GLENN R. RULE

His Death Shocking to His Relatives and Friends—No Cause or Reason Assigned for the Rash Act.

Yesterday afternoon at about 6 o'clock Glenn R. Rule died in the North Louisiana Sanitarium, where he had been voyaged from his residence, No. 712 Christian street. He was shot on the right side of the neck and head. The wound in the head was fatal. He was discovered unconscious in his room about 4 o'clock by the sister of his wife, a girl, who gave the alarm. On this discovery Mrs. Lancaster recalled the hearing of a loud report as from a gun, but gave no heed to it as she believed the report was from the explosion of something in a pile of trash then burning in the yard.

The hour of this homicide is fixed at 2:45 o'clock. It is conjectured that when laboring under the influence of a temporary impulse of a deranged mind, he seized a revolver, of which one barrel was loaded, but this shot in the neck was ineffective, and he immediately reloaded the same weapon and fired the shot which ended his life.

Whatever may have been the cause or the motive may never be revealed to the public, but this is another instance which in a sense verifies the declaration that no sane man will deliberately take his own life.

In a note of a few lines addressed to the New York Life Insurance Company bearing his signature, he directs: "Please pay my life insurance to my wife."

About six weeks ago he joined Maple Camp, Woodmen of the World.

Glenn Rule had been married about six months and lived happily with his wife. He had, as far as known, no reason for wishing to seek death, and while he was of jolly disposition it had been noted by his employer that he was at times recently inclined to be serious and morose.

At the time of this rash act his wife was visiting a friend, and when notified of this tragedy was horrified beyond description, and his mother was prostrated with grief.

Glenn Rule was born in Shreveport thirty-two years ago. He was employed steadily in drug stores, and at the time of his ending was a clerk in the Peyton Drug Company's store. He was held in the highest esteem by all who knew him. The funeral will take place at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon from the residence of Dr. E. G. Allen, corner Cotton and Common streets. Interment in Oakland cemetery.

In this great affliction his wife and his mother and his sisters have the fullest sympathy of their friends.

THE MELTING POT.

Our young friend, David Rosenthal, has lashed himself in public print in "The Melting Pot." It is an hazardous undertaking, but he may steer clear of precipices and pitfalls and ambuscades and entanglements which have engulfed the iridescent dreams of many hopefuls striving for recognition beyond the plane of the ordinary mortal.

Perhaps "The Melting Pot" has come to fill a long-felt want in the community. At any rate, it may have an open field all to itself, and there may be millions in it. We hope so for David Rosenthal's welfare.

The first number of "The Melting Pot" issued February 6, 1911, is of eight pages &c. It is neatly printed on book paper. Its mission as explained will be to throw the average politician into its crucible and either recast them or melt them into annihilation for all time." Gee whiz! What an undertaking! It would be easier to set the Red river ablaze than to expect the "fazing" of a feeder at the public crib by indulging in threats of roasting and recasting. It would require some greater persuasive than threats and roasting, but as this is the era of wonderful accomplishments, "The Melting Pot" may fulfill the impossible.

In "The Melting Pot" there is a complimentary reference to the Caucasian's editor which is fully appreciated. He is no seeker of notoriety and has passed the age-limit where some men delight in fulsome praise, but whatever has been said is accepted in the spirit which prompted the kindly reference, especially by one who when a small boy was a connection of the Caucasian, a splendid boy in whom the fullest reliance could be placed.

To not acknowledge this notice of our friend David Rosenthal, now a man of "The Melting Pot" would be a discourtesy, unbecoming any gentleman. It is and has been the rule of the Caucasian's editor to never be outdone in kindness nor in politeness by any mortal, and therefore we would voice our appreciation of our young friend's esteem, but warn him to not do it again.

NO COMPROMISE

Greene and Gaynor Must Pay the Fine of $75,000 or Take the Pauper's Oath.

Washington, Feb. 7.—If the government has evidence that any part of the money embezzled by John F. Gaynor and Benjamin D. Greene, in complicity with Capt. Oberlin M. Carter, in the Savannah harbor frauds, is secreted, there is no indication that the Department of Justice will show its hand to the prisoners applying for release from the Atlanta penitentiary.

Gaynor and Greene today began serving their four-year sentence, but are being held for a $75,000 fine. Under the law they must remain in jail until the fine is paid, or take the pauper's oath and swear that neither has more than $20 above the exemptions allowed by statute. A confinement of thirty days after the expiration of the sentence, however, must precede such a move.

Both Gaynor and Greene today began serving the thirty-day period. If thereafter they wish to take the pauper's oath a hearing will be set before a United States commissioner, at which the government will be represented. If the Attorney General has any trace of the money which disappeared after the embezzlement it will be shown then.

A compromise on the amount of the fine, it was said at the department today, would be unauthorized by law and without precedent.

GAME COMMISSION IN SPECIAL TRAIN.

ED C. McRADY

After Twenty Years, Death Comes to His Relief.

Home again, but lifeless. After twenty years of confinement in the Insane Asylum at Baton Rouge, death relieved Ed C. McRadly yesterday of his long ordeal, and the body brought to Shreveport was buried this afternoon in Greenwood cemetery. Appropriate services were held at 2 o'clock today in St. Mark's Episcopal church in the presence of a gathering of relatives and friends.

He was the son of Major McRadly, who, preceding the conflict between the States, was a wealthy land owner in and about Greenwood. The deceased was thoroughly educated and possessed all the attributes which secured him popularity and the esteem of his friends. He had filled acceptably and creditably the office of chief of police and had been employed in the assessor's office when his mind became unbalanced. Finally he was conveyed to the asylum for treatment, but the hope cherished by his good wife that the would improve and be restored to his normal faculties was never realized. During all these long years Mrs. McRadly was untiring in her efforts to do all that could be done for him.

As the past is recalled, the genial face of Ed McRadly, before his affliction, looms on memory as he was then, but the end has come and he has been called to a brighter clime.

THE DESOTO FAIR.

Mansfield Enterprise Feb. 8: The stockholders of the DeSoto Parish Fair Association met today and re-elected the old board of directors with one or two changes. The directors then met and re-organized by electing W. P. Head, president; Ben Johnson, first vice president; David B. Means, second vice president; John M. Rogers, secretary and treasurer. The financial showing was good, much enthusiasm prevailed, and we will have a better Fair this year than ever before.

A MISTRIAL.

BIG TRANSACTION IN OIL LAND.

Mansfield Enterprise: On Monday last Mr. Walter F. Johnson sold the mineral rights to 1000 acres of land for $10,000, he to be paid a rental of $1000 per year in case they use it. The purchasers were Messrs. A. H. White, W. T. McKellep, E. M. Nutting and J. H. Putnam Jr., of Houston, Texas, and C. L. Smith and W. D. Gordon of Beaumont. The land is located near the Spider field. Mr. Johnson has 1400 acres in the tract left, which he declined to dispose of. There is great excitement in the field, and it is claimed that the Spider people have brought in a successful well, but no facts have been given out as yet.

WHISKEY PRESCRIPTIONS

Dr. Scofield Discharged and Dr. Judkins Under Adversement.

In the City Court this morning the case of Dr. H. W. Scofield was dismissed and the case of Dr. W. D. Judkins was taken under adversement. The doctors had been charged with violation of the prohibition law by writing prescriptions for whiskey. The evidence of the State, as presented by the detective, Ford, who produced the whiskey, seemed to be plain, to which Dr. Scofield entered a general denial, but admitted that the prescription for the liquor was intended for medicinal purposes as indicated by the ingredients stipulated in the prescription.

The plea of Dr. Judkins was similar to that of Dr. Scofield. The whiskey had been prescribed and by the ingredients it was for medicinal purposes.
