difficult, we think, to point to several 'monuments' to the want of good, sound business judgment and to shortsightedness in this direction. Let us make haste slowly; momentum, so to speak. Then it will be lasting.

HOW A DOCTOR CURED SCALP DISEASE

"When I was ten or twelve years old I had a scalp disease, something like scald head, though it wasn't that. I suffered for several months, and most of my hair came out. Finally they had a doctor to see me and he recommended the Cuticura Remedies. They cured me in a few weeks. I have used the Cuticura remedies, also, for a breaking out on my hands and was benefited a great deal. I haven't had any more trouble with the scalp disease. Miss Jessie F. Buchanan, R. F. Apropos of President Taft and his recent decision about whisky, Richard Le Gallienne said at a dinner at the St. Regis:

While I was living in Liverpool there arose a hot whisky discussion. Was pot still whisky the only wholesome one, or was patent still whisky the one non-poisonous drink? Chemical analyses were applied to every whisky going.

"A Liverpudlian entered a public house near the Albert docks one night and said:

"'Is yer whisky pure?"

"'Well, I should think so,' the publican answered. 'It's been paralyzed by three anarchists."
