

UNCLE SAM WILL VISIT THE FAIR AT SHREVEPORT

Two Carloads of Government Exhibits, With War Souvenirs, To Be Shown.

That the government is encouraging agricultural fairs this year more than ever before, is evidenced in many ways, including its decision to send exhibits to various state fairs. One of these exhibits, filling two railroad cars and requiring 3,000 square feet for display, will be seen at the State Fair of Louisiana, October 30 to November 4, inclusive.

In this display all branches of the United States government will be represented, and it is expected to prove one of the most popular attractions at the fair. Among the particularly interesting exhibits will be specimens from the Army and Navy Department, with possibly some souvenirs from France. Various models, special pieces of apparatus and instruments of different kinds used in investigations conducted by the government's bureaus will also be on display. Another article of special interest will be a rescue car such as is used in saving victims of mine accidents. This big government exhibit promises to be intensely interesting, instructive and inspiring, and thousands of visitors are expected to see it.

The war work of the nation will be shown in most impressive manner by these combined displays. The War Department's and Navy exhibit can hardly fail to place Americans more closely in touch with their boys who are making more uneasy the heads that wear the crowns. There are machine guns, hand grenades, depth bombs, torpedoes, gas masks and other things used in killing Fritzles. Every red-blooded American should see this wonderful display. It will be a war show from beginnings to end.

In arranging to send exhibits to each state fair and exposition, the government is giving splendid evidence of its appreciation of such institutions in encouraging greater production and conservation and in teaching and inspiring the citizens to increase their activities in support of the government.

To The Public.

It is the purpose of the Liberty Loan Committee to publish the names of all subscribers to The Fourth Liberty Loan in both local papers, Saturday October 19. So far, a majority of our people have subscribed very generously, but, in the opinion of the committee, we have a good many people who have not subscribed as much as they should, and yet others who did not subscribe at all.

To the people of the first class herein named the committee wishes to express its sincerest thanks; to those of the second we invite them to increase the subscription; and to the last we ask them to reflect a moment and we feel sure that their conscience will guide them to subscribe their share.

J. R. OLIVIER,
Chairman of Committee.

All our young people who were attending the Industrial School at Lafayette have returned home on account of the prevailing influenza.

The colored people Fair Fair at Parks Saturday and Sunday last was a complete success.

BIG POULTRY SHOW PLANNED FOR FAIR

With A. F. Rolf, of Baton Rouge, in charge as superintendent, the annual Poultry Show at the State Fair of Louisiana, October 30 to November 4, inclusive, promises to eclipse all previous poultry exhibitions at Shreveport. Competition will be open to the world, and farms and fanciers of many states are expected to be represented.

Premiums totaling $2,600 have been offered in the poultry department in which one of the new features will be a Pet Stock Show, with various novel specimens displayed.

In addition to the general display and the Pet Stock Show, there will be a large exhibit by members of the Boys' and Girls' Poultry Clubs of Louisiana, in charge of M. C. Taylor of Baton Rouge. Membership in these clubs exceeds 5,000. The members are being taught the value of poultry in the solution of the food problem and are showing intense interest in their work, as will be reflected by their exhibits at the fair.

C. P. Van Winkle of Dallas will judge the poultry and A. T. Modlin of Topeka, Kan., will judge exhibits in the Pet Stock Show.

For further information and catalog write to W. R. Hirsch, Secretary, Shreveport, La.
