THE CITY SCHOOLS

Will Open September 23. Prof. Byrd Addresses Patrons.

To the People, Patrons and Pupils of Shreveport: The public schools for the whites and the colored of Shreveport will begin the session of 1907-08 Monday, September 23, 9 a. m. For the first Monday and Tuesday half-day sessions will be held, to give the teachers an opportunity to examine, grade and classify the pupils.

A full corps of regular and special teachers has been engaged, and every one will be in his place ready for the opening.

All of the school buildings have been thoroughly renovated, disinfected and are in excellent sanitary condition. An ample supply of pure eastern and spring water will be, for the present, provided for the pupils of the city school.

The new Travis street school of eight rooms, which will provide for the first six grades, will not be ready for the opening, but will be completed soon thereafter. In the meantime the Edwards street school will continue as before to provide for the first five grades, until the opening of the new school.

The districts and faculties of the respective schools are as follows:

Edwards street school district, for the first five grades: Beginning at the intersection of Cane street and Texas avenue, thence east along Cotton street to Common, thence south along Common to Howell, thence east along Howell to Louisiana street, thence south along Louisiana street to Davis, thence east along Davis across Silver Lake tract to Red river, thence up Red river to Cross bayou, thence up Cross bayou to Western avenue; thence southwest along Western avenue to Reynolds, thence east along Reynolds to Cane, thence south along Cane to Texas avenue, the place of beginning.

Miss Christian will act as relief teacher for the Parkview, Texarkana Annex and Travis street schools, to permit the respective principals to supervise the work of their assistants.

Mrs. Mattie H. Williams will act as librarian and direct the students in their research and library work, a service for which she is excellently qualified.

The local depositors will have ample supplies of books and school materials on hand, but pupils are requested not to buy books and school materials until they are furnished by the teachers with a printed list.

There will be no entrance or incidental fee charged the white pupils.

The parents are earnestly urged to vaccinate those of their children who have not been vaccinated.

The pupils will be provided free with ink, pens, penholders, drawing paper for practice work, drawing pencils, raffia and cardboards. The higher grades will pay for their own material in wood, metal and sewing. The product of their handiwork becoming, after the close of the session, their personal property.

Teachers will report for duty every morning at 8:30 a. m.; pupils at 8:45 a. m. School will begin at 9 a. m. One hour will be given for lunch. All pupils will be permitted to go home, provided they return in time for the opening of the afternoon session. Pupils of the first, second and third grades will be dismissed at 2 p. m., fourth grades at 2:30, all other grades at 3 p. m., except the high school, which will dismiss at 3:15.

The high school, beginning with this term, will comprise four years of eight terms and two courses will be offered, the classical course and the science course. It is designed to make the high school comprehensive and modern, so that its graduates will be prepared for life or to enter, on certificates without examination, the best seminaries, colleges and universities of the nation. To accomplish the highest good for the city, parish and State, and the greatest benefit to the individual pupils are earnestly invoked the faithful, sympathetic services of the teachers now pledged, and the best efforts of my life are promised to make this the crowning session in the history of our schools. Respectfully, C. E. BYRD, City Superintendent.

NEWS IN BRIEF

A Budget of Interesting Items Gathered by a Caucasian Representative.

Mrs. Samuel Bailey Hicks entertained at her handsome home Friday afternoon complimentary to Mrs. Loula Armistead Hibbett, whose return to Shreveport prior to her departure for Europe has been so much enjoyed. Mrs. Hicks' gracious hospitality conferred a deep delight, a rare musical treat upon her guests—the pleasure of hearing Mrs. Hibbett sing. The melody and sweetness of her voice, its range and flexibility were amazing; bird-like notes, clear and thrilling as a lark's; then soft and low as a dove's were expressed in opera and ballad; and, besides singing in our own musical English, Mrs. Hibbett gave exquisite selections in the lilted, liquid measures of French and Italian song.

The fair honoree wore a pale blue princess gown of shimmering silk, with trimmings of fine lace. The lovely young bride, Mrs. Frantz, also an accomplished musician, was Mrs. Hibbett's accompanist. From her charming, artistic touch, soulful notes lingered on the air with haunting melody. And so the double pleasure of hearing two musicians beautifully gifted in their respective lines.

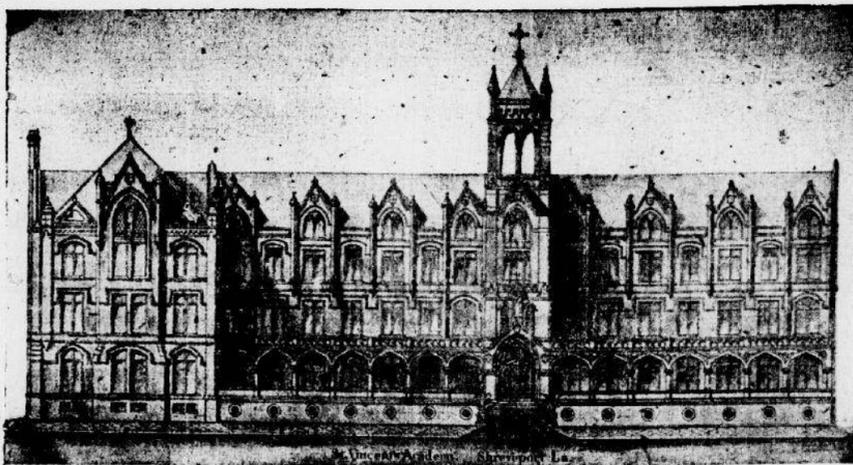

An hour of ravishing delight, with heart and soul attuned to harmony; and then the guests were invited to the dining room where delicate and delicious refreshments were served.

Elegance and beauty characterize the appointments of this home, and in particular of this room. Breezes whispering overhead, and summer zephyrs floated in through the open windows bearing fragrance. On a handsome mahogany table the queen's wreath of pink coral blossoms filled a crystal bowl.

Mrs. Hicks was assisted in her lovely entertainment by Miss Mary Belle and Mrs. Mary Field.

PERSONALS.

Mrs. Loula Hibbett and Miss Mary Belle McKellar will leave Monday evening for New York. They will sail October 5 for Paris. Mrs. Hibbett will give further training to her exquisite voice, and Miss McKellar will study art. This talented girl is an honor graduate of our high school, and in glorious Paris, with charming Mrs. Hibbett, she will gratify the ambition of her heart. Bon voyage to our friends, may all their dreams and aspirations be realized.

MISS PRESCOTT

The return of Miss Clara V. Prescott to New York last week marks another triumph in the life of this highly gifted young woman. Every one in Shreveport knows that she is a musician of artistic temperament and training, that her very soul and being thrills to the touch of the instrument; but few knew that a career was ahead of her as a singer. During her nearly twelve months' residence abroad, she has been studying, and has found that her talent lies also in the line of vocal music. We were permitted to read the following clipping, a translation from a German paper, published in Coburg, August 10. Miss Prescott sang in the Duke of Coburg's church and I evidently charmed her hearers, as may be seen from the beautiful praise given her. "On last Sunday the visitors at St. Martin's church had a great pleasure—Francine Clarissa V. Prescott sang the Prayer from Hiller. The young lady, who is a pupil of Mr. Frederick Bristol of New York, who is now here, has a sympathetic fine soprano voice and fascinated her listeners by her musical interpretation and great depth of feeling."

CALHOUN CAMP MEETING FAIR.

The best Fair ever held on the grounds of the North Louisiana Experiment Station took place last week. On Friday there were a thousand people in attendance. Far out beyond the beautiful campus lines of vehicles stretched away into the distance. The farmers and their families, whose pride and pleasure the Fair always is, were there, and many visitors from quite distant towns. What a contented, good natured, jovial crowd it was! The exhibit building overflowed with the fruits of the earth; delicious cookery, and needle work of all kinds, plain and fancy. Mrs. Norris Calhoun, to whom the great success of the woman's department was due, had her hands full to place the large amount and variety of beautiful work sent her. The enlargement of the building will have to take place before another fair. Mrs. Calhoun's assistants were Mrs. Hamilton and Mrs. Golson.

Fine poultry, horses and cattle were in stalls on the grounds, showing the most beautiful thoroughbreds in every line. Mr. Norris E. Calhoun, the energetic and capable superintendent of the livestock department, is ably assisted by gentlemen who know what a fair requires, and will have nothing on exhibition but the best. Mr. Julian B. Garrett, the efficient assistant director of the station, whose excellent work is attracting the attention of people over the State, and Prof. Dodson of the L. S. U., provided excellent entertainment for the visitors in the pavilion, where able speakers addressed them. There were Prof. Keeny, president of the Industrial; Prof. Williamson of the Normal, and Prof. Hester, principal of the Calhoun public school; Tuesday night Prof. Dodson gave beautiful magic lantern views of the L. S. U. buildings and grounds. On Wednesday Dr. Dalrymple, veterinary surgeon of the L. S. U., and Col. J. W. Nicholson, who fills the department of mathematics at the L. S. U., made able addresses. These were followed by an address from Col. R. G. Pleasant of Shreveport, candidate for Attorney General—non-political in nature, very high and lofty in thought, and most effectively delivered. Colonel Pleasant is a natural orator, and his address brought forth an ovation in the way of applause and hand-shaking. Mrs. Mattie H. Williams of Shreveport, and Mrs. Golson of Calhoun were also on the program. Mrs. Williams by request made an address on the "Training and teaching of children in the public schools." Mrs. Golson "on the rural home—what it is, and what it needs." Both papers were well received and requests were made for their publication.

No one can afford to speak at the Calhoun Fair without mentioning "Uncle Newt"—a farmer of sterling worth and integrity, whose daily life of useful toil, whose cheerful spirit and kind heart command the respect and admiration of all who know him. Uncle Newt is president of the North Louisiana Agricultural Society, and was at the Fair every day—his excellent wife and sturdy sons and daughters were also there doing their part.

The cool, commodious and pretty station home was thronged with guests, but the elastic walls stretched to entertain all who came, and the most hospitable hostess, Miss Farberson, ready to extend a cordial welcome to the guests invited by Mrs. Garrett and Prof. Dodson. The excellent and beautiful management of the station is due to these gentlemen. Mr. Garrett, the resident director; Prof. Dodson, the "general in chief" of the work, who is all over the State during the year, energizing the department under him.

The people of North Louisiana should be proud of their experiment station at Calhoun.

PERSONALS.

Mrs. Mattie H. Williams, Miss Amanda Howell and Col. R. G. Pleasant of Shreveport were delightfully entertained by Mr. J. B. Garrett and Miss Fargerson during the Camp Meeting Fair at Calhoun.

A NIGHT SCHOOL FOR GIRLS, BOYS AND YOUNG MEN.

There will be a night school opened for girls, boys, young men and women September 30, Hamilton building, Marshall street. The object is to give better equipment. Hours 7 to 9:30 p. m. No tuition. Enrollment urged at once. Applications will please be sent to MRS. JOHN SHUTTLEWORTH, Chairman of Directorate 621 Cotton Street.

WHO IS CHANLER?

Vicksburg American: Who is Chanler, what is he, that all our swains commend him? He says he is kin to the Astors, and to "other" old families. This is something new indeed on our political horizon. Since when did it become a presidential qualification to be a member of a "old family," the founder of which, three generations ago, was a German baker's boy who swapped whiskey to Indians for skins? Who put up Chanler, anyway? Who is backing him, besides "Willy Wall, Astor," the man who was laughed out of America and has since lived a renegade and scoundrel in England, trying in vain with his millions to buy a place in the society which openly snubs and insults and despises him? Chanler may have some decent personal qualification, but his family connections are a handicap that it will be hard to overcome. The South is pretty tired of Bryan, but the man who takes his place is not Louis Stuyvesant Chanler, the descendant of the noble line of Astor, whose escutcheon yet reeks with the smell of muskrat hides.

NO PARTISAN REGISTRATION.

The declaration of Governor Blanchard that "no partisan will be appointed clerk of registration," and his firm stand taken in behalf of an absolutely fair primary, is the most encouraging event that has occurred in Louisiana politics for many years, and we are delighted to see that all the clean and upright papers in the State are upholding him in the stand he has taken—Mansfield Enterprise.

And an impartial registration must be followed by a fair and honest primary election. It is as well now as later to impress this fact on whoever it may concern that no frauds or attempt at frauds shall be tolerated.

Mr. Wilkinson is delivering some very strong speeches these days. They are vote-changers of the right kind, too. He is now on a tour of the northern part of the State.—Bunkie Review.

Mr. Wilkinson talks to a purpose. He argues clearly and forcefully and therefore he convinces the mind intelligent, not bound to the sophistries and the pretenses of the Syndicators.
