

CAPITAL REMOVAL BEING DISCUSSED

ALEXANDRIA CHAMBER OF COMMERCE IS TOLD FIGHT HAS JUST BEGUN.

SAYS FEELING NOT HEALED

Declares This is the Opportune Time to Win Fight Which Was Started in 1914.

Alexandria.—Representative J. E. McClanahan, of Caldwell, was the guest of honor at a noonday luncheon given by the chamber of commerce at the Rapides Hotel. Mr. McClanahan, who was the leader in the capital removal fight, two years ago, is still an ardent supporter of Alexandria for that honor, and the gathering was the initial movement in the fight which will be waged by Alexandria and Rapides parish, assisted by other parishes to have the capital removed to this city.

Secretary A. T. Felt, of the Chamber of Commerce, presided as master of ceremonies and the speakers were Representative McClanahan and Commissioner of Finance and acting Mayor E. F. Hunter. Mr. McClanahan said in part:

"While the people of Baton Rouge were rejoicing over my defeat, I assured them that the fight had not ended, but had just begun. I feel impatient to give any suggestions to the honorable men you have selected to represent you in the Constitutional Convention, but still there are a few suggestions I would like to make.

"This is the opportune time of your life to win the fight which I started in 1914 for sundry reasons. First, there is a difference of feeling existing between New Orleans and Baton Rouge that will not be healed or bridged between now and the holding of the Constitutional Convention if that convention is held.

"I was opposed to the holding of the convention, but agreed to support the convention if certain amendments were adopted. I agreed to support New Orleans as the place for holding the convention, and had the promises of many New Orleans delegates that they would support Alexandria in that convention; that they would work for the writing of an article in the Constitution changing the location of the state capital from Baton Rouge to Alexandria.

"Another reason why we have the advantage this time, is that East Baton Rouge parish will vote, almost to a man, opposing the holding of the Constitutional Convention. That will put Baton Rouge in a bad light with the New Orleans people. If Rapides votes for the convention, it will put them in better shape to get what they want. Baton Rouge is also afraid of Tulane University, New Orleans, being made the University of Louisiana, and that L. S. U. will be made an agricultural school."

Harvey B. Clark, a resident of New York, entered suit in the United States District Court at New Orleans to recover damages in the sum of $5,000 from Jones T. Prowell. Petitioner alleges that on January 15, 1915, in the clerk's office of the New Court building, defendant cursed and abused him in the presence of witnesses, and later in the day, struck him several blows. Petitioner disclaims any fault on his part that might have led to the alleged abuse and assault.

R. N. Sims, the new examiner of state banks, has issued his first report of the condition of the Louisiana institutions under his jurisdiction. It gives statistics up to the close of business on June 23. As the previous statement included March 16, there is not much change in the figures, the main value being to show that the summer slump has not affected either state or city to any extent.

Mrs. Elmar Baker of El Dorado, Ark., is under arrest at Arcadia, La., and is being held for the authorities of Union County on a charge of kidnapping. The child in the case is her five-year-old daughter, Clara May Baker, whom, it is charged, Mrs. Baker spirited away from its guardian, Mr. Sadie Parker, a relative of its father, at El Dorado and fled to Louisiana on July 16.

St. Bernard is "posted from end to end" with notices from the State Conservation Commission and United States Bureau of Biological Survey regarding the bird law, particularly relating to caille and grasses. A warning is being issued to the hunters and all offenders will be arrested by special agents, detailed to cover St. Bernard, and brought before the United States Court.

The special session of the grand jury, called by Judge Lafargue, to investigate the recent lynching of a negro in Bunkie County, completed its investigations and made a report of its findings to the court. The report of the grand jury declared that the body failed to secure sufficient evidence to hold any person responsible for the lynching.

Mayor F. E. Girard of Lafayette stated that he is well pleased with the operation of the "curfew law" which has been in effect for several weeks and which the police have had little trouble to enforce. The ordinance requires all children under sixteen years of age to be off the streets by nine o'clock at night unless accompanied by guardians.

A thorough investigation will be made in Calcasieu parish shortly to determine the extent of the prevalence of pellagra. Dr. G. O. McKinney, district health officer, has received information of a number of cases, and believes there may be as many as a hundred in the parish, but the situation is not such as to cause alarm.

The Gulf Refining Company while drilling an oil well on the Jennings Oil Company's lease, struck a very heavy pocket of gas, and for a time it looked as if the palms days of the Jennings field has been revived. The company immediately connected the heavy flow of gas to its boilers, using the gas for fuel, thereby saving $190 per day.

September 14 the Constitutional Convention assembled in New Orleans, it called by majority vote.

The large store and barn on the Providence plantation, just above Lake Providence, and owned by Joe Smith, was destroyed by fire, the fire originating on the night. The barn was filled with 5,000 tons of hay, which was partly covered by small insurance, thus making an almost total loss.

Summer travel out of New Orleans is now at its best and while with some business is a little better than last year, with others there is a noticeable falling off.

Committees from the various parishes from Pointe Coupee to Orleans began gathering subscriptions for the packing plant which is to be erected at Napoleonville.

The latter donated the site, as well as electric lights, water and steam necessary for the operation of the enterprise. Donaldsonville offered all these inducements except the steam, with an addition of $500 cash bonus. Both agreed to exempt the concern from local taxation for ten years. Napoleonville was in the ascendant, so Donaldsonville made it unanimous, at the same time pledging support. The special argument on the part of Napoleonville was that it was accessible to both the Texas and Pacific and Southern Pacific railroads, and the site will probably be near the junction of those lines.

The packing house is intended principally for the slaughter of hogs and the finishing of pork products. Beef cattle will be handled, but only with the intent of supplying the local markets. The plant is based upon a capacity of twenty-five hogs a day, all the by-products being manufactured, even to the fertilizers. That will contemplate about 9,000 hogs a year, and figures were submitted showing that 24,000 hogs are already being raised in the territory. The enterprise will give further impetus to the industry and assure sufficient supply. It was also figured that the concern would average $5 revenue per head, so that the only question remaining was the possibility of inciting the competition of the millionaire packers of the big cities and centers. Chairman Dodge said that this difficulty had been discounted and before there would be any investment the dealers and handlers in Lafourche and Terrebonne towns would be canvassed for permanent contracts for regular supply. If a sufficient number of these were secured, and he had full belief that they would be, the plan would proceed as outlined.

Rocky Roads of China. We all know the description of the snakes in Ireland: "There are none," and much the same might be said about the roads in China. There are so-called roads, certainly, upon which the people move about, but I have seldom met one that was any better than the surrounding country, and very, very often on this journey I met roads where it was ease and luxury to move off them on to the neighboring plowed field. The recipe for a road there in the North seems to be: "Take a piece of the country that is really too bad to plow or to use for any agricultural purposes whatever, that a mountain torrent, in fact, has given up as too much for the water, upset a stone wall over it, a stone wall with good large stones in it, take care they never for a moment lie evenly, and you have your road.—Wide World Magazine.

Perverse Human Nature. "Is it true that poverty improves a man's perspective?" "I doubt it." "Then, how about riches?" "The result is the same. When a man's poor he can't appreciate the simple life because he has to live it, and when he's rich he can't appreciate the simple life because his doctor recommends it."

In Far-off India. In some unknown manner a little sample of Hanford's Balsam of Myrrh found its way into an interior village of India. It was its own agent, and from that small beginning a steady trade has developed and each succeeding shipment has been larger. Adv.

CALOMEL WHEN BILIOUS? NO! STOP! ACTS LIKE DYNAMITE ON LIVER

I Guarantee "Dodson's Liver Tone" Will Give You the Best Liver and Bowel Cleansing You Ever Had—Doesn't Make You Sick!

Stop using calomel! It makes you sick. Don't lose a day's work. If you feel lazy, sluggish, bilious or constipated, listen to me!

Calomel is mercury or quicksilver which causes necrosis of the bones. Calomel, when it comes into contact with your bile crashes into it, breaking it up. This is when you feel that awful nausea and cramping. If you feel "all knocked out," if your liver is torpid and bowels constipated or you have headache, dizziness, coated tongue, if breath is bad or stomach sour just try a spoonful of harmless Dodson's Liver Tone.

Here's my guarantee—Go to any drug store or dealer and get a 50-cent bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't straighten you right up and make you feel fine and vigorous I want you to go back to the store and get your money. Dodson's Liver Tone is destroying the sale of calomel because it is real liver medicine; entirely vegetable, therefore it cannot salivate or make you sick.

I guarantee that one spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tone will put your sluggish liver to work and clean your bowels of that sour bile and constipated waste which is clogging your system and making you feel miserable. I guarantee that a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone will keep your entire family feeling fine for months. Give it to your children. It is harmless; doesn't gripe and they like its pleasant taste.

Tibetans Will Not Be Denied the Joys That Accrue From the Sense of Bargaining.

"Mornin' time, bargain time!" calls out one of the peddlers by the wayside in Tibet cheerfully as he sees you returning from a glimpse of the snows at sunrise. You bid him come to you, and from one of the innumerable pockets concealed in his voluminous robe he will produce a perfect little jade cup, or a Tibetan coffee pot, or gold copper and precious stones, or perhaps a huge lump of rough turquoise hewn to look like a couch with a tiny gold Buddha reclining on it.

Then comes the bargaining, in which he and all his friends take part against your single self.

It can all be done by signs and smiles and patience and in the long run you will get some things well worth having at a very reasonable price.

But you must have no false pride about bargaining. It is an elementary part of these people's nature, and the joy of selling will leave them forever when the day of haggling is done.

Scottish Lodging Houses. Glasgow has seven municipal lodging houses, six for men and one for women. They are stone buildings, three to five stories in height, and of the most substantial character. Each lodger has a separate room, with bed and chair. The bed has a wire spring, a hair or fiber mattress, coarse sheets, a blanket, a coverlet, a pillow and a pillowcase. These are aired, cleaned and washed after the lodger has gone in the morning. The total number of bedrooms in the seven houses is 2,235.

Slander. Slander, sir! You do not know what you are disdaining. I have seen the most respectable persons almost overwhelmed by it. . . . At first a light sound, skimming the earth like a swallow before the storm, very softly (pianissimo) it murmurs and purrs and sows in its course poisoned arrows. It is on somebody's mouth, and softly, softly (piano, piano), it glides slyly into your ear. The evil is done. It is born, it creeps, it walks; and with growing power (rinforzando) it goes from mouth to mouth diabolically. Then, all of a sudden, I can't tell you how, you see slander straighten up, hiss, swell and grow tall before your very eyes. It springs, stretches its wings, whirls, envelops, seizes, carries off; it flashes lightning, it thunders and becomes a hue and cry, a public crescendo, a universal chorus of hatred and proscriton. Who, indeed, could stop it!—Beaumarchais.

Well Named. They were talking about a promising young man who had failed to make good as a travelling salesman. The first man said to the other man: "It was queer about the boy. He seemed to be a regular whirlwind. His first trip was a rattling success, but all he brought back from his second trip was a bunch of foolish excuses." "What was it you called him—a whirlwind?" "Yes." "I see. All 'whirl' at the beginning, and all 'wind' at the finish."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.
