LOUISIANA STATE UNIVERSITY.

The handsome announcement of the annual commencement of the L. S. U. has been received and is greatly appreciated.

We can well look with pride and unbounded respect upon this staunch institution that has weathered so many storms, financial and political, and today stands firmer in the hearts of the people than at any period in its eventful history.

It is nearing its half century. Commencement, beginning on the 24th inst., will be its forty-sixth anniversary.

When the University reaches the good ripe age of fifty, the commencement exercises should partake of the nature of a state semi-centennial celebration, glorifying the cause of education that it has done so much to keep alive, when the lamp of knowledge, during those awful days in our state's political history, flickered and almost went out. That it did not, is due mainly to the devotion to education and pure patriotism of one man, its early and beloved president, David F. Boyd.

CLASS NIGHT PROGRAM.

The L. S. U. commencement booklet, contains, besides other interesting announcements, program of class night as follows: Annual address of class president, W. M. Lyles. Class History, G. C. Huckaby. Juniors Farewell to the Seniors, R. G. Douglass. Class Will, W. Digby Morgan. Class Yell.

COLUMBIA INSTITUTE.

From the aristocratic old college town, Columbia, Tenn., comes a beautifully engraved announcement of the seventy-second commencement of this venerable institution. The exercises will take place Friday, May 24, at the institute chapel.

On the class roll of graduates we find the name of Miss Cora Lee Wilson Jacobs, who will receive her English diploma.

The many friends of her family will feel a personal interest in this announcement.

The fair young graduate is "to the manor born," Shreveport being her birthplace. She is the eldest daughter of the late Ransom Jacobs, of this city, her mother being in her girlhood Miss Sue Wilson, the acknowledged belle and beauty of Shreveport society.

May the sweet garlands of success enwreath the brow of her lovely daughter, and the rose of happiness ever bloom in her cheeks. Friends in this city will loyally and royally welcome her to her childhood home, whenever her steps turn hitherward.

PERSONALS.

Mr. and Mrs. Haas, and Mr. and Mrs. Heidingsfeld, who for two years have been such pleasant neighbors on Cotton street, have removed to Louisiana avenue into the handsome new home just completed by Mr. Haas.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Prescott are now occupying the residence on Cotton street recently vacated by Mr. Haas and family.

Mr. Thos. T. Land, of Bossier, spent a few days in Shreveport last week on his way to Mineral Wells, Texas, where he will reside. Mr. Land leaves his native state with much regret, and will doubtless turn longing eyes to Louisiana, to which we hope he will some day return.

Mrs. Agurs of Greenwood and her little family were in to city to enjoy the beautiful flower parade in honor of the assembling U. C. T. knights.

Mrs. Ashton Blanchard and baby Emily left last week to join Mrs. N. C. Blanchard at Stafford Springs, Miss., where they will spend a month.

Dr. Mayer, of Opelousas, has accepted Dr. Blanton's invitation to address the High School graduates commencement night June 6th.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Walford left last week for New York, where they will take steamer for Liverpool. They will spend the summer visiting the Walford relatives and in travel.

Mr. J. Bryan Ardis has returned from Waukesha and brings the cheering report of Mrs. Frame's rapid improvement.

Mrs. J. S. Swann of Swanhaven was one of the past week's charming visitors to Shreveport.

Mrs. I. F. Pirkle of Simsboro is in the city on a visit and is the guest of her son, Dr. L. H. Pirkle, secretary and treasurer of the Board of Health.

Really Worth Reading.

At certain times in the year, and particularly a month or two before the Christmas holidays, new books come into newspaper offices for review faster than any one man can possibly read and review them with justice either to himself or the books. He glances through them hastily, unless they are by noted authors, gets a salient point here and there and "writes them up" as best he can. Then he forgets all about them.

"A friend came to me one day and expressed his gratification at the way I had written up a new novel by a comparatively unknown author," said the literary editor of a Chicago paper.

"You expressed my idea of it exactly," he said. "It is one of the remarkable books of the year. The plot is absolutely unique, the treatment of it is bold and original and the dialogue crisp and delightful. It will make a great hit."

"Well, I said, 'if it is as good as all that I'll read it.'"—Youth's Companion.

How the Gems Rank.

In the gem kingdom the ruby, the diamond, the emerald and the sapphire constitute "the big four" and take precedence—and in the order named—of all other precious stones. The pearl is of course not a stone. It has a standard of its own. The expert test of the gem is its color, its degree of clearness and its perfection of cutting. Upon the last depends its brilliancy.

In the diamond "brilliant" cutting holds first place. The other stones are cut altogether differently—they are crystallized in different systems—in fact, they differ in another respect, the diamonds being a mineral carbon, the finer ruby (the oriental) a variety of corundum, the emerald a variety of beryl and the sapphire a colored variety of corundum. What is technically known as the "step cut" is essential to bring out the fire of the last three.—New York Tribune.

How the Pulse Varies.

The human pulse has rather a wide range, but the general average may be put about as follows: At birth, 140; at two years, 100; at from sixteen to nineteen years, 80; at manhood, 75, old age, 60. There are, however, great variations consistent with health. Napoleon's pulse is said to have been only forty-four in the minute. A case is also related of a healthy man of eighty-seven whose pulse was seldom over thirty during the last two years of his life and sometimes not more than twenty-eight. Another man of eighty-seven years of age enjoyed good health and spirits with a pulse of twenty-nine, and there is also on record the curious instance of a man whose pulse in health was never more than forty-five, and, to be consistent in his inconsistency, when he had fever his pulse fell to forty instead of rising, as is usual.

Not Labor Lost.

The safe bore a paper stating that there was nothing of value within. Nevertheless the burglar blew the receptacle open, finding the statement correct. "Well," he remarked, gathering up his tools, "it's worth something to ascertain that there are still people who tell the truth."—Philadelphia Ledger.

The Opportunity.

Opportunity has all her hair on her forehead, but when she has passed you cannot call her back. She has no tuft whereby you can lay hold on her, for she is bald on the back part of her head and never returns.—Francis B. Bellis.

The weakest living creature by concentrating his powers on a single object can accomplish something; the strongest by dispersing his over many may fail to accomplish anything.—Carlyle.

IMPORTANT CIRCULAR.

Is of Special Interest to Railroads and the Shipping Public.

Washington, May 18.—An important circular has been issued by the interstate commerce commission. It contains an administrative ruling which is of special interest both to the railroad and the shipping public. The commission expresses the opinion that under the law a carrier or a person or corporation operating a railroad or other transportation line cannot as a shipper over lines of another carrier be given any preference in the application of tariff or interstate shipments. In other words other carriers shipping fuel material or other supplies over the line of another carrier must pay legal tariff rates applicable to the same commodities shipped by an individual.

It is said there is probably not a railroad in the country that has to pay a regular tariff on any its supplies from the initial point to point of destination. This is especially true of coal used by railroads for fuel purposes. The commission holds in effect that this is discrimination, and that the road must pay the same tariff as an individual.
