Opening of the High School.

Early Monday morning the streets were lined with bright and happy children, eager to get to school after having had a long vacation. The teachers had all arrived during last week and were all at their post of duty, smiling a welcome to their pupils. Monday was devoted to locating the children in their proper classes.

A representative of The Sentinel visited the school Tuesday morning and was met by Dr. W. C. Robinson, principal of the school, who courteously received us and conducted us through the various rooms. Commencing at the primary, the first room visited was presided over by Miss Ella Peters, who had 32 bright little tots. The next primary room was presided over by Miss Annie Lee Mixon who had enrolled 42 in her class. The first grade presided over by Miss Jennie May Jackson, with 25 in her class. The second grade has as their teacher Miss Bettie Huey, who has 48 children in her room. Miss Gertrude Milburn, one of the new teaching force has charge of the third grade with 46 in her class. Miss Maud Howell, another accession to the faculty, is directing the young ideas of the fourth grade, numbering 39. Miss Erin O'Malley has her hands full looking after 58 in the fifth grade. Mr. S. L. Durham, a sub. for Mrs. W. C. Robinson, has charge of the sixth grade with 32 in attendance. Prof. J. L. Ligan, assistant principal, looks after the seventh grade with 27 in attendance. Prof. G. A. Payne has charge of the eighth grade with 33 in the class. The ninth, tenth, and eleventh grades have 28 students. Miss Bettie Nolan, Professor Ligan and Doctor Robinson teach these grades. Mrs. J. P. Gibbs, assisted by Miss Carrie McCain, has charge of the music classes.

There was an attendance, on that date, of 410 with at least 200 more who will enter later.

Hyde--Hudson

At the residence of the bride's mother, Miss Grace Hudson was married to Mr. E. Q. Hyde of Jena, on Tuesday, September 22, 1908. Rev. A. S. J. Neal, the pastor of the M. E. Church South, performed the ceremony. The wedding was a quiet one, only the families of the contracting parties and a few special friends were present.

The bride is one of Winnfield's most charming young ladies and the groom is a prominent business man from our neighboring town, being the cashier of the Jena bank.

The Sentinel extends to the young couple congratulations. May life's rugged waves be made smooth for their voyage of the future.

New Grocers

The undersigned desire to inform the public that they will, on the first of October, open a stock of new and fresh groceries, both fancy and staple. They want to thank their friends for the patronage given them in the past and solicit their patronage in the future. They are located on the corner of Main and Front streets, east of the Rock Island track.

W. M. MILAM & SON.
Phone No. 87, Free Delivery.

The Water Works.

The pipes for the mains of the water works have arrived and are being placed around the streets. Workmen are excavating for the reservoir and for the foundation of the machinery which will be put in place as fast as men and money can do the work. Messrs. Pace and Cooper are hustling things so as to have all the pipe laid and connected up before cold weather sets in.

Protracted meeting services will begin at the M. E. Church, next Sunday and continue ten days or two weeks. Rev. A. W. Turner of Opelousas will assist in the meeting. Two services daily, at 3 p. m. and 7:30 p. m.

Mr. Emmerson Bentley Leaves.

The citizens of Winnfield will regret to learn that Mr. Emmerson Bentley, who only came here a few months ago, has already gone. He was elected Secretary of our Progressive League and immediately went to work with the freight agents of the different lines of railroads, and through the Interstate Commerce Commission and State Railroad Commission, succeeded in adjusting our freight rates in an amicable manner with the different freight agencies without having to resort to a hearing before either commission. This action will save to our business people many thousands of dollars.

Mr. Bentley became a member of the law firm of Wallace & Bentley, the senior member being Hon. W. M. Wallace, president of the State Board of Equalization.

Mr. Bentley had the sad misfortune of losing his wife, a most estimable lady, who died of typhoid fever a month ago, leaving him with two children, who are now with Mr. Bentley's mother, Mrs. J. P. Bentley, at Ruston. Mr. Bentley, for the present, will go to Shreveport until he definitely matures his future plans. Wherever he may go he will have the good will and wishes of the citizens of Winnfield for his welfare and success.

Governor J. Y. Sanders has gone to French Lick Springs, Indiana, for a month, and will make a number of speeches for Bryan and Kern.

U. S. Senator J. B. Forker, of Ohio, has withdrawn from the Taft presidential campaign on account of his connection with the Standard Oil Company.

Bets are freely offered that Bryan and Chaupler will carry New York by a large majority. Mr. Chaupler was nominated for Governor by New York Democratic State Convention last week.

R. C. Wickliffe, candidate for Congress in the Sixth District, had to cancel several engagements in a joint debate with Congressman Geo. K. Favrot, on account of the death of his only son at Louisville, Ky., where his wife was visiting.

Major J. Shaw Jones, of Ouachita parish, in an address at the Fair at the Calhoun Experiment Station last week, took the ground that truck farming in Louisiana could not take the place of cotton as a money crop. He insisted that cotton would always be the money crop, and that by raising necessary feed stuffs at home, we would find some way of combating the boll weevil. We had mastered the army worm and would the weevil.
