Readers who kept up with the "The Call of the Cumberland," was recently completed in the book, will take more than ordinary interest in the motion picture drama- tization of this celebrated novel which is shown, featuring that famous picture player, Dustin Farnum, at the Auditorium Wednesday, June 23. Many of our subscribers have re- ceived that "The Call of the Cumber- land" is one of the best serial stories ever read, and its photo-pro- duction with Dustin Farnum in the lead role should furnish one of the attractions yet shown here. The success of the local picture-play is to be commended for their ef- fort in securing such high-class pro- duction for the entertainment and amusement of the Welsh people. They are making no effort, having recently shown the entire Auditorium screen- ed, to include the "pesky little mosquito" that no patron might say, "I have seen this." The public should lend hearty co-operation for the main- tenance of the high standard of enter- tainment which the Welsh Motion Picture Company is furnishing.

Layne & Bowler Co. News Notes

—Mr. M. E. Layne, the inventor of the famous Layne Pump, and the President of the Layne & Bowler Co., the world's greatest water supply contractors, paid our office and sev- eral of our customers, a very pleas- ant visit last Friday. While here, Mr. Layne accompanied Messrs. Scoggins and Flowers on a tour of inspection of several of the wells which have been drilled this season, and was more than delighted with the showing made by the 16 inch well which are an innovation in the irrigat- ing systems in this section of the rice belt. Mr. Layne joined Mrs. Layne on No. 10 and resumed his journey to Memphis.

Mr. L. G. Fowler, manager of the Crowley office, motored over last Friday to meet Mr. M. E. Layne. M. Flower returned the same day.

—Messrs. John Newby, Leslie Mc- Millin, Vernon Scoggins and Roy Adams, left Wednesday on No. 10 for Pensacola, Florida, where Layne & Bowler Co., has a series of wells to drill for the Newport Turpentine & Rosin Co. They will be away all the summer on this one contract.

We have been advised by the Little Rock office of the Missouri Pacific R. R. Co., that our proposals to drill and complete a 1100 ft. well for that Co., at Alexandria, has been accepted.

—The Layne & Bowler Co. products are fast becoming the Standard of their line. In more than one instance lately, we have had only to submit our position to the other party to get the contract. No red tape, no knocking of the other fellow's bus- ness, no undue praise of our own—that is the way we do business.

—We are feeling pretty good this week, having received one large con- tract and also advised that some of our wells, instead of falling off as the water level lowers, is showing up better.

—We will quit for this time, but say, ain't it hot? OFFICE BOY.

Say, we forgot to tell you about our contract with the Union Sul- phur Co. to drill a 12" well for them. main thing about this contract is that this Co. selected our famous Layne Patent Shutter Screen from among all the other water screens on the market. But then this screen too! the Gold Medal and Blue Ribbon at the Panama-Pacific Exposition last year.
