

GAVE UP ALL HOPE

After Four Long Years of Suffering, Mrs. Dean of Benbrook Was Finally Relieved by Cardui.

Benbrook, Tex.—"I feel like it is my duty to advise other women to take Cardui, the woman's tonic," writes Mrs. L. C. Dean, of R. F. D. No. 6, Benbrook, Tex.

"I suffered for four (4) long years with female complaints. Such a miserable person as I was! I had three doctors, but they did me no good, and I gave up all hope of being relieved. At last, my doctors advised me to take Cardui, the woman's tonic. I took four bottles and now I am well. Cardui saved my life and I cannot say enough for it. I have prescribed it with great success for young girls and women with various forms of female complaint.

"Cardui is a real boon to suffering women. I am thankful for the good it has done me and I know it will cure others."

This remarkable letter from a lady who has actually tried Cardui, ought surely to convince you of its genuine merit and induce you to give it a trial for your troubles.

Purely vegetable, perfectly harmless, non-intoxicating and free from all deleterious ingredients, Cardui is the ideal remedy for all weak, suffering women, young and old.

You are urged to get a bottle at the drug store and commence its use today.

NOTE—The Cardui Home Treatment for Women, consists of Cardui (80), Theodor's Black-Draught (25), or Veto (50), for the Heart, and Cardui Antiseptic (50). These remedies may be taken singly, by themselves, if desired, or taken together, as a complete treatment for women's ills. Write to Ladies' Advisory Dept., Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn., for Special Instructions, and 4-page Book "Home Treatment for Women," sent in plain wrapper, on request.

MEPO CURES CATARRH

DEFIANCE STARCH

W. N. U., MEMPHIS, NO. 50-1909.

WORTH KNOWING.

Simple Remedy That Anyone Can Prepare at Home.

Most people are more or less subject to coughs and colds. A simple remedy that will break up a cold quickly and cure any cough that is curable is made by mixing two ounces of Glycerine, a half-ounce of Virgin Oil of Pine compound pure and eight ounces of pure Whisky. You can get these in any good drug store and easily mix them in a large bottle. The mixture is highly recommended by the Leach Chemical Co. of Cincinnati, who prepare the genuine Virgin Oil of Pine compound pure for dispensing.

TOOK THE OLD FELLOW BACK

Actor's Joking Remark a Considerable Shock to the Dignity of the Old Gentleman.

There is a Thanksgiving story about Henry E. Dixey, the comedian, that his friends at the Lambs never tire of telling.

Mr. Dixey, while visiting Philadelphia one autumn, attended a very aristocratic Thanksgiving ball in Rittenhouse square.

While supper was being served, Mr. Dixey ranged himself behind the supper table with the 12 or 15 waiters busy there. Soon a mild mannered old gentleman with white hair approached the actor, glass in hand.

"Would you mind filling my glass with champagne, please," he said.

Mr. Dixey started, drew himself up and said, with a look of horror:

"Certainly not, sir; certainly not. You have already had more than is good for you."

A Double Delight.

"Congratulations," said young Smith to a fellow clerk. "I'm going to get married."

"Fine. Glad to hear it. But don't marry all her family."

"Oh, there's only one sister—a twin," said Smith.

"Look alike?" asked the other.

"Can't tell 'em apart."

"Well, that's rather awkward, isn't it? How do you know which is which?"

"Well," confessed Smith, "up to date I haven't tried very hard."

Astonished the Company.

A famous dean was once at dinner, when, just as the cloth was removed, the subject of discourse happened to be that of extraordinary mortality among lawyers.

"We have lost," said a gentleman, "not less than six eminent barristers in as many months."

The dean, who was quite deaf, rose as his friend finished his remarks, and gave the company grace—"For this and every other mercy, make us truly thankful."

Good for the Nerves.

At a recent archery tournament in London 300 women took part in the contest, the game having become very popular. It is recommended by London physicians as splendid for the nerves. American women have never taken very kindly to the sport, but the renewal of interest abroad may effect a change in this country.

Not Even Sandy.

Wilford was sitting upon his father's knee watching his mother arranging her hair.

"Papa hasn't any Marcel waves like that," said the father, laughing.

Wilford, looking up at his father's bald pate, replied: "Nope, no waves; it's all beach."—Columbia Jester.

HAS UNITED 5,000

Bloomington Justice 40 Years Aid of Cupid.

Squire William B. Hendryx Claims the Record for Number of Couples Married—Is Enemy of Divorce Court.

Bloomington, Ill.—Bloomington is becoming world famous as a Gretna Green, due to the popularity of its clerical and justices of the peace in tying matrimonial knots. The great magnet for those seeking the altar of love, however, is the marriage parlor of Justice William B. Hendryx, a veritable Cupid's bower, where blushing brides and gallant grooms from all over the United States come to plight their vows.

Justice Hendryx now holds the world's record, having married 5,000 couples, far more, it is said, than any other, be he bishop or judge, parson or justice. He is now marrying the grandchildren of couples whom he united in wedlock 40 years ago and will shortly attend a reunion in Chicago of a family where he performed the ceremony for each member.

Thirty-six years ago he married Chester W. Archer and Mary J. Williamson, now residents of Chicago, their home being near Lincoln park. Four children were born to this couple, two sons and two daughters. All are married, and the ceremony in each case was performed by Justice Hendryx.

The family concluded that a reunion without Justice Hendryx would be like the play of Hamlet with the title role missing. He will accordingly preside over the event and several other Chicagoans who were married by the same squire have been invited to attend.

Justice Hendryx's "marriage parlors" are in a class by themselves. Tourists are always advised to visit these parlors, whether matrimonially inclined or otherwise.

Mottos calculated to promote matrimony, such as "Perfect Union," "Wedded for Life," "Cupid's Headquarters," etc., adorn the walls.

A monster mirror, ten feet square, which cost the justice $500, covers one wall, allowing couples to have a full-length view of themselves while the binding words are being uttered. Fresh flowers are provided every day and are placed in cut-glass vases, to be presented to the brides.

An organ for the rendition of a wedding march is an important adjunct and an obliging stenographer in an adjoining office is ready to respond to a call for the strains of Mendelssohn or Lohengrin if the accompaniment is desired.

The justice is also prepared to supply forgetful grooms with full dress suits or brides with veils and orange blossoms if request is made. A barrel of rice and a box of old shoes are also kept on hand.

When the ceremony is ended—and this, too, is in a class by itself, as all who have been married by him will gladly testify—these is a wedding certificate, original with the justice, that brides pronounce a dream. Cupids and hearts predominate in the decoration of the certificate, and there is a guarantee with each, that the knot is indissoluble.

"Squire Hendryx says that he is the greatest enemy of the divorce court in existence. His couples, he asserts, always live happily together. He ascribes this to a peculiar hypnotic spell which he says he throws around the couple while the binding words are being uttered.

Hendryx enlisted in the union army as a boy and fought gallantly for five years. After the war he became deputy sheriff. Forty years ago he was elected justice of the peace and has been re-elected every four years since.

It is not uncommon for him to marry five couples in a single day. He has married couples from nearly every state in the union, some coming thousands of miles just to be wed by the famous marrying squire.

Recently he married a couple while the entire party stood in a den of lions brought here by a carnival company. Twenty-five of the beasts surrounded the justice and the bride and groom.

Another couple selected a balloon and were pronounced man and wife while hovering in the air 300 feet above terra firma.

An American Bull.

The late John Stewart Kennedy, Scotchman and banker, gorged his relatives with wealth, gave away a dozen fortunes in his life, and left $30,000,000 to religion and education.

How did he get it? From the day he landed in America, with empty pockets, but no improvident holes in them, until that of his death, he was a bull on America's future. He saw what was coming, and purchased ahead of the rise. He discounted development and future values. He bought at the bottom and held on clear up to the top.

He believed in his adopted country, and canned that faith for future use.

BACKACHE IS KIDNEYACHE.

Usually There Are Other Troubles to Prove It.

Pain in the back is pain in the kidneys, in most cases, and it points to the need of a special remedy to remove and cure the congestion or inflammation of the kidneys that is interfering with their work and causing that pain that makes you say:

"Oh, my back!"

Thompson Watkins, professional nurse, 420 N. 23rd St., Parsons, Kan., says: "For some time I was annoyed with sharp twinges across the small of my back and irregular passages of the kidney secretions. Since using Doan's Kidney Pills, I am free from these troubles."

SKIN ROUGH AS BARK.

Baby Boy Had Intense Itching Humour—Scatched Till Blood Ran.

Found a Cure in Cuticura.

"Our son, two years old, was afflicted with a rash. After he suffered with the trouble several weeks I took him to the doctor but it got worse. The rash ran together and made large blisters. The little fellow didn't want to do anything but scratch and we had to wrap his hands up to keep him from tearing the flesh open till the blood would run. The itching was intense. The skin on his back became hard and rough like the bark of a tree. He suffered intensely for about three months. But I found a remedy in Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment. The result was almost magical. That was more than two years ago and there has not been the slightest symptom of it since he was cured. J. W. Lauck, Yukon, Okla., Aug. 23 and Sept. 17, 1903."

HE HAD HIS TROUBLES, TOO

Physical Infirmity Alone Prevented Man Joining His Companions in Misfortune.

It was married men's night at the revival meeting.

"Let all you husbands who have troubles on your minds stand up!" shouted the emotional preacher at the height of his spasm.

Instantly every man in the church rose to his feet except one.

"Ah!" exclaimed the preacher peering out at this lone sinner, who occupied a chair near the door and apart from the others. "You are one in a million."

"It ain't that," piped back this one helplessly, as the rest of the congregation turned to gaze suspiciously at him. "I can't get up; I'm paralyzed!"

FOR OLD PEOPLE.

After reaching the age of forty the human system gradually declines. The accumulated poisons in the blood cause rheumatic pains in the joints, muscles and back. These warnings should be promptly relieved and serious illness avoided by using the following prescription which shows wonderful results even after the first few doses and it will eventually restore physical strength.

"One ounce compound syrup of Sarsaparilla; one ounce Toris compound; half pint of high grade whiskey. This to be mixed and used in tablespoonful doses before each meal and at bedtime. The bottle to be well shaken each time." Any druggist has these ingredients or can get them from his wholesale house.

An Ever Ready Opening.

The editor suddenly became conscious that some one was standing behind him. Looking round, his glance fell upon a seedy looking individual with the eyes of a crank.

"I beg your pardon," said the newcomer, "but is there an openin' here for a first-class intellectual writer?"

"Yes," grimly responded the editor. "An ingenious carpenter, foreseeing your visit, has provided an excellent opening. Turn the knob to the right, and do not slam the door as you go out."—The Sunday Magazine.

Sentiments for Husbands.

"When a man really loves his wife he ought to combine all his nicest sentiments toward other women into one big sentiment for her.

"He should show her the respect he feels toward his mother; the politeness he shows other women, and the responsibility he feels toward his sister.

"To all of that he should add the great love he should feel for a wife."

Rebuked.

THE DIFFERENCE.

In a London Omnibus.

A London bus driver was hailed by a clerical-looking old gentleman, and on the first opportunity he remarked to the conductor: "You know who you've got inside, Bill?" "It's Cardinal Mannin!" "Go on, that ain't Cardinal Mannin!" said the conductor, "I know 'im." They argued further, and finally he a shilling over it. When collecting fares the conductor determined to set matters right by direct inquiry. "Excuse me, sir, but are you Cardinal Mannin?" The venerable passenger looked him coldly and boldly in the eye, and answered: "What the devil has that got to do with you?" The conductor was satisfied, but even at the sacrifice of a bob he had to get even with the passenger. Putting his head out of the door he called up to the driver: "You was right, Bill; it was 'is 'oliness."

Not Her First Purchase.

This is a baby story they tell out at Beloit: A woman called at a dry goods store to look at some baby dresses. The clerk showed her a line valued at five dollars each, and talked volubly about "how proud" the mother ought to be over the baby. He suggested that possibly she might want a more expensive dress.

But the mother did not seem to "enthus" a bit over the clerk's gush. "How many children have you?" asked the clerk, cautiously.

"Oh, this is the eleventh," she replied, carefully scanning the price tags.

And out came a line of baby dresses with a more modest list of prices.—Kansas City Journal.

The More Glorious Alternative.

Maud Muller knew what she wanted. "I'd rather be written up in a poem that the funny men will be parodying a hundred years from now than marry the judge to-morrow!" she exclaimed, and suiting the action to the word she raked the meadow sweet with hay in such a manner that the judge riding slowly down the lane, smoothed his horse's chestnut mane and let it go at that.

Naturally the girl's folks were considerably disgusted at having her left on their hands that way, but who ever purchased a worthy immortality cheaply?—Puck.

Wanted More.

Francis, aged 21, was given a bunch of grapes on his solemn promise not to "swallow the seeds." Very carefully he removed them all, and enjoyed the fruit as a child always does enjoy a new goody. When he had removed the last grape from its clinging place, he handed the empty stalk to his father.

"Daddy," he said, "will you send this back to the store and have the man put some more grapes on it?"

Women's Secrets

There is one man in the United States who has perhaps heard more women's secrets than any other man in the country. These secrets are not secrets of guilt or shame, but the secrets of suffering, and they have been confided to Dr. R. V. Pierce in the hope and expectation of advice and help. That few of these women have been disappointed in their expectations is proved by the fact that ninety-eight per cent. of all women treated by Dr. Pierce have been absolutely and altogether cured. Such a record would be remarkable if the cases treated were numbered by hundreds only. But when that record applies to the treatment of more than half-a-million women, in a practice of over 40 years, it is phenomenal, and entitles Dr. Pierce to the gratitude accorded him by women, as the first of specialists in the treatment of women's diseases.

Every sick woman may consult Dr. Pierce by letter, absolutely without charge. All replies are mailed, sealed in perfectly plain envelopes, without any printing or advertising whatever, upon them.
