What Concerted Efforts Will Do.

Los Angeles is one of the most widely advertised and prosperous cities in the world. With the fewest of natural advantages, it was shut off from the broad and fertile acres of the middle west by a big expanse of territory that would support no vegetation, and by the high and unbroken Rockies. Its records are unparalleled in the history of cities. Men and money made that city grow into a land of delight, when previously there was neither city nor land of delight.

From the records of achievements of modern cities, it is quite evident that more has been gained through the concerted efforts of their citizens than through all other factors combined.

Concerted effort, in its civic and commercial activities, awakened Boston in three years and changed it from a somnolent, indolent old city, "sitting upon her purple strings and guided by a red hand," to a thriving metropolis ready to take chances and fight for her share of the nations commerce.

Concerted effort put San Antonio on the map; last year it resulted in two new railroads for the city.

Concerted effort held forth to the world Oklahoma City, which is, perhaps, the most remarkable example of city building and development in years.

Concerted effort pushed Kansas City off its dead center and made it known rationally as a city of industry and beauty.

Concerted effort has made Chicago's city government efficient, and has solved many problems that perplex municipalities.

Concerted effort has overcome the cross purposes that were defeating the onward march of St. Paul.

Concerted effort has made Cleveland the sixty city, and is pushing it on to fifth place.

Concerted effort has resulted in a united Detroit -- an aggressive and enterprising city that "knows what it wants and gets it."

Concerted effort can make New Orleans, for here we have natural resources little less than unlimited in possibilities of development; there remains to be quickened to life that "team work" which pushes cities forward, for cities are not born, they are made. Cities do not grow; they are built. The human equation is a great one. Providence has given to Orleans everything upon which it has been thriving--it remains for man to improve these resources and to make the most of them. It remains for New Orleans to adopt, for one thing, the slogan used by Cincinnati a few years ago: "Make two factory fires burn where but one burned before."--Daily States.

We are glad to note that the City fathers are improving the streets of the town by using gravel on them. This is a matter of experiment, and if it proves efficient we may look forward to having excellent streets.

The Sappho slide, the squirrel squirrel the Arizona snake and the kitchen sink are described as being merely variations of the turkey trout. Nowadays an accomplished dancer must be like the bartender who kept his merchandise in one barrel, but never allowed the name of any fancy drink to cause him to miss a sale.

Mrs. John A. Logan wants the United States to purchase a Washington residence to be made a home for Vice-Presidents. There is a home for an unemployed gentlewoman in Washington, but none for unemployed gentlemen.

A back-to-the-farm magazine writer says every man sighs for a little spot of ground he can call his own. Yes, but when he does a day's work with chores at each end of it can he get up early enough, or sit up late enough to call it his own?

A man who went to Washington to tell President Wilson of a cork-sure way to avert war with Japan has been put in an asylum for lunatics, which is just where some of the jingoes believe that he ought to be.--Ex.

Jailed For Sending Wilson Vile Card.

Philadelphia, June 7.--Charged with sending a postal card to President Woodrow Wilson in which he warned the chief executive that the "vilest creature living" had acquired control of the government while the president "was asleep at the switch," and warning Mr. Wilson to "wake up," Henry O. Lafferty is under arrest here to-day. He was held without bail for examination into his mental condition.--Item.

The Immigration Station.

After energetic efforts the Immigration Station at New Orleans is now in active operation and has been so for some months.

Great benefits are expected from this plant erected by the Federal Government in the shape of attracting a considerable flow of immigrants through the port of New Orleans. However, just as every body believed that the future success of the station was assured, some apprehension has been created by the announcement that Captain S. E. Redfern, who is at present in charge of the plant and has done more to secure its erection and make it a success than probably any other person, is to be replaced by an appointee from Mississippi, who has had no connection with the immigration service, and who, therefore, may reasonably be expected to lack the knowledge, efficiency that are so necessary to make the new enterprise the success that everybody expects.

The people of New Orleans have every claim to have a voice in the selection of a superintendent for the emigration station, as the city provided the site, gave water connection without cost and the state erected the wharf facilities through the Port Commission. Mississippi has absolutely no interest in the Immigration Station, hence the appointment that has been proposed at the request of Senator Williams, of Mississippi, should not be made. The Louisiana congressional delegation is unanimous in favor of Captain Redfern and it is difficult to see how the administration at Washington can ignore their recommendations and protests unless it be that President Wilson has decreed that they shall be punished for opposing free sugar, one of his pet policies.--Picayune.

Italian Confesses Sending Blackhand Note To President.

Youngstown, O. June 7.--Giuseppe Pomaro, 35 years old, was arrested here to-day on the charge of sending a black hand letter to President Wilson demanding $5000. It is said Pomaro admits his guilt, giving as a reason that he "just wanted the money." The letter demanding the money was mailed May 26 and was immediately turned over to the secret service department. Captain Masher arrived in Youngstown two days ago and found Pomaro at 105 North watt street. It is said that Pomaro is one of a band operating in this section.--Item.

THE South Bend Watch Company might use garnet jewels in their watches instead of ruby and sapphire jewels as many other watch companies do and thus greatly reduce the cost of production. You would not notice the difference in buying. But, if garnet jewels were used, the watch would not have any such lasting qualities--and the South Bend Watch Company believes it is better to have smaller profits and satisfied customers than large profits and dissatisfied customers. That's the way we feel about it too, which accounts for our giving South Bend watches the preference. For Sale By C. W. SIGLE

"I love the whole world," says the Hon. Ted Roosevelt. This is enough to cause the Hon. Bill Taft to run his fingers over the scars and indentations on his head and smile sneeringly.--States.

From all accounts, the saloons in Philadelphia are doing a thriving business in "Roosevelt punches," which consists of a glass of milk with a little brandy in it. But we predict for the "Roosevelt punch" a process of rapid evolution which will cause it to consist of a glass of brandy with a little milk in it.--States.

A Harvard professor has discovered that music is soothing to the fagged mind. Now the auld song, "We won't go home till morning," ought to be more popular than ever with the students.--States.

Doubtless the New Orleans fan will be glad to hear the report that Manager Charley Frank is negotiating for the services of that brilliant player, Mr. Pinch Hitter.--States.

What the banks and great financial institutions are to commerce and the big business interests, the homestead associations, commonly known as building and loan associations, are to the masses whose means do not warrant the borrowing of large sums of money on collateral. Those associations have put within the reach of thrifty man or woman the power to own his or her own home. They have therefore been powerful factors in increasing the number of home owners in every community, and to that extent they have improved the character of our citizenship and stimulated thrift and industry.

The month of May, 1913, proved to be a record-breaker for the building and loan associations of New Orleans. The increase in real estate transfers over May, 1912, is over $170,000 and the contracts for new homes exceed May, 1912, by fourteen and in amount, nearly $50,000. This shows a large increase in business for the associations, and the number of new homes contracted for is especially gratifying.

These facts demonstrate that the people of New Orleans are fast becoming home owners and that they realize that the building and loan system is the best through which to obtain homes. The record for the month of May is as follows: Transfers to the associations, 185, amounting to $413,689; transfers to the stockholders, 159, amounting to $378,985; the associations made thirty contracts for the erection of new homes, amounting to $106,050.

Here is a record to be proud of, and it certainly discredits the plaints of those who are constantly bemoaning a shrinkage in business. The masses of people, the wage earners, mechanics and small traders, are certainly making money, since they are able to save enough to build additional homes from month to month and even increase such activities in comparison with recent years. Nothing contributes more to making a man a better citizen than the possession of a home that he can call his own. Home owners always favor honest government and an impartial administration of the laws, and they can always be counted on to help along any movement for the betterment of the community.--Picayune.
