Notes and News of Interest

By M. H. W.

The Louisiana Division of the United Daughters of the Confederacy at their meeting in New Orleans last spring appointed a committee to consider the advisability of securing in the schools of the State the setting apart of a day annually to be known as Louisiana Day celebrated with appropriate exercises. The Louisiana Historical Society endorsed the action, pledged its assistance and support and appointed a committee to confer with the U. D. C. committee and, if agreeable, act in conjunction with their committee. State Superintendent Harris and the State Board of Education also endorsed the movement to establish the observance of Louisiana Day in the public schools. April 30 was chosen because it was on that day the treaty of cession was signed by which the entire territory of Louisiana, now embracing thirteen States, was acquired from France in 1803. The State was admitted into the Union April 30, 1812. The date is important enough to be emphasized, and to the Daughters of the Confederacy is the credit due of the recently appointed Louisiana Day. Their aim always is to inculcate patriotism in the hearts of the young. The pure flame of devotion to country will never die as long as there is one left "to tell the story"—but will kindle afresh as each year another page inscribed with the truth of history is added to the record of things well done.

ARTICLE III.

Article 3 of the Treaty of Cession was written by Napoleon himself, and reads as follows:

"The inhabitants of the ceded territory shall be incorporated in the Union of the United States and admitted as soon as possible according to the principles of the Federal Constitution to the enjoyment of all the rights, advantages and immunities of citizens of the United States, and in the meantime they shall be maintained and protected in the free enjoyment of their liberty, property and the religion which they profess."

REMINISCENCES OF LOUISIANA.

In history stern and gay romance, Our land the jewel of old France, Shines with a light serene and clear And homage claims from year to year.

Hers is a doubly royal name, Hers is a grand and princely fame— Among the annals of the past, Her deeds are peerless to the last.

She witnessed all LaSalle's sad story, She shared in all Bienville's glory, Though oft her skies were overcast, Her sorrows, through her valor passed.

Once she was the fairest queen Mortal eyes had ever seen, Stretching arms o'er land and sea, She revelled in immensity.

Once she was the gift of kings, Reserved by fate for nobler things: With freedom's wreath upon her brow, Bright is the path before her now.

Though sold for gold by monarch's power, Her beautiful self was noblest dower; Neath crimson robes and veil of blue, She tried to give allegiance true.

'Twas she who made the Nation great, By gift of lands from sea to lake, And sent her sons in fiercest wars To help uphold her country's cause.

She raised this Union by her hand So staid as peer among the band Of mighty empires, neath whose sway, The world pays homage day by day.

No pain and loss have rolled afar And through the future's gates ajar We see bright hope and earnest joy Laid at her feet without alloy.

Mother of States! to crown her fame, We choose one day to bear her name; One single day we'll call her own, And write its date on mem'ry's throne.—Mrs. S. B. Elder for celebration of Louisiana Day.

THE REUNION AT MOBILE.

Interest now is being centered on Mobile, the "Oleander City," toward which hundreds will soon be turning their steps, for there on April 26, 27, 28 will be held the annual reunion of the United Confederate Veterans, whose loyal sons and daughters of the South will meet and recount the heroic deeds of a glorious past.

Miss Alice Sessums of New Orleans, daughter of Bishop Sessums, has been named as sponsor of the Louisiana Division, and Miss Della Bakewell Golsom of West Feliciana is first maid of honor, and Miss Marguerite Holland of New Orleans, granddaughter of Col. J. B. Simont, is second maid of honor. The New Orleans maids of honor will be chaperoned by Mrs. E. L. Whitney, daughter of Gen. T. W. Castleman.

Miss Cora Smith of Guthrie has been chosen maid of honor for the Oklahoma Division U. C. V., and Mrs. W. T. Culbertson of Kiowa, president of the Oklahoma Division U. C. V., has been named by Gen. W. Taylor of Altus, commander of Oklahoma Division U. C. V., as chaperone for Oklahoma.

From our city Miss Lena Hughes will go as a Mississippi maid of honor, having been appointed by her cousin, Capt. J. L. Shinault of Oxford, Miss., who is division of North Mississippi Veterans. Miss Hughes will join her sponsor and matron of honor, Miss Butts and Mrs. Tool, at Vicksburg, and at Meridian will be met by Captain Chinault and party and make the trip to the reunion city together. At Mobile they will register at Hotel Cawthorne, which will be headquarters of the Sons of Veterans, of which Mr. W. P. Shinault of Oxford is commander of the Mississippi Division.

DEATH OF MRS. KERLEY.

The death of Mrs. Louise Kerley, which occurred Wednesday, April 20, at the home of her son, Mr. Sidney N. Kerley, ended a long, useful and honored life.

Mrs. Kerley was a woman of fine mental attainments, broad thought and abiding interest in things. Time had not dimmed her outlook upon life, nor had drawn her apart into the seclusion of old age, but rather embalmed in her heart deep and sweet memories of her happy helpful years. Traditions of the Red Men as well as the early white settlers were most interesting to hear from her, and as the march of progress swept away old landmarks, she realized that the tide of improvement would soon obliterate all traces of the town she had known in her early life. As mother of a young family and a teacher she had done much to develop the social, literary and religious life of the town. Kind, charitable and devoted to the highest good, her death means that passing away of a life that had brought strength, cheer and happiness to others.

Mrs. Kerley is survived by her son, Mr. S. N. Kerley of this city, and her daughter, Mrs. P. S. Stoner of Florida.

Funeral services were held Thursday at the home of her son on Commerce street. Interment in Greenwood cemetery.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Our townswoman, Mrs. J. L. Kimbell, chairman of good roads and school improvements for the Mothers Congress, had the distinction of being the only woman on the programme of the Louisiana Farm Land Congress which met in Alexandria last week. Mrs. Kimbell has been active and useful in the work she has undertaken and kept the note of improvement ringing.

STATE LIBRARY ASSOCIATION.

The first convention of the State Library Association will be held in Alexandria April 29-30. The association was organized in New Orleans last spring and is therefore new in its work. The programme will embrace the following subjects: (1) Local collections in State and town libraries. (2) Methods of popularizing the public library. (3) Some problems of the small library. (4) Round table subjects, book covering and mending, bulletins, subject indexes, the Dewey classification, general discussions, summer library schools, discussion of library bill to be brought before the Legislature.

Officers of the State Library Association: President, Mr. George Hathaway of Jennings; first vice president, Mrs. Mortland, librarian of L. S. U., Baton Rouge; second vice president, Mrs. J. R. Thornton, Alexandria; secretary, Miss Helen Wells Dodd, librarian Tulane University; treasurer, Miss Rogers, librarian Tulane medical library.

NOTES FROM STATE TEACHERS CONVENTION.

Misses Howell and Soape of the central school attended the convention of the State Teachers Association at Baton Rouge, are on the honor roll of attendance. Having missed very few of the annual meetings their presence is welcomed always, because it shows a perennial interest in matters educational, and joy in meeting friends. They not only enjoyed the department meetings and general discussions but gave time to many social affairs.

A very beautiful reception at the home of Mrs. Barns was given in honor of these ladies, and courtesies extended from Mes. Stumberg, Jastremski, Harris, Kilgore and others.

It is worth while to be in regular attendance at these big meetings, to be so joyfully welcomed.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mrs. Irma McVoy Egan, director of music in our city public schools, was made chairman of the department of music at the State Public School Teachers Association at the recent convention in Baton Rouge. Mrs. Egan is an accomplished musician, and her thorough musical education and fitness for the position in the association was deservedly recognized.

U. D. C. MEDAL.

The medal offered by the Shreveport Chapter U. D. C. for the best essay on "Louisiana's Part in the Civil War" was awarded to Annie Hanna of the central school, an eighth grade pupil in Miss Howell's room. There were two other contestants, Reggie Hargrove, seventh grade pupil in Miss Woodward's room, and Aaron Katzenstein, eighth grade pupil in Miss Soape's room. Many entered the contest, but the difficulty of getting definite information discouraged them and they "fell by the wayside." The three that persisted showed that they live in them the mettle of good workers and deserve the thanks of the Shreveport Chapter U. D. C.

The library of Confederate military history now in the public school library came too late to be of assistance to our young workers, but is there for future reference.

CORNER STONE LAID.

The corner stone of the handsome high school building was laid Wednesday afternoon with Masonic ceremonies, duly impressive and interesting. As the Masons in full regalia with band playing marched across the grounds, 800 school children met them singing the national anthem as they marched. Teachers, patrons and school board officials with Superintendent Byrd were present.

State Grand Master Thibaud of Donaldsonville laid the corner stone of this magnificent building, dedicated to education. The names of the architect, members of the school board and superintendent of schools, Prof. C. E. Byrd, were inscribed on the stone.

Grand Master Thibaud delivered an excellent address. The invocation by Rabbi Jacobson and benediction by Dr. Jasper K. Smith added a deep impressiveness to the occasion.

The high school building is erected at a cost of $67,000, and will be one of the handsomest school buildings in the State. Its furnishings will be complete and modern. The architect of this building is Mr. Edward Neild, a graduate of the central high school, whose ability in his chosen profession is a fine tribute to his alma mater.

FOR THE HOUSEKEEPER.

The Department of Agriculture at Washington is taking a lively interest in household problems and is prepared with bulletins giving information on the economical use of meats in the home, and on the destruction of household insects. Any one interested may secure these bulletins by sending a request on a postal to the United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C. Be sure to give number as well as name of pamphlet you desire. Here is a list of those which will probably be most in demand: Mosquitoes and Fleas, No. 13; House Ants, No. 34; The True Clothes Moths, No. 16; The Carpet Beetle, No. 5; The Bedbug, No. 47; Cockroaches, No. 51. Farmers Bulletin No. 391 treats of the economical use of meats in the home and gives many valuable recipes for cooking meats.

PARENTS MEETING.

The parents meeting which was held in the beautiful kindergarten room at the central school Thursday evening was largely attended and most interesting and delightful with literary and social features. It was, in reality, a celebration of Froebel's birthday, he who put a new and beautiful thought into the teaching of young children.

The large room was embowered in roses, and Froebel himself framed in roses looked down benignly upon the commemorative scene. The programme consisted of a talk by Miss Schuster, whose life is the expression of Froebel ideas and ideals. She gave an analysis of kindergarten principles, the philosophy of its teachings and the development of character from the beautiful songs and stories of the kindergarten. The story of the knights which she related in a most inspiring manner had a musical illustration in the knights' song, given by Misses Launberg and Stringfellow. Song and story when given with the true kindergarten interpretation bear a relation to life, recognized by the children.

Two simple, beautiful selections were read by Miss Sharp, instructor of history in the central school. Nothing could have been more in accord with the programme than "Things that never die" by Dickens, and Eugene Field's "Japanese Lullaby."

Lovely souvenirs were presented the guests—tiny portraits of Froebel framed in the heart of a daisy—the dates, occasion and anniversary legend beautifully lettered in gold. These artistic cards were the work of the ladies of the kindergarten, Miss Schuster and her accomplished assistants, Misses Launberg and Stringfellow.

Delicious refreshments were served on the kindergarten tables, each of which bore a bouquet of roses.

The meeting was in every sense a parents meeting—the fathers as well as the mothers being present and deeply interested. The patrons of the kindergarten were not only delightfully entertained, but were informed and are indebted to Miss Schuster for giving them the true interpretation of kindergarten teaching.

JAPANESE LULLABY.

(Read by Miss Sharp at the Froebel celebration, at the central school.)

Sleep little pigeon and fold your wings,
Little blue pigeon with velvet eyes;
Sleep to the singing of mother-bird singing—
Swinging the nest where her little one lies.

Away out yonder I see a star—
Silvery star with a tinkling song;
To the soft dew falling I hear it calling,
Calling and tinkling the night along.

In through the window a moonbeam comes,
Little gold moonbeam with misty wings;
All silently creeping, it asks: "Is he sleeping—"

Sleeping and dreaming while mother sings?"

Up from the sea there floats the sob
Of waves that are breaking upon the shore,
As though they were groaning in anguish and moaning
Bemoaning the ship that shall come no more.

But sleep little pigeon, and fold your wings,
Little blue pigeon with mournful eyes.
Am I not singing? See, I am swinging,
Swinging the nest where my darling lies.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Captain Dillon and family had the great pleasure of entertaining relatives from California the past week. Coming to New Orleans for the Shriners convention, the party, composed of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Jacobs, Miss Aline Jacobs and Mr. Arthur Winter of Pasadena extended their trip to Shreveport to visit relatives and old friends. The shortness of their stay was regretted, but the time was delightfully spent, and the great oil and gas fields visited by our California friends. The party left Friday returning by way of St. Louis.

Mrs. J. H. Spearing and Miss Margie Spearing will leave Wednesday for Sewanee to join Dr. Spearing. The doctor writes that he is very busy in getting his work thoroughly in hand and that he is very well.

PELICAN CHAPTER MEDALS.

The medals offered by the Pelican Chapter D. A. R. for the best essay on the following subjects: "Benjamin Franklin's Service to His Country" high school and "Daniel Boone the Pioneer" grammar school—were awarded to Dora Doster of the central school this city, and Izora Alexander of the Mer Rouge public school. Twenty-eight essays were entered, representing the schools of Shreveport, Mer Rouge, Plain Dealing, Winnfield, Arcadia and Ruston. As a whole they were meritorious, and while but one in each contest could win, all were benefited by the conscientious careful study of the subjects. The Pelican medals will be offered annually.

PROHIBITION LEAGUE MEDAL.

Ten dollars in gold is offered by the Womens Prohibition League for the best essay on "Good Effects of Prohibition Where Tried." Essays must be sent to Mrs. Randall Hunt, president of the league, by May 1.

PERSONALS.

Mrs. J. L. Kimbell was the guest of Mrs. James Andrews of Alexandria, president of the Mothers Club, during her attendance on the Louisiana Farm Land Congress last week. Mrs. Kimbell received appreciated courtesies from the club women and Progressive League of Alexandria.

Mrs. Seymour Florsheim has returned from a delightful visit to relatives in New York making a visit en route home to friends in Little Rock, Ark.

Mrs. James R. Thornton of Alexandria.

TO THE CHILDREN AND GRAND-CHILDREN OF CONFEDERATE VETERANS.

Dear Children: In Oakland cemetery hundreds of Confederate Veterans are sleeping—some of them your grandfathers, your great-uncles, who died before you were born, all of them your countrymen.

Every Memorial Day we display a small battle flag and tenderly place a wreath of evergreen and flowers on their graves, and congregate to commemorate their brave deeds, with songs and oratory. Now, we want to do more than that; we are exceedingly anxious to erect a monument to their memory in the Veterans' lot in Oakland cemetery, and we want the children to help us, as many of you did in the monument in the court house square, where your names are in the corner stone, being a record of the fact that you helped to build this Soldier's monument.

For the monument in Oakland cemetery you may contribute 25 or 50 cents, and with this money, the name, the company and regiment of your soldier ancestor. Those of you who are of tender age can ask your father or mother or kinsfolk who will do this for you, and every week we will publish the list of the children and the names of their kindred, the Heroes of Our Southland, as we did before.

In this patriotic endeavor, we will ask the teachers in the schools to keep a list of the names of the contributors and their donations, and when the corner stone is laid, we will expect the little boys to assist us again in this ceremonial of dedication.

In North Carolina the children, with contributions, are building a Confederate monument by themselves. We would urge the children of Shreveport to emulate this patriotic spirit by helping the Daughters in their laudable fulfillment of a sacred duty.

"A land without monuments is a land without memories."

We can not have too many monuments, commemorating the glorious deeds of the Heroes of Our Southland, whose self-sacrifice and glorious achievements in the maintenance of cherished principles have won the plaudits of the world.
