WINER'S Canadian Vermifuge.

THE best remedy ever yet discovered for all kinds of WORMS. It not only destroys Worms and invigorates the whole system, but it dissolves and carries off the superabundant slime of mucus, so prevalent in the stomach and bowels of children, more especially of those in bad health.—The mucus forms the bed or nest in which Worms produce their young, and by removing it, it is impossible for worms to remain in the body. It is harmless in its effects on the system, and the health of the patient is always improved by its use, even when no worms are discovered; the medicine being palatable, no child will refuse to take it, not even the most delicate.

 More Home Testimony in Favor of DR. SHERMAN'S ALL-HEALING BALSAM. NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 25, 1848.
 To Dr. Sherman's Agent, 151 Chartres street: Dear Sir—Having derived great benefit from the use of Dr. Sherman's Balsam, you will permit me to address a few lines to you. I have been troubled for a long time with a bad cough, together with raising blood, to such a degree that I could scarcely talk without coughing. A friend of mine advised me to try Dr. Sherman's Balsam, and in less than two weeks after its use, I find myself perfectly well, and able to attend to my business. I have recommended it to several of my friends, and in all cases with success.
 Yours, dear sir, with respect,
 J. E. BRISCOE,
 Clerk for T. L. White, 53 Canal st. Residence, 24 Maria street, New Orleans
STILL THEY COME!
 Having accidentally become acquainted with the virtues of Dr. Sherman's All-Healing Balsam, I have no hesitation in declaring that its use in my family warrants the assurance that it possesses all the gifted qualities attributed to it. In one case, where the medicine was taken on my recommendation, the effect was almost magical, as the Cough and Expectoration of mucus matter bore a strong analogy to a decided consumptive tendency. I believe a more general knowledge of this medicine is only required to place it among the best curatives extant, for Consumption, Dyspepsia and other diseases arising from a disorganized state of the stomach and affections of the lungs.
 JAMES REESE,
 13 Camp st., New Orleans: MOBILE, December 7th, 1847.
 I hereby certify, that for 18 months I had been lingering under Consumption, and expected every day to be my last. At length I procured a bottle of Sherman's Balsam, and it raised me as it were from the grave. It cured me, and I am now able to attend to my daily avocation of a boatman.

Mr. Webster and Gen. Taylor.

The New York papers contain a Telegraphic abstract of Mr. Webster's speech at Marshfield. He addressed the citizens for about one hour and a half, speaking exclusively upon the Presidential question. He avowed himself fully and unequivocally in favor of the election of Gen. Taylor.

He said he believed him to be an honest man, whose conduct had ever been marked by high sense of honor. He was a man of little pretension, modest and unassuming. He had been a candidate for the Presidency a year before the Philadelphia Convention. He was fairly nominated by that Convention; he believed him to be a true whig; and they tried to disgrace him and the other whig general, Scott, by putting a democratic civilian in command over them. He did not believe the slavery question had anything to do with his nomination. The Convention believed him to be a whig; thought him the best man under existing circumstances, and therefore nominated him. Mr. Webster spoke at some length, in vindicating the whigs of the convention; and extolling the character of Gen. Taylor. He denied the correctness of the Buffalo platform, which stated that the nomination of Gen: Taylor was induced by a desire on the part of the whigs to extend Slave territory, nor were the whigs of the South accountable for the nomination. Whether it be good or bad, the free States had some sixty majority in the convention, and could have nominated whomsoever they pleased. Mr. Webster said that, in his judgement, the question who shall be our next President lay between Gen. Taylor, and Gen. Cass, one of them will be elected—whom then should the whigs vote for? We could not all have our personal preferences gratified: the skies were not about to fall so that we could catch larks. It was idle to talk about third candidates. We had enough of them in 1844.

The despatch goes on to state that Mr. Webster was extremely severe on Van Buren, remarking, in substance, that that gentleman was merely assuming a cloak to cover his ambitious purposes—that his free soil principles were used for the nonce to push forward his pretensions, and that he (Mr. W.) believed that Van Buren laughed in his sleeve, whenever the free soil question was named. After a scorching philippic upon the 'Northern man with Southern principles,' Mr. Webster reviewed Gen. Cass's political career, expressed an utter want of confidence in the man or his opinions, and concluded by a vigorous appeal to the Whigs to stand by Taylor and Fillmore.

The Prospect.

We receive the most cheering intelligence from all sections of the State; and the hope is strong within us, founded on reliable information and observation, that glorious old Rough and Ready will carry Mississippi at the ensuing November election. From North Mississippi the news is especially gratifying. In the second Congressional district, Isaac N. Davis is doing efficient and able service, assisted by the gallant, and whole-souled Maj. Alex. B. Bradford, one of the heroes of Monterey and Buena Vista, together with dozens of other able champions of our cause. They meet the enemy where and on every occasion. In the first district, William L. Harris, Taylor Elector, is already on the stump, working for the cause with that pre-eminent ability which characterizes all his efforts. The chivalric McClung is fulfilling daily the heavy duties which devolve upon him as one of the electors for the State at large. In the third district the canvass is being prosecuted with vigor and ability, Miles and Lake have done yeoman service, and will keep the fire up until the close of the canvass. All the friends of Gen. Taylor have to do is to keep the ball rolling. The elector for this distret, D. W. Hurst, Esq., is, we expect, addressing the people at this time. Now is the time for those whigs, who have been gifted with the powers of eloquence, to come forward and do battle in behalf of their country. Will they refuse? We hope not. Now is the time or never. If they fail now, it is not likely that their services will be required hereafter.

[From the Wheeling (Va.) Times.] Straight-Outs—"Still they Come." Ouio Co., Va., Aug. 9, 1848.

Mr. Editor:—The undersigned, citizens of Ohio county, and State of Virginia, being qualified voters, having heretofore acted with the Democratic party, beg leave to state why we can no longer vote with said party. It may be said that the laboring man has no right to speak or think for himself, as he is not schooled in the party politics of the day. We grant that we are not so far advanced as to comprehend what the misnamed democrats mean, when all of the leading men, or most of them, will stoop to the most abusive misrepresentations of the brilliant virtues of a man, for the purpose of keeping in office, or for the elevation for some friend or relative, to secure the patronage of the chief Executive: Be this as it may, we wish it to be understood that we are laboring men, and expect no honor, only the honor of assisting to place one in the Presidential chair, who is not only capable, but one who is honest, and not been schooled in party politics—one who, if elected, will administer the government in all its offices as a faithful man.

Another reason why we cannot longer support the locofoco party is, that we believe that they have not the good of the country at heart, but go for Party right or wrong, not as it was in the days of Jefferson or Jackson—our Country right or wrong.

Another reason is, that we have been looking at the encroachments of the party, and as far as we can judge, after a full investigation of the subject, we believe that the present self-styled democratic party will eventually resolve itself into the one man power; when this government will lose its balance wheel, and that partisans will be elevated to reward friends who have done most to elevate the successful and to punish all enemies who have dared to oppose their will. We think that it is time that ultra partyism should be put down—whether it be one party or another party—in this free government.

And now we call on all who hold the same views as ourselves to come to the rescue, whether locofoco, democrat or whig, and assist in elevating to the Presidential chair one who has "no friends to reward, or enemies to punish,"—one who stands pledged to administer the government for the benefit of all, and no doubt will bring it back to those days of Washington and Jefferson,—one whose life is without reproach—one who has been successful in the battle field, and never bro't disgrace on American arms, and will be true and faithful to his country; and that man is Zachary Taylor.

A NOVEL SIGHT.—In the celebration of the 4th of July, at Washington, an object that attracted much notice, was a living eagle, well stricken in years, but of great vigor and majesty, perched aloft above the triumphal arch on whose columns were inscribed the names of the thirty States of the Union, while the American flag spread its ample folds over the same. It is the identical eagle that was stationed above the arch in Alexandria, when Lafayette visited that city in 1824.

Capt. Maryatt, whose recent demise has been announced, was a lieutenant of the Newcastle man of war, and when in command of her barges, cut out four vessels in Boston bay, in 1812.

The Otsego N. York Republican mentions that G. A. Starkweather, member of Congress from the 21st District, in that State, is out against Gen. Cass.
