Trading With Negroes.

For the benefit of all parties interested, we publish below the statute in regard to buying and selling to negroes, without the consent of the owner.

SEC. 23. Be it further enacted, &c., That any person who shall buy, sell, or receive of, to or from any slave, any corn, hay, fodder, meal, spirituous liquors or other produce or commodity whatever without the consent, in writing, of the owner, overseer or employer of such slave, shall be held guilty of a high misdemeanor, and shall on conviction thereof, be fined in a sum not less than fifty, nor more than five hundred dollars, and shall be imprisoned in the parish jail, not less than one, nor more than twelve months, one half of the fine to be paid to the informer, and the other half to the parish.

In the indictment, or information for the offence specified in this section, it shall not be necessary to charge the kind or quantity of the produce or commodity so bought, sold, or received, nor the name of his owner, and on the trial of such indictment, it shall not be necessary to prove the name or ownership of such slave, but it shall be deemed and held sufficient to prove that such buying, selling, or receiving was of, to or from a slave, if he be a person of color.

SEC. 24. Be it further enacted, &c., That if any slave shall be seen or found in any storehouse warehouse, tipping shop or other place fitted up or kept for trading, unless sent by his owner, overseer or employer, after the hour of nine o'clock at night, or before day-break in the morning, or on the Sabbath day, or if any slave shall be found at any time in any the aforementioned places unless sent as aforesaid, where he shall have been permitted to remain for the space of five minutes with the door of the place closed; or if any slave shall be seen to carry into the afore mentioned place any article or commodity supposed for sale, and not bringing the same out, or if he shall bring out of such place any article or commodity which may have been purchased or received therein, or if any slave being a teamster or driver of any team wagon, cart, or other vehicle, shall be seen to leave his team before or near the door of any such storehouse, warehouse, tipping shop, or other place fitted up, or kept for trading, and there remain for the space of five minutes, at any hour of the day or night, without the consent of his owner, overseer or employer, and shall be seen to carry into the aforesaid place, any article or commodity, supposed for sale, and not bring the same out, or if he shall bring out of such place, any article or commodity, which may have been purchased or received therein without the consent aforesaid, or if the owner of the aforementioned places of trading, or slave, or any person of whatsoever description is seen to go to the aforesaid teamster's vehicle, be it of any description, and take or receive therefrom, or receive from it, by the teamster, or any one else, any article or commodity whatsoever, supposed for sale, and take the same into the aforesaid place for trading and not bring the same out; or if they bring out of the place of trading, any article or commodity supposed to have been purchased or received therein, and put the same into or upon the vehicle, or deliver to the teamster in any manner whatever; the same shall be taken as presumptive evidence against the person owning or keeping such storehouse, warehouse, tipping shop or other place fitted up or kept for trading of the offence described in the two preceding sections, to be rebutted however, like other presumptives.

MILITARY AND SCIENTIFIC CHARACTER OF RUSSIAN OFFICERS.—The London Times, in one of its leading editorials, expresses itself in the following terms of the superior efficiency of the officers of the Russian army: Nothing has come out more clearly in the course of this war than the high military and scientific character of the Russian officers.

or employer, and shall be seen to carry into the aforesaid place, any article or commodity, supposed for sale, and not bring the same out, or if he shall bring out of such place, any article or commodity, which may have been purchased or received therein without the consent aforesaid, or if the owner of the aforementioned places of trading, or slave, or any person of whatsoever description is seen to go to the aforesaid teamster's vehicle, be it of any description, and take or receive therefrom, or receive from it, by the teamster, or any one else, any article or commodity whatsoever, supposed for sale, and take the same into the aforesaid place for trading and not bring the same out; or if they bring out of the place of trading, any article or commodity supposed to have been purchased or received therein, and put the same into or upon the vehicle, or deliver to the teamster in any manner whatever; the same shall be taken as presumptive evidence against the person owning or keeping such storehouse, warehouse, tipping shop or other place fitted up or kept for trading of the offence described in the two preceding sections, to be rebutted however, like other presumptives.

Nothing has come out more clearly in the course of this war than the high military and scientific character of the Russian officers. Through a trial exemplified severity they have shown themselves in every way worthy of the confidence of their master, and of the reputation of a great military monarchy. Ardent in attack undaunted in retreat full of skill, energy and resource under all circumstances, masters of the three languages of the three belligerent powers, it make one shudder to reflect what such a band of officers might accomplish if supported by troops worthy of such leaders. The Russian army, like our own, is officered by gentlemen, but by gentlemen who have not merely the rank and the courage of their class, but its education and its acquirements. While poor Gen. Simpson cannot even attempt a single word of French, a vast number of the officers of the Russian army speak our language as well as ourselves. Their scientific defence was a silent satire on our rude attack, and the superiority in skill of the champions of barbarism over those of civilization is written in our best blood.

SHARPENING EDGED TOOLS.—The National Intelligencer translates the following from a German scientific journal: It has long been known that the simplest method of sharpening a razor is to put it for half an hour in water to which has been added one twentieth of its weight of muriatic or sulphuric acid, then wipe it off, and after a few hours set it on a hone. The acid here supplies the place of a whetstone by corroding the whole surface uniformly, so that nothing further but a smooth polish is necessary. The process never injures good blades, while badly hardened ones are frequently improved by it, although to the cause of such improvement remains unexplained.

Of late, this process has been applied to many other cutting implements. The workman, at the beginning of his noon-sleep, or when he leaves off in the evening, moistens the blades of his tools with water acidified as above, the cost of which is almost nothing. This saves the consumption of time and labor in whetting, which moreover speedily wears out the blades. The mode of sharpening here indicated would be found especially advantageous for sickles and scythes.

How to "GO IT."—Go it strong in your praise of the absent. Some of it will be sure to get around. Go it strong when you make love to a pretty widow. More people have erred by the little than too much in this particular. Go it strong when you make a public speech. Nine people out of ten never take any allusion unless it cuts like a short-handled whip or a rhinoceros cowhide. Go it strong when you advertise. Business is like architecture—its best supporters are full columns. Go it strong and pay the printer. Never grudge him his price. Recollect it is he who brings customers to your every door, who otherwise would never discover your whereabouts.

On last night, STELLA, infant daughter of T. H. W. and Mrs L. A. Baynard.

"I have made a chemical examination of 'RHOODES' FEVER AND AGUE CURE,' or 'ANTIDOTE TO MALARIA,' and have tested it for Arsenic, Mercury, Quinine, and Strychnine, but have not found a particle of either in it, nor have I found any substance in its composition that would prove injurious to the constitution. JAMES P. CHILTON, M. D., Chemist." EVIDENCE OF MERIT. "Lewistown, Union Co., Pa., May 2, 1855. Mr. J. A. Rhoades—Dear Sir: The box of medicine you sent me was duly received on the 11th of April. I have sold about one half of it, and so far the people who have used it are satisfied that it has cured them. It has certainly stopped the Ague in every one who has used it, and six of the cases were of long standing. My sister, who has had it for five or six years back, and could never get it stopped, except by quinine, and that only as long as she would take it, is now, I think, entirely cured by your remedy. C. R. MCGILLY. CAUTION TO AGUE SUFFERERS. Take no more Arsenic, Tonic, Mercury, Quinine, Ferbrifuge, Strychnine, or Anti-Periodics of any kind. The well known inefficiency of the noxious poisons proves them to be the offspring either of false medical principles, or of mercenary quack. The only remedy in existence that is both sure and harmless, is RHOODES' FEVER AND AGUE CURE. For sale in Clinton by LANGWORTHY & TILDON.
