to spend a summer vacation until September. Mr. Loyd Tugwell is filling the vacancy until Mr. Martin returns.

Mrs. M. Kaliski and little Miss Rosalia and Mrs. Arnold Bernstein left for home Sunday after spending some time with Mr. Bernstein's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Bernstein.

The many friends of Mrs. W. E. Heard will be glad to know that she is fast improving from quite a protracted and serious illness. We join them in wishing her a speedy recovery.

Considering the vast amount of work that has been accomplished in Winnfield in a very short span of years, the prospects are rosy for its full development into the progressive city in a very brief period.

Mrs. J. S. Hunt and little son accompanied Mrs. A. B. Moore, her guest and sister-in-law, as far as Ruston, where she will spend a few days with relatives and friends. Mrs. Moore spent the past week with Mrs. Hunt and returns to her home in Arkadelphia.

It is noted that some of the badly washed side streets have recently been repaired and graded. A system of thorough ditching and grading is badly needed. Undoubtedly this will be done when the system of water works is inaugurated. It takes time to do all things.

The reporter of The Sentinel takes this method of expressing his thanks and appreciation of the many courtesies extended and valuable assistance rendered him by Secretary J. W. Boyett and associate, J. N. DeLoach, during the session of the Farmers' Union convention.

Mrs. Will A. Strong, accompanied by her grandsons, John and Allyn Bell, was in Winnfield on Thursday and left for Shreveport, where she goes to visit her daughter, Mrs. John W. Bell, for a week. On her return, she will spend some time in Winnfield.

"Five Dollars fine for throwing watermelon rinds on the street," is a reminder that some sanitary measures are being enforced to decrease foul odors and purify the atmosphere. There is room for more rules of like tenor. It can be stated that the warning is being strictly observed.

Calhoun Abraham, the popular Syrian dealer in fancy goods, laces, embroidery, Mexican drawn work and hoisery, has bought himself a team and will now trade through the country for chickens, turkeys, ducks, etc., as well as hides, tallow and beeswax. He will have his headquarters and depository in Winnfield.

Some enterprising citizen could make an excellent living by inaugurating a regular line of conveyances between this town and the Natatorium, a distance of three miles. Many visitors anxious to visit this resort are debarred from doing so for the lack of regular transportation.

The editor of The Sentinel regrets very much not being able to attend the banquet given by Mine Host C. L. Bradley of the Monroe Hotel on the 23rd to the old veterans, to which we were invited. We have read with pleasure the description given in the Monroe papers, and the pleasure it gave the old vets. We take off our hats to Col. Bradley.

The sloping neutral ground of Main street on the square between Beville street and Central Division avenue shows what little work and expense are necessary to fringe the sidewalks with attractive areas and prevent constant repairs. A beautiful green sward ornaments its whole length and is a very attractive setting to the concrete pavement.

Misses Ottilie Barnes and Rosio Colvin, two of the fairest young maidens of Winnfield, left last Friday to spend a well earned vacation with their relatives, Mr. J. M. Colvin, at Ruston. These young ladies are members of the Willing Workers and among the most energetic of Winnfield's fair beves of girls. They returned Monday evening.

One of the prominent visitors to the Convention this week was National President C. S. Barrett, of Union City, Ga. The gentleman has a wide reputation among the agriculturalists of the South, is a fluent and attractive speaker and of most pleasing personality. The Sentinel acknowledges a friendly visit from this popular leader of the agriculturalists of the South.

Attention Veterans!

Willis-Gentian.

Married in Winnfield, La., on Wednesday, July 29, 1908, Mr. O. O. Willis of Newport and Miss Liddle E. Gentian, of Winn parish, at the home of Mr. M. V. Higdon, Rev. J. R. Edwards officiating.

A few friends witnessed this joyous event. After the ceremony the happy couple took the T. & G. train to return home. They are wished a full measure of happiness.

A Wedding Party.

On last Wednesday there arrived at Winnfield C. L. Shell of Chatham, accompanied by Mr. J. M. Collina and wife, Miss Maul Farnham and Messrs. R. L. Dickerson and D. C. Proctor. The party left on the afternoon train to attend the wedding of Mr. C. L. Shell and Miss Walker, of Dodson, which was scheduled to take place at 4 o'clock that afternoon.

Rain Galore.

Since last Saturday this section of the country has experienced an unusual spell of weather for the closing days of July. Showers have fallen every day and Monday night there was a continuous downpour throughout the night hours. The sky has been overcast with heavy storm clouds, accompanied with a strong wind, while the atmosphere was sufficiently cool to be highly suggestive of autumnal weather. It partially cleared on Wednesday afternoon. There has been a surfeit of water to last several days and more than sufficient for the crops.

Carpenter Work.

J. A. Neyland contractor and builder, announces that he is prepared to enter into contracts and do all kinds of carpenter work. He is now engaged in building the Ike LaCrox Hotel at Verda. Address him at that town. j31 1t

Bid for Cotton Mill.

Messrs. C. B. Roberts and E. W. Warren accompanied Mayor Hosea Ragan of Ruston to appear before the Farmers' Union on a proposition to build a cotton factory. We were glad to greet them but our committee of the Progressive League, composed of Mayor J. D. Pace, J. S. Hunt, Emerson Bentley, R. W. Oglesby and Will A. Strong met the committee and forcibly put in the claims of Winnfield. When the farmers are ready to build and have definite plans for building a cotton factory we were assured that Winnfield would have a chance. That is all Winnfield wants, her citizens will do the balance.

A Crowded House.

The ladies of the Memorial Association met with a flattering success last Tuesday night. The people of Winnfield responded to their efforts to raise mns for the cemetery fence. The City Auditorium was filled with a constant overflowing crowd from the very inception of the moving picture performance. They realized quite a handsome sum from the receipts, a marked compliment to the proprietors as well as the ladies of the Memorial Association.

In A Hurry.

An instance of a rapid matrimonial alliance occurred in the Clerk's office last Monday during a night session of the Farmer's Union. Mr. Philip M. Williams and Miss Lillie E. Anders of Gilbert, were present in person when the license was issued. They wanted a minister at once. Obliging deputy S. M. Abel asked them to tarry a moment and went up stairs to find the required attendant, among the assembled farmers. He found Justice W. M. Simmons of ward 7, who responded to his request. The marital knot was quickly tied and the happy young couple went on their way rejoicing.

CHARTER OF THE CENTRAL OIL COMPANY

State of Louisiana, Parish of Winn. Be it remembered: That on this 28th day of July, A. D. 1908, before me Harry P. Gamble, a Notary Public, duly commissioned and qualified in and for the Parish of Louisiana, and in the presence of the witnesses hereinafter named and undersigned, personally appeared L. H. Baldwin, J. D. Pace, W. A. Strong, O. U. Payne and John H. Mathews, who declared that availing themselves of the laws of the State of Louisiana, they had organized and incorporated under the provisions hereinafter set forth, which they hereby accept as their charter, to wit:

ARTICLE I. The name and title of this corporation shall be THE CENTRAL OIL COMPANY, and its domicile is hereby fixed and established at Winnfield, Winn Parish, Louisiana, and under its corporate name the said corporation shall have power and authority to contract, sue and be sued; to make and use a corporate seal, and the same to break and alter at pleasure; to hold, receive, have, purchase, improve, alienate, convey, sell, borrow, pledge, mortgage, and hypothecate under said corporate name, real, personal or mixed; and to name and appoint such officers, directors, agents and managers or employees, to make stipulations and provisions hereinafter set forth, which they hereby accept as their charter, to wit:

ARTICLE II. The name and title of this corporation shall be THE CENTRAL OIL COMPANY, and its domicile is hereby fixed and established at Winnfield, Winn Parish, Louisiana, and under its corporate name the said corporation shall have power and authority to contract, sue and be sued; to make and use a corporate seal, and the same to break and alter at pleasure; to hold, receive, have, purchase, improve, alienate, convey, sell, borrow, pledge, mortgage, and hypothecate under said corporate name, real, personal or mixed; and to name and appoint such officers, directors, agents and managers or employees, to make stipulations and provisions hereinafter set forth, which they hereby accept as their charter, to wit:

ARTICLE III. The objects and purposes for which this corporation is organized and the nature of the business to be carried on by it are declared to be the following:

ARTICLE IV. The capital stock of this corporation shall be Twenty-Five Thousand Dollars to be divided into twenty-five thousand shares of One Dollar each, which said shares are to be paid for in cash or its equivalent, before the same is issued, and this corporation shall have the privilege of beginning operations under this charter when Three thousand shares of the capital stock has been subscribed for.

ARTICLE V. The corporate powers of this corporation shall be vested in a Board of Directors to be composed of five persons, each of whom shall be a shareholder, and the majority of the Board of Directors shall constitute a quorum. The shareholders shall hold regular annual meetings, the time for which shall be designated in the by-laws of the corporation, and at said meeting, shall elect a Board of Directors, declare dividends or losses, and transact any other business that may come before their meeting.

ARTICLE VI. The said Board of Directors shall meet within seven days after the annual meeting of the shareholders, and at such meeting shall elect a President, Vice President, General Manager, Secretary and Treasurer, and such other officers as they may deem necessary to serve for the ensuing year.

ARTICLE VII. In all elections of directors each shareholder shall be entitled to one vote for every share of stock held by him, and the votes must be cast by the stockholder in person, or by proxy, authorized in any manner that may be required by the Board of Directors, under their general rules and by-laws, and the majority of the votes cast shall elect.

ARTICLE VIII. The Board of Directors shall make such by-laws, rules and regulations as may be necessary for the proper management of the business of this corporation, and shall change the same as they deem best, and shall have the power to provide for, contract debts, borrow

This charter may be changed, or amended, or dissolved, by a majority of the votes of the shareholders at a meeting called by the Board of Directors for that purpose, should the corporation dissolve its affairs shall be liquidated by the Board of Directors, which is hereby constituted the Board of Liquidators.

ARTICLE VII. No shareholder shall in any event be held liable for the contracts or faults of this corporation, beyond that of any unpaid balance that may be due by him to the corporation on shares owned by him.

ARTICLE VIII. Shares of stock may be conveyed, sold and transferred, but the transferee of said shares shall not have privilege of voting with said stock until the transfer of said stock is made on the books of this corporation, and any unpaid balance that may be due thereon paid to the corporation.

ARTICLE IX. The President, or in case of his inability to act the Vice-President, shall give each shareholder ten days written notice, through the mails, before the annual meeting of the shareholders, to be determined by the Board of Directors, and at any call meeting of the shareholders each shareholder must have three days notice in writing through the mails before the day on which they are called to meet, unless they shall be present and waive such notice.

This done and sig ed in the presence of C. E. Wallace and P. C. Ausbrook, two competent witnesses, and me, Notary, on this 28th day of July, 1908.
