Be A Winner.

The prize of life is to be won every day. The winner is always a hero. The doctor wins it who works not for his fees, but for his patient, and who seeks by his teachings to eliminate the need for his own service. The banker who tries to safeguard, not his personal gain, but his client's confidence. The merchants who rejoice not in his profits, but in his utility and good values he gives; the educator who seeks to develop not scholarship, primarily, but character; the housewife who lives not for personal adornment, but for the grace and beauty of her home. So to every class, in every rank in life, there comes their call. The prize is obtained in the act of answering that call.—Selected.

St. Martinville has been regarded as a backward, sleepy town, content to recline on the past glory of being "Petit Paris" of the Attakapas. Her people today are wide awake and have adopted an automobile muffler ordinance and one prohibiting children from operating automobiles. In this they are ahead of many other towns including Abbeville. Here there are a lot of people who run around town making so much noise you can't hear it thunder.— Abbeville Meridional.

Mr. Frank Foti made a business trip to New Orleans last week.

—Rice cutting commenced this week and from now until all the crop is cut, the planters will be kept very busy as the crop is large and there will be employment for every body, and every body will have to go to work or move out as the town authorities have decided to strictly enforce the vagrant law. Idlers who will not be at work will be put on the streets, or will have to move out.
