Notes and News of Interest

The call from the Louisiana State Suffrage Association, signed by Miss Gordon, president, has a predicting note of triumph in it.

President and State chairman of Louisiana State Suffrage Association: President, Miss Kate Gordon, New Orleans; First and Second Congressional districts, Florence Loebler...

Victory in Illinois. Victory though incomplete of the suffragists in Illinois has given hope to the women of the land.

A leading woman settlement worker in Chicago says: "We have already the process of educating the women in the foreign wards. The members of the women's clubs here at the settlement house are prepared to vote intelligently now."

A Good Citizen Gone. Shreveport has lost a good citizen in the death of Mr. E. L. Etchison, which occurred at his home in this city last Monday, after a long and trying illness.

Mr. Etchison was one of the city's prominent business men, and deeply interested in its progress and development. He was president of the Shreveport Saddlery Company and had considerable holdings in the oil field.

The funeral services were impressively conducted by the Rev. E. G. Cameron, pastor of the First Methodist church, and were concluded at the grave with Masonic honors. Mr. Etchison was a thirty-second degree Mason.

He is survived by his devoted wife and young sons, Robert and Eddie Etchison, and daughter Grace, also by his married daughter, Mrs. John Woodley, and married son, Mr. L. E. Etchison.

Beautiful floral tributes came from friends, from clubs and various organizations of which he was a valued member.

The bereaved brothers, Messrs. Marious and Alfred Etchison, came from Waco to attend the funeral, and on their return were accompanied by the grief stricken wife and young children. They will go from Waco to Oklahoma to visit Mrs. Etchison's mother, who has recently been bereaved of a devoted husband.

Mrs. Etchison has the deep sympathy of many devoted friends in her overwhelming sorrow. May time bring submission to this great bereavement and courage to again take up the duties of life.

Serious Accident. The serious accident that befell Mr. Joe Maywood last week has placed him in a sanitarium for an indefinite length of time.

Mr. Maywood, who was employed at the Henderson Iron Works, fell from a considerable height, breaking both arms and badly injuring his head and face. Mr. Maywood was at once conveyed to the sanitarium, where he received prompt and skilful attention.

Mrs. Maywood accompanied by her brother, Mr. Edward Kelly, came as soon as informed of the distressing accident and are doing all in their power to add to the patient's comfort.

A Sad Death. News of the sad death of Miss Gussie Fitzgerald was received by friends in Shreveport with deep sorrow. Miss Fitzgerald was with her parents in Keota, Okla., and was driving with them when she was thrown from the vehicle and fatally injured.

How inexpressibly sad that a young life should go out in this distressing way. A bright beautiful girl, with amiable, lovable qualities, her life held many possibilities for happiness had she been spared to live.

During the residence of Mr. Fitzgerald and family in Shreveport they made many friends and had close church affiliations. Miss Fitzgerald was a valued member of the Philhellen class of Parkway Baptist church, and left a shining record of devoted interest and punctual attendance. She was secretary one term to the principal of the Shreveport high school and was highly respected by Suplt. Byrd and the faculty, who deeply lament her untimely death.

Picnic in the Grove. On Thursday Miss Allie Ford invited all the children who took part in the children's day programme to a picnic in the pretty grove near the Queensborough Methodist church, where she entertained them with games and a good generous lunch.

This pretty compliment to the children was in appreciation of the beautiful programme they rendered on children's day.

Miss Ford is a prominent and devoted worker in the Queensborough Methodist church Sunday school, and the response of the children to her well arranged programme for the celebration was deeply appreciated by the teacher.

Friends. There are no friends like old friends And none so good and true; We greet them when we meet them, As roses greet the dew; No other friends are dearer.

Though born of kindred mold; And while we prize the new ones, We treasure more the old.

There are no friends like old friends, Where'er we dwell or roam, In lands beyond the ocean, Or the near bounds of home; And when they smile to gladden, Or sometimes frown to guide, We fondly wish those old friends, Were always by our side.

There are no friends like old friends, To help us with the load That all must bear who journey 'O'er life's uneven road; And when unconquered sorrows The weary hours invest, The kindly words of old friends Are always found the best.

There are no friends like old friends, To calm our frequent fears, When shadows fall and deepen Through life's declining years; And when our faltering footsteps Approach the great divide, We'll long to meet the old friends Who wait the other side. —David Banks Sackles.

Earnest Workers Meet. Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Scott of Queensborough entertained the Earnest Workers class at their home on Judson street Monday evening. Interest in the work is steadily growing and membership increasing.

The social committee made report and announced that an entertainment will be given Tuesday evening, August 26, on the lawn opposite the church. Refreshments will be served, charge for which will be used in purchasing song books for the church.

On the adjournment of the business meeting a pleasant social time followed and refreshments served by the hostess.

Members present were Mr. and Mrs. H. A. McKennon, Mr. and Mrs. Damm Jr., Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Wrenn, Misses, Norseworthy, Watts, Carrill, Johnston and Miss Allie Ford.

To Make Calla Lilies Bloom. Plant early in good size pots, using good rich potting soil, with an inch of stones for drainage. When new growth appears in December, place the pots in a vessel that will hold water and pour into the vessel a quart of almost boiling water. Do this three or four times a week and you will be rewarded with abundant blooms.

Garrison of New Jersey; Attorney General, Jas. McReynolds of Tennessee; Postmaster General, Albert S. Death of Mrs. Edwards.

Friends of Mr. J. Ford Edwards were deeply grieved at the death of his beloved wife which occurred at their home in Benton last Tuesday.

Mrs. Edwards was well known and much beloved by a wide circle of friends. She was the daughter of Major R. E. Wylie for several terms the capable and trusted sheriff of Bossier Parish, which office is now held by Mr. Edwards, the bereaved husband.

Mrs. Edwards' death has caused the deepest distress in her family. She is survived by her devoted husband and two daughters, Robert Stinson and Miss Lucile Edwards, whose loving ministrations to their mother were shared by devoted friends.

The following extract from the beautiful tribute to the memory of the beloved Mrs. Edwards of Benton, whose death has saddened so many hearts, is taken from the Bossier Banner, and is from the pen of the editor, a personal and dear friend, one who had known Mrs. Edwards in the bright happy years of her girlhood, as well as in the later years of her life:

"Mrs. Edwards was a devoted wife and mother, recognizing that the special field of labor to which God called her was the home. Here she devoted her time and strength toward making it a happy and attractive place. She took a deep interest in the welfare of others, always prompt to do what she could to relieve any who were sick or in distress. Only those who know her best could appreciate her kind and gentle influence. A devout member of the Methodist church, she took an active interest in the promotion of every good work. She was, indeed, an earnest Christian. Her pious habit fixed itself in permanent character. Her religious convictions were deep and abiding, and were controlled by great principles. Her religious life was not showy, but like the 'tree planted by the rivers of water,' its growth was steady 'brought forth its fruit in season'."

"She will be sorely missed in her home, in her church and in her wide circle of friends and relatives. The heartfelt sympathy of all go out to the bereaved and mourning household. May the tender pitying Father be near unto them in their great sorrow and brighten the darkened home."

"The remains of the deceased were buried in Filmore cemetery Tuesday afternoon in the presence of a large number of sorrowing friends. The funeral services were conducted by the Rev. J. M. Brown, pastor of Houghton Methodist church."

We are pleased to chronicle the arrival of a beautiful baby boy at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Nallin. He was welcomed Saturday night and tipped the scales at ten pounds. He is the second son and third child, and has the honor of being named William Sutherland, after one of Shreveport's most worthy physicians, Dr. W. K. Sutherland. We congratulate our good friends, and wish the little fellow a long and happy life.

Severely Burned. Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Vaughn were dreadfully shocked Thursday when their little son was severely burned by overturning a bucket of hot water. The little fellow was taken at once by his parents to the Schumpeit Sanitarium, where he has the best care and loving attention. Mr. and Mrs. Vaughn have the sympathy of their friends, who hope to hear of the little patient's complete recovery.

Personal. Mrs. J. S. Swann, who has been in Shreveport with Mr. and Mrs. Singleton Swann since her return from a visit to relatives in Montgomery, Ala., went to her home, "Swanhaven," for a brief visit to inspect repairs now under way.
