LET THE STATE HAVE A HEARING.

THE PROGRESS still insists that the good name and future welfare of our community demands an earnest prosecution of Nash and Barnett. We use the word prosecution advisedly because we are never in favor of, but are always opposed to persecution.
The nature of this case demands an earnest investigation. A man has been shot down and killed in the very heart of our city. In this affair an innocent bystander barely escaped the same fate and in fact himself received a severe wound. The evidence thus far reported offers no excuse, palliation or justification for the crime. Apparently the only reason for the deed was the desire to get a foiled enemy out of the way. To all appearances the man killed by the accused, was far more dreaded than the law, which should be respected by all, whether peasant or potentate of any power. For these reasons we say that the district attorney should be assisted by older and more experienced counsel. No one doubts that every effort, no matter of what nature, will be made to clear these men. Lawyers who have criminals to defend feel responsible for their lives, and generally proceed with their case with this weight on their conscience. Lawyers of long standing and much accredited sagacity have charge of the defense and this influence should be met with another equally as strong. In the interest of law and order THE PROGRESS is willing to contribute five or ten dollars towards raising a subscription for the purpose, and calls on some one who has the interest of the community at heart, to take a list and pass it around.
Surely a sufficient sum can be raised.

If you want first class meals, send your orders to Harris & Winston, next to Meyer's store.

Let the citizens quit claving at each others eyes, and all lend a helping hand to build up the town.

WORK FOR IT.

That cotton factory is ours if we but ask for it. It will cost us something of course, but this mite will be lost sight of, swallowed up in the immense benefits it will give to Shreveport. Will some one whisper to the president of the Board of Trade the advisability of his calling a citizens meeting to discuss the subject at an early date?

Send to Wagner Bros. for fine pork sausage, Vienna and bologna.

Speak a word for immigration if it be to no one else than your acquaintance whom you may meet in the streets. Every word thus spoken is a titration and this brings its reward after awhile.

MADAM RUMOR SAYS:

That the City Council should follow up its good work of Monday night last, by passing an ordinance to suppress violations of the Sunday law.

That no work has yet been begun on that prospective crossing, from the City Railway track to the sidewalk in front of the court house.

That Governor Foster should send Lionel Adams to Shreveport to assist in prosecuting Nash and Barnett.

That our council should have the City Railway company lay its rails flush with the surface of the street.

That in all justice there should be an electric light on corner of Southern avenue and Lacy street, and one on corner of Fairfield and Hicks avenues.

That no trees should be placed in the court house square until the grade has been properly filled.

That the unsightly jail should be removed from "my court house square" and it is almost a desecration of that sacred spot.

That our worthy chief of police's attention is again called to the class of people who are infesting the North end of Marshall street, to the great annoyance of the respectable families who live in the vicinity.

That our new lieutenant of police could win fame by raiding the two-story house on Common street, immediately in the rear of the brick building on corner of Texas and Common streets. She thinks that Frances Williams is conducting a business there in violation of the city ordinance.

That our 5th Ward councilman should not be allowed to lease his houses to a class of tenants whom he knows are carrying on a business contrary to the city laws.

That our City Council should pass an ordinance assessing a heavy penalty on the owner or agent of houses who will lease them to lewd women within the proscribed limits.

That much is expected of Chief Nelson and his force in enforcing the new crap law, and the people are not prepared for indifference on his part in this respect.

That the police jury should have substantial and attractive walks laid from the sidewalks to the front doors of "my court house."

That it is just as fair and important to have the Emory bridge a free passage as the Mooringsport ferry, and in justice the police jury ought to make it so.

That the voices of our ministers of all denominations and races raised from their pulpits against Sunday law violations and the violators, would put a stop to this nefarious lawlessness in a short while.

That no community can long remain pure and healthy morally, which allows its laws, however insignificant, to be violated at will.

That the buildings immediately surrounding the market house, are becoming inhabited by a class of tenants which the city laws declare shall not dwell there.

That the mothers of our town should meet and pass resolutions demanding the enforcement of the Sunday law and that of selling liquors to minors.

That there is a city ordinance against conducting banking games which seems to have been lost sight of. She directs Chief Nelson's attention to page 116 section 2 of the compiled laws.

That a healthy public sentiment in favor of law and order is absolutely necessary to keep down crime, and that a few sermons by our ministers would soon bring about this needful change in our town.

That our City Council could and would take another step forward by accepting the proposition of the owner of Moss Side as a cemetery site.
She says the proprietor is willing to donate the city 3 acres for a potter's field, and will himself, bear all the expenses of keeping the burial ground in repair, etc. and it will then be a private institution the same as they are conducted in other cities.

That the Council should place itself on record one more time by resolving that resolution appropriating $1700 for opening Market street.
She says the citizens will feel safer after this step has been taken.

That the chair man of the fire department committee would be accruing to the city if he bought those two horses which the department has been testing, at any price. She says they are poor creatures which have been worked down in the service of express companies.

That Judge Taylor has twice placed himself in line with the supremacy of the law in all its parts, in his demeanors as well as felonies.

That if Barnett and Nash be convicted or acquitted, let it be done by a jury of intelligent, moral men and not by a packed rabble.

That the good citizens of our town should request Sheriff Young to select none but worthy men in summoning the talis jurors for the Barnett-Nash case. She says "let us not have a farce of this trial."

That Dr. W. S. Penick is doing good in his fight against crime and in this crusade he should be supported by the ministers of all denominations and races in the town.

der, at Harris & Winston's stalls, ad-

A WELCOME VISITOR TO SHREVEPORT PUBLIC

As spring is approaching, we have decided to re-established our famous Monday and Thursday bargain days that proved such a boon to all taking advantage of them last year. The prices quoted in these sales will be so ridiculously low that we can't possibly afford to charge any goods so everything will be spot cash, and the goods cannot be had any other day at these prices. We advertise this fact so that people asking for any advertised article a day after the sale will not become offended when refused.

For the special benefit of the laboring people we have a regular bargain sale every Saturday evening from 6 to 10 o'clock, in addition to Mondays and Thursdays.

The following list of beautiful goods will be slaughtered Monday, sale beginning at 8 o'clock.

50 pieces French satens, black and white only, but a great variety of patterns, will go at 7 1/2 regular price, 25c.
75 dozen French damask towels, 18x36 beautiful bright borders, regular price 22 1/2; will go at 14c.

Another big shipment of those beautiful sailor hats, in all colors, velvet tops, will go at 35c; sold everywhere at $1.25.

36 dozen extra long fast-black, full regular made French hose, regular 35c, goods, will go at just price, 17c.
A big mixed lot of fine woolen dress goods, several styles, some worth 45c, will go at an average price of 24c per yard. Only one pattern to each customer.

We can't fill any orders, yet must come yourself.

Very truly your friend,
HERMAN ZODIAG.

N. B.—We are not going out of business, but can save you 25 per cent on carpets and matting. Funny isn't it?

A SMALL FIRE.

Tuesday morning about 5 o'clock the dry goods store of Mr. E.
Schwartzberg, No. 323 Texas street, was discovered to be on fire. The alarm brought the firemen promptly to the scene and by good work they kept the flames confined to this building. This was a brick structure and all still remains there except the wooden interior and roofing. This was a neat and attractive building, the property of Mr. T. Alexander and had been completed only last year.

The adjoining business establishments, Mr. Jacob Blum's dry goods store on the right and Mr. Louis Bergman's saloon on the left suffered some from smoke and water to what amount exactly can only be settled by an insurance adjuster we presume.
The total cost of the early morning blaze was between $4,000 and $6,000.

Several Texas & Pacific railroad freight cars came into Shreveport Thursday morning with their tops covered with several inches of snow.

Mr. F. Martel, Sr., was badly scorched Wednesday morning by a partial explosion of a stove, the flames bursting through the door and burning his face.

HOW THEY WORK IN BIRMINGHAM

As an evidence of the zeal displayed by the members of the Y. M. C. A. of Birmingham, Ala. we give below an exact copy of a card which is distributed through every hotel in the city by committees for the association; being placed in the mail box of each room which has an occupant, especially if it be by a visitor.

"Saturday night 7:40 p.m.

DEAR CHUM,

I hear that Rev. Hugh K. Walker, who has just returned from a two month's visit to the Old World, will give a special address to young men at 3 o'clock Sunday attention in the Young Men's Christian Association hall, (that's the place on First avenue, No. 1911) Potter building, where they have fine rooms for young men.) It will do a fellow more good than sitting around a hotel or going visiting, to hear him.
I'll be with you to attend the meeting.

Your friend, B. ARONSON.

P. S. The time of meeting the Y. M. C. A. What do you say?

These cards are addressed to Mr. O. C. Hanz, Wherever Found, Care of R. U. Gong, City.

This shows earnest work on the part of the Young Men's Christian Association of Birmingham, and is bound to be productive of much good.

Many a stranger detained in a hotel on Sunday would go to the Y. M. C.
A. hall if good lectures, sermons or talks could be had there, and there was any one to show some interest in and attention to the strangers within our gates.

The Y. M. C. A. of Shreveport, however, has been so badly crippled financially that it cannot afford to employ men for such services, and therefore could not consistently distribute such cards. We hope though that the time will soon come when we can make some such promises to visitors to our town.

Messrs Henry Dreyfus & Son are still continuing their closing out sale at the same low prices. They had an immense stock to begin on and therefore it takes time to dispose of it. There are still big bargains there for those who will call for them.

COUNTRY CLUB RATES.

As we find it inexpedient to send an agent through the country, and being unable to allow ourselves the personal pleasure of the journey, we will make the following club rates to subscribers living in the country:

A ROGUE.

On 24 of last December a coat belonging to the dry goods store of Mrs.
Dora Bluestein was taken from a dunn-y on the sidewalk by some one with felonious intent. On the 13 inst the same store was burglarized and between $70 and $100 worth of goods stolen. This steal was discovered by the finding of old shoes in the case by Mr. M. Bluestein. Putting his thinking powers at work Mr. Blue-stein remembered that Morgan Stewart the porter of Mr. A. J. Bogel drug store adjoining his was quite familiar with his premises and to this being added to the fact that Morgan was seen wearing the stolen coat, Mr.
Bluestein went to before Justice C. D.
Hicks and secured three search warrants, one to search the premises of Morgan, one for Jim Stewart or, and one for Jim Jr. These were placed in the hands of constable C. W. Kelly and Chief W. A. Nelson who first searched the house of Morgan Stewart where they found three old shoes, lot of cartridges and two dress patterns. These being the property of Mr. Bluestein, Morgan was lodged in jail on the charge of burglary and larceny.
