ROANOKE BUDGET

Mr. Joach Ruffner of Kansas, Mrs Jen Ruffner and Mrs. Erva Winters of Millersville, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. Eli Ruffner of Independence, Mo., spent Tuesday and Wednesday with Mrs. Nellie Winchell. Mrs. Emma Martin spent the week- end in Lake Charles visiting friends and relatives. Mr. and Mrs. A. McMillin entertain- ed at luncheon last Monday in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Walton of Mexico. Those present were, Mr. and Mrs. Walton, Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Robinson, Carl McMillin and family, E. E. McMillin and family. The dining room was decorated with beautiful pot plants, the table being artistically ar- ranged groaned under the well laden dishes of good eats. Mrs. McMillin never does things by halves. All en- joyed a fine luncheon and pleasant afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Walton and chil- dren of Mexico after a lapse of sever- al years, are spending a vacation with his mother, Mrs. Susan Walton on Canal street. The school at this place is expect- ing to have for Christmas a real good program in which all parents should be interested and assist the children in every way you can and see that they do their best, get up competition, or spirit or anything you see fit to call it. Get the little ones interested. Teach them the spirit and just see what a grand help you will be both to your children and the teacher. There is nothing that fills a true parent's heart to its overflowing more than to sit in an audience and see a girl or boy get up on the stage and excell or come up with the best. Mrs. Carmelite Demary passed away after a short illness of two days. She came to Roanoke on Sunday the 21st, taking ill that night. All that medical aid and loving hands could do was of no avail. About 3:00 o'clock Tuesday morning her spirit took its flight to that land from which none ever return. Mrs. Demary was a Christian lady hav- ing joined the Sacred Heart church years ago. She having lived a quiet useful life to the ripe age of 68 years passed out as quietly as she had lived, leaving four children, Hubert, Gilbert, Joseph and a daughter, Edores De- mary to mourn her loss. Weep not, dear children, she is not dead, she's just away and has only crossed the bar, to dwell forevermore with him o'er whom the star of Bethlehem, brightly shown, who deedeth, e'en the sparrow's fall. Conquerer of sin and death itself, the king of kings, and Lord of all.

ORAL HYGIENE

"YOUR TEETH"
SECOND STAGE OF THE DECAY OF THE TEETH
(By Rea Procter McGee, M. D., D. S., Editor Oral Hygiene)

When that sharp little pain warns you that another tooth is going it always seems "so sudden", so unreason- ably sudden. The enamel is not sensi- tive but the dentine that forms the body of the tooth and fills all of the space between the enamel and the nerve, is full of thrills.

Where the enamel and the dentine meet, the tooth is more sensitive than at any other place except on the nerve, the teeth are particularly sensitive at the margin of the gum.

As the little bacteria of decay get further into the dentine, they send scouts out ahead along the fibres that extend from the nerve. That is why the dentist seems to do such a tremen- dous lot of drilling in a cavity. If he didn't go well beyond the farthest par- ticle of decay, his filling would be a failure.

The decay spreads out underneath the enamel as the acid produced by the bacteria eats away the line that forms the hard part of the tooth. This causes the cavity to be larger usually on the inside than it is at the entrance.

Food and mucus and a remarkable line of debris collect in the cavity. An ash can has nothing on a hollow tooth. This mess decomposes and then the owner of the tooth wonders why his friends take a backward step when he talks to them.

Even at this stage the tooth may be saved without the nerve being de- stroyed, but it is rapidly getting to the point where long and patient treat- ment will be required to keep it where the Lord intended it should be.

In the mouth are more than two hun- dred different kinds of bacteria. Most of them upon decaying food. In addi- tion to the pain and destruction these cavities cause, they mix this poison- ous mass with every bite of food and help wreck the delicate machinery of digestion.

One of the special events of the week was that of R. G. Hayes. Mr. Hayes while hunting in the where- abouts of Bayou Chene accidentally met five ducks peacefully sunning themselves in the middle of the stream across the stream was one of his companions. Mr. Hayes leveled his double-barrel and cracked down on the unfortunate fowls. His companion after his shot also levered his gun and down came a duck. Mr. Hayes saw the duck and said it must be his, his com- panion said no he had just shot it, thereby Mr. Hayes concluded an alligator got his.

"Never mind Mr. Hayes maybe you won't be so unfortunate as to have an alligator pounce down on your prey next time."

THACKSTON-SAVOIS MARRIAGE
Saturday night at 8 o'clock occurred the marriage of James Thackston and Miss Ella Savoie, the ceremony being performed by Rev. J. P. Ferret, rector of the Catholic church, in his study. Only the bride and groom, necessary witnesses and the priest were in at- tendance at the ceremony.

The groom, a native son of Welsh, is the prosperous proprietor of the Liberty Tailor Shop. The bride, a daughter of Mrs. A. Savoie, is a very worthy young lady. She has recently been employed as operator at the local telephone exchange, a position she relinquished to become a bride.

The many friends of the happy young couple are extending them hearty congratulations.
