A gem is "The Real Widow Brown," a breezy and up to date musical comedy, built for laughing purposes only, in which respect as well as for its thoroughly entertaining qualities, it is highly successful. There is a novel plot, during the unfolding of which fun is dispensed by the barrel. The specialties consist of new and popular vocal numbers, medleys and fascinating dances, and a delightful evening's entertainment is assured at the Opera House Nov. 10th, 1898.

Successful Physicians.

We heartily recommend Dr. Hathaway & Co., of 337 St. Charles Street, New Orleans, La., as being perfectly reliable and remarkably successful in the treatment of chronic diseases. They cure where others fail. They never employ traveling doctors. Our readers if in need of medical help should certainly write them, and you will receive free of charge their expert opinion of your case by return mail. They guarantee their cures.

An effervescent fountain of joy fitly describes "The Real Widow Brown," a screaming farce comedy with a real plot—one that has not been worn threadbare—which will be seen here Nov. 10th, 1898. The story is merrily told and leads up to situations and climaxes both novel and very funny. The specialties are of the best and embrace the latest songs, catchy music, medleys and superlatives dances.

The date for the tournament has been changed to the 14th and 15th of November.

TOWN NOTES

Mrs. Emma Cunningham was in town last Sunday, visiting her mother.

We are told there will be a Sunday school convention on the 27th inst. at the Methodist church. It will be interdenominational, and the participants will be Methodists, Baptists and Episcopalians.

Our Grammar school opened with an increased attendance, and is orderly, and is a fine school. Miss L. Paine is principal again. Been there.

Old uncle Carter (colored) says "dese young niggers haint got no manners, dey haint got no manners, and dey haint got no sense."

Cotton comes in slowly. The price is low. The river is low. Trains are slow just now. Still we live, and the world it do move.

Rain, wind, frost and sunshine, all in the same week. Well, if the weather has a mind to behave itself, we can't help it.

October, and cool for the season, yet a "skeeter" will plug a fellow, same as in July.

The house flies get limbered up about noon, especially in the dining room, and show their raising. Josh Billings used to say that "a fly had no manners." He said they would "tickle his nose, sit down in his plate, and kiss his wife, unsolicited."

Mrs. J. R. Carroll is down sick with jaundice. Her case is stubborn.

Little Clarence Trichel's case is variable. His symptoms and general appearance are much improved, yet he is hardly convalescent.

Master Marcus Dismukes is down again, not with a lip complaint, but with a little fever. UNO.

More rain and mud.

An influential gold Democratic paper says: "Every man should dig; digging will bring prosperity; no digging, no prosperity." Now that is pretty good. In the preamble to the Populist platform adopted at Omaha are the words: "If any man will not work neither shall he eat." What the Populists object to is so many men that eat who do not work. Let every man "dig." Abolish class laws and give all an opportunity under just laws. That is Populism but that condition does not exist now.—Buzz-Saw.

Adjutant General Corbin says that the wearing of medals by volunteer soldiers is not regulated by law. The Army and Navy Journal, however, thinks that it should be, and says: "Every soldier in the army should receive a medal or cross for war service, but he ought to get it from the nation and not from his ward neighbors or fellow-townsmen."
