Notes and News of Interest

By M. B. W.

The women's edition of the State-Times, published in Baton Rouge, has been received. It is in six sections and comprises 44 pages. The first page, which has a miniature picture of the capitol, is also graced by the handsome photos of the editorial staff: Mrs. Katharine C. Saxon, editor in chief; Mrs. Sallie Land Jastremski, assistant editor in chief; Mrs. Clarence Cobb Devall, city editor; Mrs. Jas. E. Edmunds, business manager.

In her greeting Mrs. Jastremski says: "We present a paper that is managed and written entirely by women, with articles galore from many viewpoints. Our aim has been to present the various works of women in the churches, schools, society, club life, and the many associations to which they devote their energies on the farm and in business. All that 'mere man' has to do is to read about the various things that his better half is doing to cultivate her mind, amuse herself and bring good cheer and brightness into other lives. With graceful words of thanks to the editors and publishers of the State-Times for courtesies, etc., and asking the readers to buy one copy to read and others to send to friends—the editor throws open the mammoth women's edition, full of bright, clever things, and deep, thoughtful things to the reading public."

Mrs. A. B. Singletary, president of the Sixth District Equal Suffrage League, publishers of this special women's edition, is honored with a full page for her picture.

Perhaps the most interesting reading in the women's edition is the symposium on "Right of Women to Vote." "Comments and Few Counter Comments" have been compiled by Mrs. A. B. Singletary. We like to know what the leading men and women of the State think on the subject.

Col. T. D. Boyd, president of the State University, says: "I believe women will be sorry if they get the vote. Women are superior beings and do not like to see them put themselves on a parity with men." In contrast Mrs. Boyd says: "Women ought to have a right to vote, the same right as men."

Mrs. Himes, wife of Prof. R. L. Himes of the commercial department of the L. S. U., says: "Women ought to have the vote, because it is right."

Dr. Coffey of the L. S. U. says flatly when interviewed on the subject: "I am against it."

Mr. T. Cross Jones says: "I am opposed to woman suffrage. I think it is impractical at this time in the South under existing social and political conditions."

Dr. Chas. McVea thinks it will work all right in this country and that we will be better off when it does come.

Mr. S. I. Raymond, leading business man, says he thinks women ought to be allowed to do as they please, regardless of what men say.

Prof. C. H. Stumberg says: "If I were convinced that all the women wanted to vote, I would be in favor of it—though I do not think it is a good thing for women to vote."

Dr. Jolly says: "I am not prepared to say one way or another, but think it is coming."

Other opinions will be given later.

Missionary Society Dunlap Memorial.

The regular monthly meeting of the Missionary Society of the Dunlap Memorial church was held the past week with Mrs. C. E. Byrd at her home on Olive street. Mrs. Oscar Armstrong conducted the business meeting, and Mrs. Nancy Coleman was leader of the following programme: Subject, Brazil. Talk on "South America Our Twin Sister," Mrs. G. B. Terry. "Brazil Want Column," Mrs. Willenbecker. Reading on missions, "A Debt or a Charity, Which?" Mrs. Bentley. Roll call, a verse of thanksgiving. Mrs. Byrd served delicious refreshments in the social hour that followed.

Thoughts on Thanksgiving.

Thanksgiving 1913 has passed—a day full of home happiness, family and friends assembled and the usual bounteous repast. Harvests are abundant, the country is prosperous, and hearts should be deeply thankful. Thankful that a great statesman is at the head of national affairs, one who is guiding the ship of state with a firm steady hand, one who will not venture into the troubled waters of Mexican affairs for all the cheap glory it might bring him. He is strong to a consciousness of right doing. Let us be thankful for Woodrow Wilson, the statesman, President of the United States.

The Spirit of Thanksgiving.

How generous it is! Beginning with the little folks in the kindergarten whose Thanksgiving offerings are brought in on Wednesday for early distribution to the giving of their parents and the sending of many bundles and baskets to hundreds of humble homes. The children of the kindergarten are told by their teacher of the many children in this city who need food and clothing, and are asked to give something to make them comfortable and happy. Twenty baskets were packed and sent out from the kindergarten by Miss Schuster and her assistants.

God Bless Us Every One.

God bless us every one, prayed Tim, a Crippled and dwarfed of body, yet so tall. Of soul, we tip toe earth to him on him.

High towering over all. He loved the loveless world, nor dreamed indeed, That it at best could give to him, the while, But pitying glances, when his only need

Was but a cheery smile. And thus he prayed, "God bless us every one!" Enfolding all the grief within the span

Of his child-heart, and so despising none, Was nearer saint than man.

I like to fancy God in Paradise Lifting a finger o'er the rhythmic swing

Of chiming harp and song, with eager eyes Turned eastward, listening.

The anthem's stilled—the angels leaving there Above the golden walls—the morning sun

Of Christmas bursting flower—like with the prayer God bless us every one. —James Whitcomb Riley.

Let Us Give Thanks.

"Because we are living in the sunshine of human betterment, which we may reach if we seek it with every fibre of our being.

"And finally, because we are preparing a great harvest, altruistic and assured for tomorrow. Let us give thanks."

Bereavement.

With deep sorrow we record the death of young Floyd Ross son of our esteemed citizens, Mr. and Mrs. James H. Ross, which occurred at their home on Cotton street Tuesday morning.

How heart breaking to sit by the couch of pain and know that all is in vain; that medical skill and love can not save. Day by day and weeks and months did the devoted parents minister to their dear boy, praying that healing might come, but not in this world was their prayer to be answered.

Heroically he faced the end and made ready for his departure. Floyd Ross was a young man with a strong sweet nature; he had many devoted friends and not an enemy. He was young, and he wanted to live, but when he realized that was impossible he was ready to go. Just before Thanksgiving his worn spirit found release and all was peace.

Friends came with tributes of flowers and covered his casket. Dr. Jasper Smith read the blessed words: "I am the resurrection and the life." Out in Oakland cemetery he was laid at rest.

To the sorrow stricken parents and brother, Mr. Will Ross, the deepest sympathy is extended.

The pall bearers were the dear friends of the young man in happy days, and his friends in the sad days of his trying illness: Messrs. Hardy Bearn, Arthur Wise, Montgomery Martin, Grover Skoog, Buckingham Dickson, Gordon Van House, Jim Buvens and Robert Etchison.

Echoes from Dixie Land.

On Wednesday evening at Trinity Hall Mrs. M. P. Carroll of Augusta, Ga., will give her beautiful lecture, "Echoes from Dixie Land." The entertainment is under the auspices of the Daughters of Isabella, who invite the patronage of their friends.

Married.

Miss Anna Norma Higgins and Mr. Edward O. Payne were married on Wednesday at noon in St. John's chapel, the Rev. Father McDonald officiating.

The bride was accompanied by her brother, Dr. Edgar Lee Sanderson. She wore a stylish coat suit of dark blue cloth, with hat to match, and carried a bouquet of white carnations. The groom was attended by his friend, Mr. Paulin, of Natchitoches. From the chapel the bridal party went to the home of Dr. and Mrs. Henderson and were entertained at an elegant dinner party. The rooms were profusely decorated with green and white.

Those seated at the table were the groom and his best man, Mr. Eliza Payne, Mr. and Mrs. William Payne, Mr. Paulin of Natchitoches, Mrs. W. B. Sanderson, Mrs. J. M. Blackman, Mr. and Mrs. Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. Payne left the same evening for New Orleans, on their return they will go to New Orleans to Natchitoches.

Reynolds-Wetter.

On Wednesday evening Miss Winnie Lee Mellon of this city and Mr. John Chester Reynolds of Houston, Texas, were married at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Sloan on Spring street.

The reception rooms were in Peelite Hall decorated for the impressive occasion—palm and ferns were arranged as an altar, a fragrant place for the happy lovers. Over this was a canopy of white rose. The effect was charming. The bride entered with her grandfather, Mr. C. C. Snell, who gave her away. She wore an elegant gown of white duchesse satin trimmed with lace and pearls. A white aigrette in the hair fastened by a bandeau of pearls was very effective and becoming.

The ceremony was performed by Dr. Dodd of the First Baptist church.

The attendants were Miss Reynolds of Houston, and Mr. George Wray. Mrs. Fay Ahearn Davis played the wedding march, and softly during the ceremony the melody of music made an undercurrent of sweet sounds.

After congratulations were extended all repaired to the dining room, where an elegant repast was served. The bride's cake was heart-shaped and elegantly embossed in lilies of the valley. A merry time followed when the cake souvenirs were drawn. The ring went to Miss Angel, the button to Miss Ida McCaa, the thimble to Miss Lula Reynolds, and the dime to Miss Selma Groner.

Misses Ida McCaa and Pauline Foster served fruit punch from a pretty table adorned with roses.

Many beautiful wedding gifts were displayed.

Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds left the same evening for their home in Houston.

Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds, parents of the groom, and his sister, Miss Ula Reynolds, came from Houston to attend the wedding.

Pelican Chapter D. A. R.

The Pelican Chapter will meet on Tuesday afternoon, Dec. 2, with Mrs. Edward Neid, at her home on Fairfield avenue. Co-hostesses: Mmes. J. A. Thigpen, McKennon, J. C. Foster, Fred Ratzburg, King and Guy.

A Fine Little Son.

Friends in Shreveport of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Breard of Monroe extend congratulations on the arrival of a fine little son, who is named Byron Ridley Breard. This beautiful boy is the fifth grandchild of Mrs. L. K. Ridley, Mrs. Breard's mother. Both of these lovely mothers have dear friends in Shreveport who are interested in all that concerns them.

Thanksgiving at Forest Park.

Mr. and Mrs. Levert Stringfellow, their children and grandchildren and their sister, Miss Amanda Howell, enjoyed Thanksgiving at Forest Park, one of the pioneer homes of Caddo Parish, three miles from Greenwood. The original house stands in a park of stately trees. Its wonderful preservation from the destroying hand of time is a proof of the excellent quality of work and materials of that day, seventy years ago, in 1843, the house was built by Mrs. Margaret Dickson Whitworth, who with her family removed to Louisiana from Alabama early in the forties. Mrs. Whitworth built the first brick house in Caddo Parish, having the brick made on her own place. It is a deserted mansion now—the hospitable mistress has long gone to her reward, but the property has come down to the grandchildren of Mrs. Whitworth—Mrs. Levert Stringfellow, Miss Howell and their brothers, Messrs. Zack and John Howell. To this ancestral home the family go to lay away their dead in the beautiful old cemetery, and at other times during the year taking with them the lovely children of the fourth generation, the sweet daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Harmon, the trio of fine boys of Judge and Mrs. Fullilove, and the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Youngblood, with their parents of course. On Thanksgiving Mr. Harmon and Judge Fullilove had their big seven passenger cars filled and conveyed the family to Forest Park in forty minutes. There baskets were unpacked and a generous Thanksgiving dinner served. The children played under the great trees that had sheltered their great-great-grandparents. Those who remembered the old home in its prime felt that time changed all things. Forest Park is a noble landmark, a type of the homes of Caddo's pioneer citizens, characterized by refinement, hospitality, religious culture and observance. It is still a lovely domain, comprising over 1,200 acres, and in the ancestral possession of the Howell family.

Complimentary Reception.

Mrs. Andrew D. Keeney will receive at her home on Woodrow avenue Tuesday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock, complimentary to Mrs. M. F. Carroll of Augusta, Ga., who will lecture at Trinity Hall on Wednesday evening under the auspices of the Daughters of Isabella.

Thanks Returned.

The matrons of the Daughters of Isabella and the children return grateful thanks to the generous friends who remembered them on Thanksgiving. The list embraces the following names: Mrs. Guy Sample, Mrs. J. P. Scott, Mrs. Clarence Ellerbe, Mrs. Henry Florsheim, Mrs. R. E. Allison, Mrs. E. H. Randolph, Messrs. Ratliff, F. T. Whited, J. J. Robinson, Plain Dealing, P. D. Connell, Atkins; church societies, central school kindergarten, St. Mark's Church Home Charitable Association.

Home for the Homeless.

Never forgotten on these special occasions is that charitable organization dear to the hearts of the people, the Home for the Homeless. So Thanksgiving is always a bright and happy day for the dear old ladies. Thanks are extended to Mr. E. H. Benjamin, Charles Deal, Mrs. E. H. Randolph, Mrs. Pennie Mills, Mrs. Elias Goldstein, Mrs. J. R. Gribble, Mrs. Henry Jackson, J. B. White, Mrs. W. M. Valentine, central school and kindergarten, Home Charitable Association of St. Mark's church.

Old Fashion Fish Fry.

The Bossier Banner tells of a fish fry on Lake Bodeau that makes one long to flee from the "madding crowd" and go fishing. Here is the story: "A pleasant fishing party composed of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Wyche, Miss Jessie Wyche and Master Eugene, Mrs. W. H. Scanland, Mrs. Dallas Jones and little Billie went out to Lake Bodeau last Monday and had a most enjoyable time. The party had a nice fry on the bank of the lake and returned in the evening with a string of the speckled beauties more than four feet long. Mr. Wyche made a catch of fifty with Miss Jessie a close second. Since their return, parties have been going out nearly every day, and in every instance report the sport fine."

Personal Mention.

At the combined business and literary meeting of Hypatia held with Mrs. Hoyle Tomkies last week Miss Amanda Howell was unanimously elected to membership. Miss Howell was a former member of Hypatia and resigned several years ago on account of illness in her family and school duties. Her return was a great pleasure to her friends in Hypatia, who know her value and worth as a member of any organization.

Personal.

Mrs. Samuel Bailie of San Francisco, the delightful guest of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Gosman, left Friday for her home.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Smith have removed to Shreveport from Jackson, Miss., and are cordially welcomed. Mr. and Mrs. Smith are occupying the Stephenson home on Creswell street.

Friends of Mr. P. F. Wolf, Sr. will be glad to hear that he is improving and will soon be able to see his friends, who have been greatly concerned about his illness.

Miss Emma Thoman of Beatrice, Neb., who has spent the autumn with her cousins, Misses Mae and Hilda Mahlen, will leave for her home in a few days.

Miss Clara Miller, 1617 Walnut street, is quite ill at the North Louisiana Sanitarium.

Miss Gladys Snyder of Heavener, Okla., is the guest of Mrs. R. H. McLean on Laurel street.

Mr. J. Marshall and family, formerly of Galveston, are now welcome residents of Shreveport, and pleasantly located at 1848 Laurel.

Mrs. Geo. Ungent of Flournoy is a patient at the North Louisiana Sanitarium, where she has undergone an operation for appendicitis. Mrs. Ungent is doing well and hopes soon to return home.
