A POLITICAL MARE'S NEST.

According to a Washington special to the New York Sun, an organized movement to undermine the Roosevelt administration has been discovered in the Western States, over which, as alleged, the President is worried.

Why should the Chief Executive of this Nation be ruffled by the unearthing of a political mare's nest?

Why should Mr. Roosevelt notice any effort to minimize his popularity if he is not a silent prospective candidate for a third term?

As great a man as Roosevelt should not be worried over the scheming of politicians of prominence in his party who may be bent on his undoing. Having as declared, no further ambition except to retain the good will of the people he should snap his fingers contemptuously at his detractors and give them the "horse laugh." The seriousness of Mr. Roosevelt in jumping on every "mare's nest" brought to his attention will naturally stimulate the development of political mare's nests. Mr. Roosevelt is advised to keep cool and give his big stick some rest in some corner of the White House.

A BREEZY APPEAL.

The People, published in Baton Rouge, says: In his speech at Lake Providence, Hon. Jared Y. Sanders made the following breezy appeal:

"Give General Jastremski and Colonel Wilkinson the men, but give me the women and girls. Give me the married women and they will take care of your husbands. Hold prayer meetings with your fathers and brothers and sweethearts; tell them J. Y. Sanders is a candidate for Governor."

"I want to be Governor of Louisiana because I am a young man; all my future is before me. I have a laudable ambition. I want to set an example for the young men of this State."

As well said by The People, this appeal is breezy, but from indications J. Y. Sanders, the would-be Governor, may be flattered if he is complimented with a hopeless minority support of the women and the girls of Louisiana.

A JURY REBUKED.

In its issue of recent date, the Chief of Donaldsonville, ventured in a criticism of Judge Brunot, who rebuked a jury for failing to agree in a trial for murder. It appears that the individual at the bar is not noted for his wealth nor his influence. It will not be questioned that this jury had the right to disagree, and having a full knowledge of the case, Judge Brunot may have been disappointed in this failure of justice, but as Judge Brunot refrains from all criticism of the grand jury, which ignored the murder of Dr. R. H. Aldrich and by failure to find a bill liberated Judge Favrot, charged with the crime, a free man, it would seem, in a sense of equity, that a criticism of any jury for failure of duty according to the law is manifestly unfair. However, The Caucasian would advise The Chief to be more circumspect in its too candid expressions which may be construed as reflective on the judge and the gentleman liberated through this woeful travesty of justice.

LISTEN.

There are a few little polite sneers and facetious innuendoes here and there in the press that because Cook was a negro blown up, all of Ruston's investigation will come to naught. The criticism may be justly made on a basis of the past, but not on the present schedule. Wait and see, friends, wait and see. When it comes to blowing up of the homestead, the old woman and the young ones, in one fell swoop, even Ruston calls a halt. And when she does you'd better look out for a black eye. They say that self-praise is half scandal, and to accuse another of what you have done yourself, is worse than the devil.—Ruston Leader, May 20.

The blowing up of Cook and his family with dynamite may be listed with the diabolical crimes which make stout-hearted men shudder with horror. The social or financial standing of the individuals connected with this outrage can not be invoked in extenuation against negroes murdered while asleep in their home. If justice shall be degenerated into a burlesque, and the guilty shall escape because their victims were negroes, as well close and seal the doors of the court house and let every man be a law unto himself. Unfortunately, the innocent connections by family ties may experience the odium of such crime, but all sentimentality must be subordinated to the decree of law and of impartial justice. There can be no escape from this, without reflection and a discredit of the community in which the crime was perpetrated.

CHURCH WAS LOOTED.

Three Thousand People Swoop Down on Edifice.

NOT A THING WAS LEFT.

Movement Brought About by the Congregation Defying the Authority of Bishop Hortman, Who Ordered the Removal of Father Lops.

Youngstown, O., May 21.—There was a complete looting of St. Anthony's Roman Catholic church Sunday morning by members of the congregation who are stalling by the acting pastor, Father Lops, a mob of some 3,000 people sweeping down at a signal given by ringing the church bells. When they got through there was not a thing left in the church. Carpets were torn up, seats were taken away and the altar furniture was removed. The congregation had prepared for the moving, having a house next to the lot, where they erected their new church, ready to receive the effects, having seceded from the Roman Catholic church. The movement is a continuation of the defying of Bishop Hortman by the congregation. When he ordered Father Lops to vacate the pastorate the congregation, with the exception of a few, announced that they would stay by Father Lops, and refused to allow him to depart.

Jud Mortimer Lewis of Houston was re-elected poet and R. S. McCarty essayist.

DICKSON THROGGED.

Cumberland Presbyterians Raise Over Ten Thousand Dollars For Expenses.

Dickson, Tenn., May 21.—Spectacular trains entered this place Sunday with hundreds of visitors to attend the Cumberland Presbyterian services, held under a large tent. Retiring Moderator Huggins stated he wished to raise $10,000 to defray expenses incident to the litigation into which the church had been drawn by reason of the union with the Presbyterian church and at the end of two hours the clerks announced that $10,150 had been subscribed. The most remarkable thing about this collection was that no individual gave more than $100, and the number giving this amount exceeded fifty.

Labor Meeting Held.

Columbus, O., May 21.—Practically all Protestant pulpits were occupied by visiting Presbyterian ministers Sunday. A large labor meeting was held in the afternoon at Memorial hall, at which Rev. Charles H. Stetzel of New York gave his address on "Labor's Champion." The local lodge of the International Association of Machinists, of which Rev. Mr. Stetzel is a member, attended in a body.

Notable Sermons Delivered.

Birmingham, May 21.—Some notable sermons were delivered Sunday by clergymen in attendance on the Southern Presbyterian general assembly. Several mass meetings at which subjects of interest were discussed were held in the afternoon under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian Association.

PRESENTED FLAG.

Grand Army Corps of Dallas Give One to Mexican War Veterans.

Dallas, May 21.—A pleasant feature of the Mexican War Veterans' association convention was the presentation of a United States flag to the association by the local corps of the Grand Army of the Republic. President Harris was re-elected, as were also Mrs. Moore Murdock, secretary and treasurer, and Rev. W. A. Mason, chaplain. T. M. Scott of Melissa was elected first vice president and Benjamin Franklin Draper of Jacksboro second vice president.

TWO DROWNED.

Oklahoma City, May 21.—Eight young ladies were precipitated into the North Canadian river, twenty feet deep, at Wheeler Park Sunday, the bridge on which they were posing for a picture collapsing, and two of their number, Misses Mamie Wang and Mattie Doris, were drowned. The others were rescued with difficulty.

Adverse to Plaintiffs.

YOAKUM OPTIMISTIC.

Wants Ten Million Population For Texas in 1910.

Houston, May 21.—While at this city B. F. Yoakum, president of the Rock Island railway lines in Texas said among other things:

"Texas is the greatest state in the Union, not only in size, but every other way. If, instead of a 5,000,000 club, they would make it 10,000,000 they would be in accord with the belief of the people up north."

Speaking of the railroad situation in Texas he said:

"We have looked over the new line between Fort Worth and Houston, and all are satisfied with what they have seen. President Baker and Mr. Green hope to open through service between Fort Worth and Dallas in September, and I believe by that time the track will be in construction to justify it. This means more than the casual observer would appreciate, as it is the extension of the Colorado and Southern from the Rocky mountains to the gulf, as well as the Rock Island-Frisco system to Houston and our Texas seaport."

"While many of the acts of the legislature relating to the operating of railroads will prove expensive, and some of the tax laws will greatly increase our burdens of taxation, yet upon the whole the legislation of the past session was not so haphazard as many had feared, and I believe that the legislature and the people of Texas ought to be congratulated upon the fact that so much proposed unwise legislation was defeated."

LARGE LOAN WANTED.

Four Hundred Thousand Dollars Desired to Construct Building.

Austin, May 21.—In refutation of the complaint of insurance companies that one of the reasons they are opposed to the new insurance law, is that they cannot get investment for their reserve fund, Insurance Commissioner Milner has received a letter from a citizen of Fort Worth saying he is contemplating erecting a $400,000 office building at Fort Worth and wants to negotiate a loan for that amount with some reputable insurance company doing business in Texas.

The state tax board met and is engaged in estimating and apportioning the intangible assets of railroads and other corporations coming within the provisions of the law.

SHOT SIX TIMES.

That Number of Bullets Enter Body of a Hill County Farmer.

Hillsboro, Tex., May 21.—Information was received at the sheriff's office that the contents of a sixshooter had entered the body of J. C. Robertson, a farmer, residing near the James schoolhouse, about five miles west of here, and that it was thought there was no hope of Robertson's recovery. A man named Redman was placed under arrest. The shooting is said to have been brought about by family troubles.

Quit or Dismissed.

Over Three Fourths of Conductors and Motormen Are Out.

Birmingham, May 21.—The street railroad system of Birmingham was demoralized Monday morning when more than three-fourths of the conductors and motormen of the Birmingham Light and Power company were either dismissed or voluntarily left the employ of the company. This action followed the formation of the Street Railway Employee's union a few days ago. Since then trouble has been brewing. Monday morning the company dismissed several men who refused to turn in their union cards. Others quit in sympathy, running their cars to the barn when so ordered by union leaders.

At noon less than half a dozen of the cars of the company were reported in motion. Crowds collected on streets. Mayor Ward ordered every saloon in the city to be closed. The street car company was said to have 100 non-union men in the city ready to take places on the cars, should it become necessary.

Several labor leaders are at Birmingham, among them Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor; Ben Commons, national organizer, and J. D. Bukalew, third vice president of the Machinists' union.

Another Policeman.

Says He Saw Many Incidents Connected With Brownsville Affray.

Washington, May 21.—Another Brownsville policeman, who claims to have seen many incidents connected with the affray, was on the stand before the senate committee on military affairs. He was Macedonia Ramirez, who was on special duty. He testified he saw negro soldiers shooting at Lieutenant Dominguez, and he also had a narrow escape. While running from soldiers, he claims, his hat was shot off his head and the hat was in evidence, showing it had been perforated by a bullet of some kind. When the soldiers began firing at Dominguez, he heard one of them say: "There he goes. Is it a soldier? If not, give him h—!" But as many questions had to be put to Ramirez through an interpreter and his answers translated from Spanish the distinct recollection of the remark which must have been made in English caused some surprise among the members of the committee. Senator Overman immediately put the witness to the test by repeating the remark in English and asked the witness to do the same. Ramirez did so, after a fashion, and explained through the interpreter he could understand English fairly well, but had difficulty in carrying on a conversation. He then described in detail his retreat from the point where the shooting was going on.

PROSPERITY IS TO LAST

No Decrease Will Occur, Says Washington Advises.

ADMINISTRATION IS ALERT

In a Speech to Be Delivered at the Indiana Capital the Chief Executive Will Address Himself as to Stability of Railway Securities.

Chicago, May 21.—There will be no decrease in the prosperity of the country or recurrence of panicky conditions on Wall street if the administration can prevent, says a dispatch to the Tribune from Washington. All branches of the government, taking their cue from the president, are acting energetically and harmoniously to maintain the existing satisfactory state of affairs.

The president himself, in the speech he will deliver at Indianapolis next week, will address himself to reassuring the public as to the value of railroad securities and will state emphatically that in the matter of railroad manipulation he proposes to let bygones be bygones and only endeavor to secure reforms to prevent a continuance of evil practices.

Secretary Cortelyou is following the market with the closest attention and is prepared to furnish treasury support should the exigencies require.

Secretary Wilson has sent three experts to southern Kansas and Oklahoma to investigate the damage done to the wheat crop and was prepared to furnish a parasitical insect to destroy the green bug, but action is reported to be unnecessary.

The secretary is giving attention also to general conditions and where ever possible to facilitating the growth of crops.

In the department of commerce and labor Secretary Straus made arrangements for increasing immediately after the beginning of the fiscal year investigations into trade conditions abroad. In order to provide new markets for American products, his effort is being assisted by Secretary of State Root, who now says that he has settled temporarily the tariff differences with Germany. It is arranging to effect a permanent disposition in the treaty of reciprocity which will be submitted to congress for ratification the coming session. The secretary also proposes to enter negotiations with France and China for a determination of commercial questions.

Altogether, Washington has seldom seen such activity in order to cover the prosperity of the country.

PAVILION BURNS.

Two-Story Structure at Lake Erie Is Completely Consumed.

Fort Erie, May 21.—The pavilion at Lake Erie caught fire from an unknown cause and was completely destroyed. It was a two-story structure that extended about fifty feet into the lake. It was used as a summer theater, a dancing pavilion and a cafe, and was surrounded by board porches. The structure was of beautiful architecture, and was one of the most popular places of its kind in north Texas. It was built four years ago at a cost of about $10,000, but had recently been overhauled.

The scenery and stage effects, a piano, several hundred chairs and the equipment and furnishings of the cafe and kitchen were valued at about $3,000.

He had the marriage license in his pocket and went in the belief that he was to be married, when he was informed that Miss Snow had just been married to H. A. Armstrong. He then went away and wrote a note, pinned it to his vest and walked upon the porch of his former sweetheart's home and took his life.

The baby son of James Lawrence was crushed to death in his father's arms.

B. Bethel Young and wife were fatally injured.

A woman named Babe Skates was also fatally hurt.

Fifteen others were seriously hurt. The officers have three men under arrest, whom they claim caused the stampede, by turning the lamp over in a quarrel. One man extinguished the blaze, preventing what might have been a disastrous fire. Seats were turned over in the rush and furniture broken.
