

A Word For The Boy.

A boy at fifteen years of age is, in our opinion, at the most important period of his life. He is at the fork of the road. What he needs more than anything else is sympathy and advice. It would be strange, indeed, if boys did not built castles in Spain at that age, and what they need is the suggestion of some one who is himself a success in life, to guide them. Most people think that boys do not need either sympathy or advice. It is a great mistake. They need it as much as the girls. We have never known one of them to refuse to take advice if it were tendered at the right time in the right place and in the right spirit. The mistake that most people make in talking to boys is that they lecture them in season and out, persecute them with all sorts of foolish suggestions, and expect more from a man. If we had any word of counsel to give it would be: Do not nag him. Do not persecute him if done wrong. Do not laugh at him if he has failed, perhaps in some over-ambitious boyish schemes. Don't crush him. Do not break his spirit, give the boy a chance. Show him his mistake, and then show him what he should do. When you crush a boy's spirit you have in all probability he will blossom into a first class dude.—Eunice Star.

Paved Streets and Mud Holes

You, Mr. Farmer of this community!

Do you know that you are paving the streets of the city and neglecting the road to your own farm?

Do you know that the mail-order magnate is riding in comfort over smooth thoroughfares while your wagon may be mired to the hubs in mud?

Keep your dollars at home, spend them with the local merchants and they in turn will help bear the taxation burden of building good road in this community.

The mail-order man assists in bearing none of your burdens; he only takes your dollars, and you and others like you are contributing hundreds of millions of dollars annually to feed his greed.

Every dollars spent at home means added wealth and additional improvements in this community.

Why not put your own wagon on a well-paved road?

Think it over.—Ex.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for testimonials free.
