CALIFORNIA THROWS OVER ITS LEADER, JOHNSON, AND RALLIES TO LEAGUE.

WEST GIVES HIM OVATION

All Doubtful Features of Pact Are Explained Away By President, and Former Doubters Hasten to Give Him Their Support.

(By Independent News Bureau, formerly Mt. Clemens News Bureau.)

Aboard President Wilson's Special Train—A continuous ovation along the Pacific coast and then on his eastward way back toward the capital was given to President Wilson as he came toward the end of his month daylong speaking tour in behalf of the League of Nations. California, particularly the delightful city of Los Angeles, went wild in its enthusiasm for him and his advocacy of the League, and it was in that state, perhaps, that he did his most successful missionary work.
Hiram Johnson, California's former governor, now her United States senator, and considered by her as the most likely Republican candidate for the presidency in 1920, had before the arrival of President Wilson, convinced a great number of citizens that the League as at present formulated was not a good thing. He had told them that the United States, because of it, would be drawn into every petty European quarrel; he argued that we would lose our sovereignty by joining with the European nations. He had blamed the president for assenting to the possession by Japan of the Peninsula of Shan Tung in China.

BUREAU CHANGES NAME

The Mount Clemens News Bureau, which has been furnishing reports on President Wilson's tour in behalf of the League of Nations to 5,000 papers, has adopted a new name and will hereafter be known as The Independent News Bureau.

But Mr. Wilson, with clear logic and with compelling eloquence, answered to the entire satisfaction of California's people every objection which Senator Johnson had made to the League. And thousands of the state's citizens deserted the Johnson standard immediately and rallied to the support of the president. More than that, they came forward and said, "We were against you, Mr. President, but you have cleared everything up and now we are with you heart and soul." Still more than that, they let Senator Johnson know that they were no longer with him and that they disapproved of the speaking tour which he himself was making in opposition to the League and so powerful was the volume of public opinion which reached him, that the senator almost immediately abandoned his tour. The Shan Tung question, because of the anti-Japanese feeling which undoubtedly exists along the Pacific coast was the most serious which the president had to answer. He explained to Clear sightedness, both near and far is always yours when you wear people that he had been powerless to prevent the rich peninsula from being given to Japan. England and France, through a secret treaty, had promised it to Japan for entering the war and remaining in it. That treaty had to be carried out. Anyway it was not China that was losing Shan Tung, but Germany, which had seized the territory from China in 1898 and held it ever since. Japan had promised, the president explained, to return Shan Tung as soon as the peace treaty was ratified and it was only through the ratification of the treaty with the League of Nations inclusion, that China could ever expect to get her former property back. And she surely would get it back, he declared, through the ratification of the League. Therefore, through the same instrumentality no other nation could again prey upon the "Great, patient, diligent, but helpless kingdom." As to our being drawn into any European conflict. The president pointed out that no direct action such as the sending of troops to any part of the world to maintain or restore order could be taken by the Council of the League without a unanimous vote of the council members, therefore our vote could at once negative any such proposition as sending our soldiers where we did not want them sent. Besides, Mr. Wilson argued, "If you have to quench a fire in California you don't send for the fire department of Utah." But, he argued, there probably never will be another war, if the League is established, for the members promise either to arbitrate their difference and accept the decision of the arbitrator, lay the differences for discussion and publication before the Council of the League for a period of six months, and then, if possible, accept the council's advice.

That failing, they agree to refrain from war for a further period of three months and nine months of "cooling off," the president contended, would prevent any armed conflict. These clear explanations satisfied every reasonable hearer and destroyed the "bugaboos" which Senator Johnson and others had raised against the League. Through rugged Nevada into Utah, the land of Mormons, the president swept to find that those fine people were heartily with him for the League and a permanency of peace.

Red Cross Specialists Studying the Southern Rural Districts

"What will you do if we have an other epidemic of flu?"

This is the question that is being answered daily by Dr. E. L. Morgan, national director of the Red Cross Bureau of Organization, in the Gulf Division. From community to community, Dr. Morgan is visiting and studying in Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama. His latest address was before the Home Service Institute at Vicksburg, Mississippi, where he said that the question of preparation for epidemics is of paramount importance.

"If a district is found unhealthy and if typhoid is raging because of impure water," said Dr. Morgan, "treat the case as though you were acting for a family. Consult the public health officials, and the sanitary and legal forces and get the community back of you to carry out the necessary reforms."

Dr. Morgan's tour is principally in the interests of the rural community—the community which is getting such a large share of attention in the Red Cross Peace Time Program. The Home Service sections of the Red Cross are to have a great part in this work and it is expected that public health will be improved to a great extent through their cooperation with Red Cross public health nurses.

"Look around your own town," Dr.
Morgan told the Red Cross workers "and see if it is orderly and clean, or if it is dirty and unsanitary. If the death rate is too high, there is a reason—and you must find out that reason. All of the people are stockholders in the community, and their stock improves or depreciates according to the condition in which their property is kept, and the property improves in proportion with the person who owns it."

"The Red Cross has a two-fold job in this respect," Dr. Morgan continued.
"We must carry on the work the individual chapter has decided upon such as employing public health nurses, getting better schools, and supplying the needs of the community; secondly, we must carry on a campaign of education to give the people the knowledge that will make them desire the greater things of life."

"We are going to do for the country what is being done for the city. Living conditions in the two places must be made equally pleasant and healthful."
