

OROZCO WOULD RESTORE PEACE

PROCLAMATION DISTRIBUTED AT WASHINGTON BY HIS AGENT.

Intervention Is Not Wanted—He Declares Madero Has Been Disloyal and Unable to Protect.

Washington.—Paving the way for a more formal demand for the recognition by the United States of the belligerency of the Mexican revolutionists, Manuel Lujan, now in Washington, has submitted to the state department a signed copy of a proclamation issued by their leader, Orozco, addressed "on behalf of the revolutionary party to all the people of Mexico and its foreign colonies."

Adhere to Constitution. In this pronouncement Orozco declares the objects of his party to be a complete recognition of the principles of the Mexican constitution and the establishment of law and order, which Madero has failed to achieve. Stress is laid on the charge that at present lives and property of Mexicans and foreigners are in jeopardy; that through acts of violence Mexico has lost moral and financial prestige and "provoked the determination on the part of the United States and other foreign countries to forcibly intervene in behalf of their citizens residing in your midst for the purpose of protecting their lives and property."

Foreign Capital Invested. He points to the vast amount of foreign capital invested in Mexico, which he pledges to protect, as well as to stop all bloodshed and disorder. He declares "we don't want intervention; we must not have intervention. We should not permit, therefore, conditions to prevail which in any sense provide a just cause for intervention. The idea of intervention by any foreign government is appalling; it means our ultimate loss of independence, the downfall of our republic as well as hundreds of thousands of lives sacrificed and hundreds of millions of dollars of property destroyed."

Conditions in Chihuahua. Orozco refers with pride to the present conditions in the state of Chihuahua and which he promises soon will prevail in the newly acquired territory of Sinaloa. He condemns destruction of property, looting of the treasury and provocation of international differences. The conduct of Madero is said by Orozco to demonstrate his weakness of character and willingness to antagonize the well-meaning people of the republic.

"He should, therefore, be turned out at the earliest possible moment," continues the proclamation, which winds up with a declaration of the intention of the revolutionary party after restoring peace to reorganize the administration and put at its head a man who is the free choice of the people.

A Supreme Court Opinion. Austin, Tex.—The supreme court Wednesday in an opinion by Associate Justice Dibble handed down a most important decision affecting irrigation contracts, in fact, involving general rights under irrigation contracts. The sum of the decision was that a contract to supply a full amount of water for irrigating a given area is not enforceable if a drought or accident ensues and the irrigation ditch owners distribute water equally among their several patrons.

Bodies Are Widely Scattered. Halifax.—A wireless message received Sunday from the cable ship Minia indicates there is little hope of adding to the 130 odd bodies of Titanic victims now on the Mackay-Bennett. The weather has been bad, the sea rough and bodies are widely scattered. A revised list of the identified dead from wireless messages received places the total number of identified on the Mackay-Bennett at 184 and those on the Minia at eight.

Miners' Contract Signed. Indianapolis, Ind.—With the formal signing of the Cleveland wage contract Thursday by representatives of the United Mine Workers of America, and the bituminous coal mine owners, peace was established in the central field so far as wages are concerned, for the next two years. The agreement probably will be the basis for contracts in the Southwestern and Northern coal fields.

Caddo Lake Game Wardens Named. Austin, Tex.—W. C. Stephenson of Houston and Robert Goodfellow of Coleman have been named by the state game warden as special deputies at Caddo Lake. They are expected to co-operate with the Louisiana wardens in protecting the fish in Caddo Lake.

Hornet Due at Port Arthur. Port Arthur, Tex.—The tug Hornet, historical as a filibuster and confiscated for carrying contraband of war to Honduras, is due at Port Arthur this week to tow a barge to Mexico. She will touch at Galveston to pick up an additional tow.

$15,000 Mine Loss. Eagle Pass, Tex.—Shaft No. 2 at the international coal mines caught fire Thursday and was burned down along with eight Southern Pacific cars standing near. The mine loss is about $15,000.

Large Sale of Cattle. Snyder, Tex.—Sixteen hundred head of cattle were sold at $40 per head Saturday and shipped to Amarillo, Texas, by Russell & Baldrige of the Miller ranch.

MURDER OF AMERICAN PLANTERS IN MEXICO

American Refugees Flee to United States and File Claims Against the Mexican Government.

Galveston, Tex.—The murder of American citizens, criminal assaults upon American women and the pillaging by brigands of the property of American planters formed the burden of the story told in Galveston Tuesday when the steamship Texas, plying between Vera Cruz and Galveston, landed at pier 36 with a crowd of American refugees from the neighboring republic. Claims against the Mexican government aggregating approximately $80,000, the refugees say, have been filed by them with American Consul Lewis W. Haskell of Salina Cruz. Members of the party, who a few weeks ago estimated their possessions as ranging in value from $5,000 up to $20,000, reached Galveston in the majority of cases on money which had been cabled to them by relatives, who sent the funds in the care of the American consul at Vera Cruz.

On the Texas also were a number of American engineers and conductors, who had left the service of various lines of the Mexican National railways and who not only confirmed the stories of the refugees from the American plantations, but told of the demolition of tracks by bandits, the cutting of wires, the beating of station agents and assaults upon their wives. The spokesman of the planters was Madison H. Ish, formerly quartermaster in the United States regular army, who received a captain's commission while in service in 1892 in the department of the Platte.

"We were forced to leave Mexico," said Captain Ish, "because of the total lack of protection for life and property of Americans in the canton of Acayucan, Vera Cruz, because of the murder of Americans in the immediate vicinity of our colony by bands of marauding and roving Mexicans, who claim that they are working for the cause, and because of the robbing of trains on our line of railroad (the Vera Cruz and Isthmus) and the killing of passengers regardless of nationality. Absolutely no accurate conception of conditions in Mexico has been allowed to filter out.

"Take the one case of an American citizen, William Waite, for example. Waite was a neighbor of mine. He had taken his cattle to a friendly dealer and sold them, in anticipation of trouble. He deposited the money in the City of Mexico. A party of heavily armed bandits rode up to his hacienda and demanded 500 pesos for 'the cause,' of which they call Zapata the leader. Waite gave them what small funds he had on hand and told them his money was in the City of Mexico. They refused to listen to his explanations, trussed him with ropes, bound him to a door post on the gallery of his hacienda, and after slashing him with their machetes, cut his hands off.

"About two weeks before we left the bandits visited the hacienda of an American named Drake. They made the usual demand of money and arms for 'the cause.' Drake gave them a weapon of small caliber and twelve pesos, saying it was all he had. The bandits departed grumbling. A Mexican workman of Drake's told them that 'much money' and four guns were hidden at the house. They returned, and when Drake still denied possession of his remaining money, hoping to save enough to reach the States, they took Mrs. Drake, bound her, threw her about and submitted her to all sorts of indignities, finally beating the soles of her bare feet until they no longer looked like feet. To stop this brutality, Drake and his son brought out four guns and 800 pesos they had hidden away, were slashed with machetes and left unconscious as the bandits rode away."

Honor to J. A. Phillips. Madrid.—The telegraphers of Madrid have decided to place the portrait of J. A. Phillips, the wireless operator who lost his life in the Titanic disaster, in a place of honor in the principal operating room. They will also ask the international bureau at Geneva to take some steps toward perpetuating the memory of the brave operator.

From $14,000,000 to $20,000,000. Pittsburg, Pa.—Stockholders of the Westinghouse Air Brake Company Wednesday voted unanimously to approve the proposition of the board of directors to increase the capital stock from $14,000,000 to $20,000,000. Later the board voted to distribute the stock by a 1-3 per cent stock dividend.

Gold Excitement Unabated. Alpine, Tex.—The local gold excitement continues unabated in at least two distinct places, well-defined veins of the precious metal are now being followed. Many visitors to both of these places, where the development work has been fairly started, amuse themselves with "panning" gold out by hand from the pieces of ore as they are being thrown out by dynamite blasts.

Crops in Good Shape. Kerrville, Tex.—The grain and fruit crop is in fine condition. The oats crop is assured, whether the grain gets another rain or not. A large acreage of corn has been planted, but the nights are too cool for it to do well.

Will Ship Roasting Ears Soon. Harlingen, Tex.—Roasting ears will be shipped from Harlingen the latter part of this week. These will be the first on the market.

Reports of smaller tornadoes received from Minco, Yukon, Mulhall and points in Garfield county, south of Enid.

Over Thirty Lives Lost. Oklahoma City, Okla.—Approximately thirty-nine lives are known to have been sacrificed to the storm king's wrath Saturday afternoon, when a tornado of unusual magnitude swept through Northern Texas and the state of Oklahoma. Several others are reported dead, but this can not be confirmed. The injured list will exceed a hundred. Fully twenty towns suffered. The property loss can not be estimated.

Cyclone at Childress. Childress, Tex.—A cyclone which passed four miles east of Childress killed seven people and injured a number of others.

The dead: Rol Camp, wife and two children; Mrs. G. E. Kennedy; Hugh Singleton and wife.

Two children of the Singletons were also injured.

Rol Camp, Boyce Kennedy, Ben Clark, mail carrier; Mrs. Jess Cunningham and four employees of the Denver railroad were more or less injured.

A total of thirty farm houses were destroyed. The Denver employees were in a work train of nine cars, all of which were blown clear of the main line. There is a great loss among live stock.

For Compulsory Education. Chattanooga, Tenn.—The Woman and Child Labor Conference of the Southern States, holding its fifth annual session, adopted resolutions Wednesday favoring compulsory educational laws as a solution of child labor problems; recommended that states appoint a minimum wage board to investigate rate of wages in relation to the cost of living; favored pensioning of indigent widowed mothers and enfranchisement of women. The Tennessee factory inspector's efforts to enforce the child labor law was indorsed.

Torpedo Boat Destroyers. San Diego, Cal.—The torpedo boat destroyers Preble and Perry, the largest vessels of the flotilla, slipped out of the harbor Sunday night and went to sea with sealed orders. That they are bound for the west coast of Mexico is the general belief.

English Historian Passes Away. London.—Justin McCarthy, novelist and historian and for many years a member of parliament, died Wednesday at Folkestone.

HIS SERMON IN A NUTSHELL

Comprehensive and Succinct Report of What Was Said in the Funeral Oration.

A popular Irishman, beloved for many a mile around his home town, died suddenly. He belonged to several organizations, and the A. O. H. of Bloomville decided to send a Representative to his funeral.

The church was packed and the clergyman most sympathetic. In expressing his certainty of immortality he went in for simile.

"We will say," he observed in illustration, "that here is a beautiful watch. The case is good and is studded with diamonds. It looks like the valuable part of the watch, but you can remove the works and they will keep on ticking."

The delegate returned to his home town and was sounded on the topic of the funeral sermon.

"Well," he reported, "the father said that Pat was no Waterbury."

JEALOUS.

"My wife is awfully jealous. Is that so?"

"Yes; she wouldn't speak to me for three days after I hugged that hunter."

THE OLD PLEA

He "Didn't Know It Was Loaded."

The coffee drinker seldom realizes that coffee contains the drug, caffeine, a severe poison to the heart and nerves, causing many forms of disease, noticeably dyspepsia.

"I was a lover of coffee and used it for many years, and did not realize the bad effects I was suffering from its use. (Tea is just as injurious as coffee because it, too, contains caffeine, the same drug found in coffee.)

"At first I was troubled with indigestion. I did not attribute the trouble to the use of coffee, but thought it arose from other causes. With these attacks I had sick headache, nausea and vomiting. Finally my stomach was in such a condition I could scarcely retain any food.

"I consulted a physician; was told all my troubles came from indigestion, but was not informed what caused the indigestion. I kept on with the coffee, and kept on with the troubles, too, and my case continued to grow worse from year to year until it developed into chronic diarrhea, nausea and severe attacks of vomiting. I could keep nothing on my stomach and became a mere shadow, reduced from 150 to 128 pounds.

"A specialist informed me I had a very severe case of catarrh of the stomach, which had got so bad he could do nothing for me, and I became convinced my days were numbered.

"Then I chanced to see an article setting forth the good qualities of Postum and explaining how coffee injured people so I concluded to give Postum a trial. I soon saw the good effects—my headaches were less frequent, nausea and vomiting only came on at long intervals and I was soon a changed man, feeling much better.

"Then I thought I could stand coffee again, but as soon as I tried it my old troubles returned and I again turned to Postum. Would you believe it, I did this three times before I had sense enough to quit coffee for good and keep on with the Postum. I am now a well man with no more headaches, sick stomach or vomiting, and have already gained back to 147 pounds."

Name given by Postum Co., Battle Battle Creek, Mich.
