Your Favorite Flower.

Evo Up-to-Date in Times-Democrat: Don't you sometimes wonder about the history of your favorite flower? If it is the rose, do you know that it is said to have existed before man appeared on earth and that it has always been everywhere considered the emblem of silence? In old Roman days a rose was hung above the banquet table to indicate that all that was spoken was not to be repeated.

If it is the sweet heliotrope you love you should know that the pretty little flower lives up to its name, for it is made of two Greek words, helios meaning sun, and tropos, to turn, and it always turns towards the sun.

Did you ever hear how the buttercup got its name? It was originally supposed that cows ate these little yellow cup-shaped flowers and that the yield of butter from the milk was consequently larger. So the flower was named buttercup.

The daisy comes from the Anglo-Saxon "doeges-eye," meaning the day's eye, and the name suits it well. Mignonette was originally, to the French, the nignon blossom—the darling flower.

The botanist Camelli brought from the East the flower that afterwards bore his name—the camelia.

The marigold is said to have been named for Queen Mary.

The Swedish botanist Dahl gave his name to the dahlia, discovered by him, and the fuchsia took its name from Fuchs, who brought it from Mexico.

Notes and News of Interest

By M. H. W.

Monthly market days, which are known as "first Mondays" or some similar caption, are proving very successful wherever tried. They have become a special feature of advertising in many towns in New Mexico and Texas. The plan is this: An auctioneer is hired by the merchants and a public auction conducted at which any one can bring such articles as they wish to dispose of and have the services of the auctioneer free of charge. These auctions are well advertised and the people far and wide come to town that day with articles for the auction. After turning these into money they usually spend the money at the stores, the result is increased sales and the merchants of course are pleased with the result. This plan brings about an exchange of articles which is a great convenience, puts more money into circulation, and the expense attending the auction is trifling. A sale day for the farmers would undoubtedly be a good thing even for Shreveport. The towns of Nara Vista, Clovis and Clayton have greatly benefited by these monthly market days.

At Forrest Park Cemetery.

The afternoon Friday of the mortal remains of the beloved citizen, Mr. Zack Howell, at Forrest Park cemetery near Greenwood, was attended by his devoted family and many dear friends. The services at the grave were in charge of the LeRoy Stafford Camp U. C. V., and the beautiful memorial service of the Confederate Veterans impressively conducted by Mr. Thomas B. Chase, Dr. Cameron of the First Methodist church closing with prayer.

Forrest Park cemetery is the old family burying ground of the Whitworths, Howells and Agurs families, and others whose lives were closely associated with the early history of the parish. There in the solitude and peace the cemetery, with the great trees standing sentinel like over the graves of the departed, our friend was laid at rest beside the dear wife whose memory is still fresh and sweet in the hearts of friends.

Those attending the funeral from Shreveport besides the delegation of Confederate Veterans were members of the family—Miss Amanda Howell, the devoted daughter of his home, his sons, Webb and John Howell, Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Harman, Mr. S. C. Fullilove, and the following friends: Miss Lula Soape, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Swain, Mr. and Mrs. James Agurs, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Pal Flournoy, Mr. John McCullough and Dr. Cameron.

The Work of the Depot Matron.

The good resulting from the services of a depot matron is seen daily. Unfriended girls are approached and protection and information given. Even young children are found in the waiting throng, sent through in charge of the kind conductor who discharges his duty as well as he can, and then the little ones must wait to be called for, as was the case the first week when two little girls and a boy arrived on the Texas and Pacific from New Orleans en route to some point in Texas with a wait over of several hours in Shreveport. The watchful eye of Mrs. Bonnabel discovered the little ones. She at once took charge of them, refreshed them with a lunch and cool water, gave them a place to rest, and when the time of leaving came placed them on the train in the care of the conductor.

Another helpless case received attention about the same time. An old lady, unaccustomed to trains with a little grandchild, came into the waiting room to ask for information, which she received from the matron, who also checked her baggage and conducted her to the train.

These are just two of the many cases that are presented every day. The great throng of travelers that pass through Shreveport furnishes another phase of helplessness and the sick are ever en route, somewhere, and oh, how grateful it must be to have a kind word spoken in that hurrying throng, and a place of rest offered. The depot matron had just left one evening last week when a young woman came into the station, an infant in one arm and a heavy satchel in the other. She was worn and friendless, but she was discovered by a lady, a member of the Co-operative Protective Association, who found that she was en route to Mississippi and would have to spend the night here. She relieved her of the satchel and went with her to a nearby hotel, spoke a word to the proprietor in her behalf and left her in comfortable lodgings for the night. And so the good work goes on.

Books for the Library.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Peoples Library Wednesday the following books were ordered: Autobiography of Richard Wagner; The Case of Richard Wagner, Mrs. Humphrey Ward; The Secret Garden, Mrs. Burnett; The Prodigal Judge, Kesper; The Claw, Cynthia Stockley; Queed, Harrison; The People of Popham, Mary Wemyss; The Woman Haters, Jos. C. Lincoln; Love Pilgrimage, Upton Sinclair; The Panther's Cub, C. N. and A. M. Williamson; The Bolted Door Gibbs; Thorpe's Way, Morley Roberts; The Iron Man, Mrs. Deland.

The Death of Mr. Howell.

With deep sorrow we record the death of Mr. Zack Howell, which occurred suddenly at his home in this city Wednesday evening.

Mr. Howell belonged to the pioneer citizenship of the parish. His long, useful and blameless life was lived right here in Shreveport. He was a straight forward man in his dealings with others. Kind in deed and thought. His simple, unostentatious life did not draw him into publicity, but friends knew where to find him when a crisis in affairs affecting the public weal arose, or his presence needed in any matter that required nerve and determination.

Mr. Howell was a planter and in this wholesome occupation with pleasure and recreation in his devoted family circle his days were passed. Mr. Howell was a soldier of the Confederacy and with pardonable pride he would refer to those years of valor and hardships. In company with his daughter, Miss Amanda Howell, he attended the Reunion last May in Little Rock, and there met many of his comrades of those times that tried men's souls—and in the light of the present as well as the past he felt that the South's course was justified.

Mr. Howell was the beloved and honored head of three generations—children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren mourn his loss. His immediate family circle was composed of his daughters, Miss Amanda Howell, Mrs. Levert Stringfellow, Mr. Zack Howell, Mr. J. W. Howell and his granddaughters, Mrs. S. J. Harman, Mrs. S. C. Fullilove, Mrs. J. D. Youngblood and four lovely great-grandchildren who were a joy to him.

Funeral services were held at the family home on Texas avenue Thursday evening at 6 o'clock conducted by Dr. Cameron of the Methodist church. At 5 a.m. Friday morning the remains were conveyed to the family burying ground at Forrest Park near Greenwood. Friends accompanied the bereaved family on their sad journey and paid their tribute to the memory of a good man.

Did You Know That

Turpentine sprayed in the path of toaches will destroy them?

Oil from canned sardines may be used in frying potato cakes.

Hot cakes or bread may be cut easily if the knife is hot.

That chack and Borax spread on mildew and the garment placed in the sun will take out mildew.

To keep the apples which you have out for salad from turning dark you should pour a little lemon juice over them as soon as cut.

White wood work should be used only in the room which receives plenty of sunshine as the paint will grow yellow in a shady room.

Vaseline stains may be removed by soaking the garment in a little wood alcohol, then washing in hot soap suds.

Stamps which are stuck together may be loosened by putting a thin piece of paper over them and run a hot iron over this.

When you have put too much bluing in the rinse water you should add three tablespoons of household ammonia to counteract the effects.

Stanzas from Rabbi Ben Ezra.

Grow old along with me!
The best is yet to be,
The last of life for which the first was made;

Our times are in his hand
Who saith "A whole, I planned,
Youth shows but half; trust God,
I see
All, now be afraid.

Rejoice because we are allied
To that which doth provide
And not partake, effect, and not receive!

A spark disturbs our clod;
Nearer we hold of God,
Who gives, than of His tribes that take.

Then, welcome each rebuff
That turns earth's smoothness rough
Each sting that bids, nor sit nor stand, but go.

Be our joys three parts pain!
Strive and hold cheap the strain;
Learn, nor account the pang;
Dare, never grudge the throng.

For thence—a paradox

Which comforts while it mocks—
Shall life succeed in that it seems to fail;

What I aspired to be,
And was not, comforts me;
A brute I might have been, but
Would not sink in the scale.

Foot! all that is at all,
Lasts ever, past recall;
Earth changes, but thy soul and God stand sure;

What entered into thee
That was, is, and shall be;
Time's wheel runs back or stops,
Potter and clay endure.

He fixed thee 'mid this dance
Of plastic circumstance,
This present, thou forsooth, wouldst
fain arrest;

Machinery just meant
To give thy soul its bent,
Try thee and turn thee forth sufficiently impressed.

So, take and use thy work;
Amend what flaws may lurk,
What strain o' the stuff, what
Warpings part the aim!

My times be in thy hand!
Perfect the cup as planned!
Let age approve of youth, and
Death complete the same!

New Arrivals.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Knighton are receiving congratulations on the arrival of a lovely little daughter who is commanding the attention of the entire household.

In the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Shelton there is great rejoicing over the first son, a sturdy handsome little fellow, whose presence has added a perennial joy to the household.

These little ones are more potent in their demands than monarchs, because love yields the scepter instead of arbitrary power. And no matter how many come they are always joyfully welcomed.

Personal Mention.

A telegram was sent to Mrs. Levert Stringfellow advising her of the illness of her father, Mr. Zack Howell, as soon as his condition became serious, but before she reached the end had come and the long sad journey was deemed unnecessary. Mrs. Stringfellow, on account of her own health, is at Minnetonka for the summer. Her son, Mr. Charlie Stringfellow, and her daughter, Mrs. Youngblood, are with her. They have the deep sympathy of friends in this bereavement, and the hope is that they will derive some benefit from their stay at this beautiful lake resort.

Lionel and Charlie Schaeffer have left Shreveport for Monroe where they will establish themselves in their own business. They will have an attractive tea and coffee store, with some other goods perhaps. Our young friends are capable and deserving and are wished a full measure of success.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard DeFrances are enjoying the benefits of Texas' celebrated Mineral Wells.

Mrs. Leonard Wortman has extended her travels into the heart of Mexico, and is delighted with the majestic beauty of the great mountain ranges and the interesting features of the towns and villages.

Mr. Overton Hicks of Lake Charles accompanied by his friend, Mr. Marshall Stockwell, is enjoying his vacation in Shreveport. The many pleasures extended show that he is a prime favorite in his circle of friends, as well as a welcome visitor to his mother, Mrs. Ella D. Hicks, and his sister, Miss Mary Lillian Hicks.

Mr. and Mrs. George Lilly are enjoying Canadian scenes and climate.

Mr. S. B. Hicks has returned from a beneficial stay of several weeks at Hot Springs.

Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Logan will leave this week for Colorado accompanied by their mother, Mrs. Seay.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hudson and family are occupying the Lipscomb home on Hope street, which they have recently purchased.

Miss Bessie Buckley spent her two weeks' vacation in New Orleans.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Hughes are enjoying the fine bracing air of Monte Ne, Ark.

Mrs. Charles Hagenback of Dallas is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. Moeh and her sister, Mrs. Gus Klein.

The Misses Florsheim are enjoying a visit from their sister, Mrs. Lee Friedman and little daughter Aline of Dallas.

Miss Aline Liebman of Dallas is the guest of her cousin, Mrs. Jake Simon.

Miss Evelyn Terry is enjoying her vacation in delightful little trips to friends in Coushatta and neighboring towns.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Morris left during the week for Cleveland, where they were called by the serious illness of Mr. Morris' father.

Miss Ray Stein is in Alexandria where she is enjoying the many pleasures of the State encampment.

Miss Ida Means, who was ill for several weeks at the sanitarium, has entirely recovered and returned Saturday evening to her home, Myrtle Hill, DeSoto parish.

Miss Susan Juden of New Orleans, en route to her home from Colorado, made a delightful little visit to Miss Nannie Blake Landsay.

Miss Smith and Miss Covington, who are enjoying St. Katherine's, Canada, send charming accounts of cool weather and of delightful new acquaintances.

WEAVER THE MAN

He Can Stop Leaks in Any Roof. Good Work Guaranteed.

He will paint roofs and put leaky roofs in good order. He wants a job and wants it now. The time to repair and patch a roof is when it is leaky. Delays are costly. The time to save money is before the roof gets to leaking. Orders by mail or telephone will receive prompt attention.

Caddo Oil Field.

Vivian Times: The Knight Oil and Land Company brought in a gusher on their land purchased from Harrell, last Sunday afternoon making about 700 barrels per day. Mr. Hoffman, treasurer and manager, was present and watched her come in. He says it certainly was a picturesque scene as it would rise up and every time go several feet higher, in the field.

The Busch-Everett Company is offsetting the Owens No. 4 on the Jolly. The Sun Company is offsetting its Owens No. 4 on the Brown.

The Caddo Gas and Oil Company has started to drilling two gas wells, one on Ivins No. 1 and Brown No. 1.

The Webb Oil Company brought in a gushing well on the Edwards.

The Gulf Refining Company is expecting a big gusher to come in at any time on the Harrell land in the southwest quarter of the northeast quarter section 4, 22, 16.

BIG BARBECUE

By Citizens of Keithville and Stonewall—Citizens of Caddo and DeSoto Parishes Invited.

The citizens of Keithville and Stonewall will give a big barbecue and basket picnic on August 3 for the purpose of inaugurating a movement to further the cause of good roads between Shreveport and Mansfield, at which time there will be public speaking, and all candidates for public office are invited.

A committee has been appointed by the citizens of these towns and have arranged with the Woodmen of the World to have present on this occasion their splendid band, and the Woodmen of Shreveport and of Caddo parish will attend in large numbers. An effort will be made to secure excursion rates via the H. E. & W. T., and the T. & P., and a good time generally is expected. Every one interested in the good road proposition in Caddo parish is cordially invited to attend to further this cause. Governor J. Y. Sanders has assured the committee that he will be in attendance and will do everything in his power looking towards some material and early organization to macadamize the Mansfield road. Every one interested in this subject and all candidates for state office who wish to be present on this occasion are requested to correspond with Mr. P. P. Keith of Keithville. Efforts will be made for a joint debate between several of the candidates, and Judge Hall, Prof. Aswell and other candidates are respectfully invited to attend.

The joint committee having in charge the affair is composed of F. C. Nagle, chairman; P. P. Keith and I. T. Nelson of Stonewall.

Prof. Stephens on Prof. Roy. Colfax Chronicle: Prof. E. L. Stephens, president of the Southwestern Industrial Institute at Lafayette, La., thinks that the fact of Prof. Roy having taught at the Southern University should be no bar to his receiving a position of honor in the white schools. Prof. Stephens himself employed Mr. Roy in 1901 as the first member of the institute faculty where he gave eminent satisfaction, and his former employment of six years previous was considered no bar to his recognition in the best of society.

The Lonesome Leader. The Commoner: A few months ago eleven Democrats signed a telegram to the Governor of Texas in which they declared Senator Bailey to be the "undisputed leader" of the Democratic minority in the Senate. He had just led two Democrats in his fight against Arizona's admission. He has just given another sample of his "undisputed" leadership. He led two Democrats over to the support of the Cummins amendment to the reciprocity agreement. Unless he is able to muster a larger following he will soon become known as the lonesome leader.
