

I SUFFERED THREE YEARS

Finally Was Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Lowell, Mass.—"I was all run down and had an awful pain in my right side, was persistently constipated and had very dizzy spells. I suffered for three years and was perfectly miserable until a friend was telling me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I found it a wonderful medicine. I can now do twice as much work and I recommend the Vegetable Compound to other women. You can use these facts as a testimonial."—Mrs. M. THEALL BESSEY, 186 Appleton Street, Lowell, Mass.

Why women will continue to suffer so long is more than we can understand, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

For forty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has restored the health of thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, etc.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

DADDY'S EVENING FAIRY TALE

By Mary Graham Bonner

THE KIND WEATHER.

"I think I'm the kindest soul in the whole world," said Old Man Weather.

"Why?" asked Mr. Wind.

"Why?" asked Mr. Sun.

"Well," said Old Man Weather, "you all help me. I know. Without you I don't know what would happen. I really don't. And I appreciate what all of you do to help. I appreciate the King of the Clouds and the Army of Raindrops. I appreciate Old Nurse Fog and the Mist Grandchildren. I am grateful to all my friends, the Lightning Children, Old King Thunder and Old Queen Thunder, the different Winds and the Breeze Brothers.

"I don't know how I would get along at all if it weren't for you, dear Mr. Sun. And Mr. Moon even helps me, and the Star Children when I feel like a clear, bright night, and the Clouds all help me and the Rainbow often comes and makes even the Sun and Rain laugh at each other and smile their prettiest smiles.

"I like Prince Sleet and Old Man Snow and Jack Frost, and Master Chilly and the different members of the Autumn Paint Brush club and Master Very Cool, and Old Boy Blizzard and the Hall grandchildren and the rest of them.

"Yes, I like them all, and everyone is a help to me, for without them all at different times I wouldn't be. They help to make me what I am—Old Man Weather, and very glad indeed. Well, I can't help saying, though, that I am delighted to think that I am such a help in conversation."

"What's that?" asked Mr. Wind.

"Dear Mr. Wind, you should know," said Old Man Weather, "for you're always blustering about something or other."

"I don't believe I quite remember. I may have known once."

"Well," said Old Man Weather, "conversation means talk."

"Oh, yes," said Mr. Wind.

"Oh, yes," agreed Mr. Sun.

"You see," said Old Man Weather, "whatever would folks do for conversation or for talk if they didn't have me?"

"Just listen some day, Mr. Sun—and you listen, too, some day, Mr. Wind—and see if you ever heard anything to equal it or compare with it. Once upon a time I got a great blank book, and I put down in the book each time I was mentioned, and just what was said about me.

"I thought all the speeches would be interesting to look back upon. But, Mr. Wind and Mr. Sun, would you believe it, at the end of one day my arm was so tired from writing and my book was so jammed full—I had even written around the edges—that I didn't bother about such a thing any more.

"You see, they talk about me all the time. You can hear it when the doors of shops are left open. Folks go into shops, and the shopkeepers say, 'Lovely day we're having, madame.'"

"Or they go to market, and the market man says, 'Isn't this weather delightful?'"

"Or folks meet at a party, and they say: 'Doesn't this steady rain almost drive you mad?'"

"Or they have a lecture, and some one gets up on the platform and says: 'I am sorry the weather has kept so many people away tonight, but those who have come will be rewarded by hearing a very fine lecture.'"

"Or, when people meet each other and have nothing else to say, they talk about me.

"I think I'm the kindest soul in the world. I let them talk about me all the time. When they're nothing else to say, they can talk about me; they can talk about me all the time.

"Oh, I'm good-natured, I am. And I help them out, for if I made a law forbidding people to talk about me, gracious, how awful it would be! There would be so many silences. So I'll never make such a law, but I'll always be good-natured."

Johnny's Idea.

"Johnny, when I tell your father what a naughty boy you've been today he will punish you severely."

"Have you got to tell him, ma?"

"Yes, and I shall tell him immediately after dinner."

"Well, ma, give him a better dinner than usual, won't you? You might do that much for me."

Reasons for Fear.

Little Elizabeth was spending a week with her aunt. On the first night, when bedtime came, aunt asked her little girl if she was frightened in the dark. "Oh, no, auntie," replied Elizabeth. "That's lovely," said the aunt with a sigh of relief. "I was a little afraid once," went on Elizabeth, "when I went into the pantry to get a cookie." "What were you afraid of?" "I was afraid that I would not be able to find the cookie," replied Elizabeth.

The Joyous Negligee

IN THE engrossing business of selecting clothes for spring, women concern themselves first with their outer apparel; hats, wraps, suits, dresses lead off in the procession of new things made ready for the advent of summer. Negligees can afford to come last. It is their mission to be beautiful and comfortable within the four walls of home and their fascinations are never overlooked. Some of their designers pay little attention to the seasons; it is always summertime with them—but others remember there is such a thing as chilly weather occasionally, even indoors. The new negligees include many lovely things made of sheer materials and there is a good representation of heavier goods. They are all made up into graceful garments in which clever draping is the dominant style note.

Suits With Vestees

OCCASIONALLY a new feature in the styles carries a season by storm and sweeps over the entire country in no time. This was the case last year when suits having coats open at the front, revealing vests in contrasting material, were introduced at the beginning of the season and were soon in universal demand. Their success was extraordinary and for this very reason many people thought it would be short lived. But this same feature reappears in many suits this season, to find an enthusiastic welcome.

Embroidery of silk in the color of the suit and often with a contrasting color introduced with the self color, is even more popular this year than last, and small bone buttons are used with it for helping out in the decoration of this spring's models. There is no very great change in the styles, but a great deal of ingenuity in the cut of coats and the management of details, as pockets and sleeves, makes the new models very interesting. Coats and skirts have grown shorter.

Two examples of the use of vests and embroidery appear in the attractive suits that are shown above. In one of them the vest is made of brocade silk with a wide band of velvet ribbon across the top. The designer arrived at widened hip lines and uneven length at the bottom of the coat, by means of very large pockets and takes pains to center attention on them by covering them with embroidery.

Embroidery is introduced on a suit of dark blue cloth having a vest of heavy crepey material with an emerald-brodered band at the top. It has crescent-shaped pockets with rows of small buttons on them.

New Separate Skirts Are Favored.

London, the home of the strictly tailored garment, is showing many pleasant models in separate skirts. Instead of being developed in the wonderful sport silks which characterize those of American or French design, they are of tweeds, jersey, serge and leather mixtures, and are for practical wear. Stripes are used, and a loose weave somewhat resembling the herringbone pattern. These skirts are made on simple lines, often with a short sash girdle. One attractive model of blue serge is fastened with a side inset of plain material; this inset tapers to a point at the skirt bottom.

Fancy Lingerie.

It is the day of fancy lingerie and it must be admitted that eccentricity often enters the arena in this connection. Many are of the opinion that underwear should always be pure white, very fine and washable; it is not enough that it should be "cleanable." But this is rather an old-fashioned notion.

LIFE'S LITTLE JESTIS

HAD FORGOTTEN.

Professor A becomes infatuated with a young lady and woos her with great ardor.

"But," says the maid, "how can I marry you? You are already married."

"Am I?" says he. "Wait a bit." (Pulls out his notebook.) "Oh, yes, I am! You are right, my dear!"—Karl-katuru, Norway.

Good Prescription at That.

"I shall never call that doctor again."

"What's the matter? Didn't his advice suit you?"

"Not at all. It was insulting."

"In what way?"

"He had the effrontery to suggest that it would do me a lot of good if I'd quit taking life easy and go to work."

Fumes Make Her Fume.

"Doctor, does tobacco make a man nervous?" "It's very apt to, if his wife objects to his smoking."

Fearful Possibility.

"Let's hope the cooks don't form any more unions," said Senator Sargnum.

"Who cares?"

"I do. Suppose they were to strike. Without cooks there could be no banquets; and without banquets what would we do for politics?"

THE HALCYON DAYS.

When we go anywhere now we have to take the street car. Before our marriage you always called a taxi.

Yes; that's the reason we have to go in the street car now.

No Chance at All.

The gripper germ shuts you up at home with pains that strangely rankle! Or, if you're well enough to roam, You fall and sprain your ankle.

Some Luck.

Stout—Did you have any luck at the game last night?

Slim—I'll say so. Got cleaned and was going home with the boys and we were held up and the winners lost all their dough to the footpad.

Honest Doctor.

"My dear lady, you are in perfect health. I can't find a thing the matter with you."

"I wish you'd try again, doctor. I do so want to go away to recuperate."

A Problem.

"Tell me one thing about a man's shying his hat into the ring."

"What is that?"

"Will it keep him from talking through it?"

In a Restaurant.

"Will you have one of our combination breakfasts?"

"Not on your life! The last time the combination was acute indigestion and a heart attack."

Its Style.

"Was there much fuss about the telephone girl's breaking her engagement?"

"No; merely a case of ring off."

Natural Handicap.

"Isn't it odd that women are so successful in motion pictures?"

"Why is it odd?"

"Because it is the silent drama."

Specified.

"There are some drawbacks in the photograph business."

"Yes, it has some ugly features about it."

Sad Prospect.

"Do the doctors give your friends any hope for their rich uncle?"

"Not a particle. They say he may live for years."

Discussing the Lead.

The Comedian—That new leadin' man's a cheese. The big stiff! Nothin' but a cheese.

The Soubrette—Naw, he ain't no cheese. A cheese is good to eat. He's a hole in the cheese—just as rank, but nothin' to it.

Does It Ever Happen?

Hebbers—Yes, my dear, and if I win in the game I'll surely buy you anything your heart desires.

Voice Over the Phone—And you may stay as long as you like, Henry, dear.

Not a Political Reason.

Mrs. Hoyle—I understand that you are trying to get votes for your husband for alderman.

Mrs. Doyle—Yes, the board meets once a month and I would like to have 12 times in the year when he did not have to tell me a fish story regarding where he had spent the evening.

Psychological Moment.

"The soprano says she can't sing on account of ulcerated teeth."

"That is the very time to make her notes soar."

STOMACH TROUBLE AND CONSTIPATION ENDED

Suffered So He Couldn't Work for a Year, but Mr. McCormick Was Cured Promptly.

"I had stomach trouble and constipation for five years. One year of this time I was unable to work, suffering untold agony. I doctored with some of the best physicians, also took many proprietary medicines, but could not find permanent relief. Finally a friend recommended Milk's Emulsion. The first few doses relieved me greatly, and three bottles of it effected a permanent cure."—C. A. McCormick, Anderson, Ind.

Mr. McCormick is only one of many hundreds who have endured torture for years and then found that Milk's Emulsion gives blessed relief and real, lasting benefit. It costs nothing to try.

Milk's Emulsion is a pleasant, nutritive food and a corrective medicine. It restores healthy and natural bowel action, doing away with all need of pills and purgatives. It promotes appetite and quickly puts the digestive organs in shape to assimilate food. As a builder of flesh and strength Milk's Emulsion is strongly recommended to those whom sickness has weakened, and is a powerful aid in resisting and repairing the effects of wasting diseases. Chronic stomach trouble and constipation are promptly relieved—usually in one day.

This is the only solid emulsion made, and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream. It is wonderful for weak, sickly children.

No matter how severe your case, you are urged to try Milk's Emulsion under this guarantee—Take six bottles home with you, use it according to directions, and if not satisfied with the results your money will be promptly refunded. Price 60¢ and $1.20 per bottle. The Milk's Emulsion Co., Terre Haute, Ind. Sold by druggists everywhere.—Adv.

SKIN ERUPTIONS ON THE FACE

are unsightly and mar the appearance of many a woman whose face would be otherwise attractive. There is no need for this.
